Finance Firm Manager In Theft Charge

Suspected Of Pocketing $26,000 At Local Office

A manager of a San Rafael finance company pocketed $26,000 in company funds to finance "high living and automobiles" during the past two years, Asst. Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales charged today.

Charles Hopper, 32, of 135 Payran Street, Petaluma, manager of Beneficial Finance Co. at 1015 B Street, San Rafael, since last October, was jailed last night on a grand theft charge. Free on $5,250 posted by a bail bondsman, Hopper is scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court tomorrow afternoon.

CHARLES HOPPER
Loans weren't beneficial

Inspector Donald E. Midyett of the district attorney's office and San Rafael Police Inspector Lincoln Borba arrested Hopper at his home in Petaluma last night. Midyett said there was no evidence Hopper had packed his bags or made any other preparations to leave Petaluma.

37 ACCOUNTS

Bales said Hopper is suspected of setting up 17 fictitious accounts in San Rafael and 20 in Petaluma, where he was Beneficial Finance manager from April, 1959, until last October. All except two of the accounts were loans made to fictitious names. Two were in the names of old clients. One was made out to Robert C. Smith, vice president of Beneficial Management Corp. in San Mateo.

According to Inspector Midyett, Hopper would open a loan, draw up a check to a fictitious person, forge the signature, cash the check and pocket the money. Since last October, Hopper took $13,968 in San Rafael, in addition to about $12,000 he took while at the Petaluma office, Midyett said.

FICTITIOUS LOANS

In all, Hopper is suspected of making about $35,000 in fictitious loans, but he had paid back about $9,000 to the Petaluma accounts to cover up the phony loans, Midyett said.

Smith of San Mateo told the district attorney that the present manager in Petaluma began questioning some of the phony accounts there and called Hopper last Wednesday. Hopper resigned from his San Rafael job on Thursday and wrote to Smith in San Mateo. Smith came to Marin yesterday afternoon to see the district attorney.

A native of Dublin, Ireland, Hopper became a Canadian citizen and worked for Beneficial in Toronto for about four

Laos Reds Ignore Cease-Fire Order

Fighting Despite Command

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI) —Rebel Laotian forces ignored cease-fire appeals by their own leaders today and launched heavy new attacks in southern Laos. Communist units broke a local cease-fire agreement north of Vientiane last night.

Both the Communist Pathet Lao guerrillas and leftwing army forces under paratroop Capt. Kong Le called on their forces in the Laotian Civil War today to cease military operations as of 8 a.m. today.

But the broadcast calls did little to reassure Laotians the fighting had ended. A French traveler from the northwest Laos town of Nam Tha reported long lines of panicky refugees streaming into the jungle to escape the Reds. He called it "complete chaos" and said there were wild rumors the Chinese Communists were coming.

(In Washington State Department officials said today it was urgent that the three-nation International Control Commission proceed from India to Laos as quickly as possible to verify the reported cease-fire.

(Officials welcomed news reports that the rebel leaders had ordered their forces to hold fire. But they cautioned against too much optimism until there has been some official investigation and verification.)

RED BAD FAITH

The first evidence of Communist bad faith came in the Ban Him Heup area 50 miles north of Vientiane where a local cease fire had been in effect since yesterday. Communist Pathet Lao troops opened a heavy mortar attack on the government command post there Tuesday night.

The offensive in southern Laos near the borders of Communist threatened South Viet Nam came hours after radio Peiping and radio Naoi broadcast the cease fire appeals by the communist leaders. The main attack was against Muong Phalane, 60 miles east of Savannakhet in southern Laos.

Supervisors Pare $1 Million From County Road Fund

By RANDALL GOULD

A sudden blitz by Supervisor Walter R. Castro yesterday caused his fellow-supervisors to lop more than a million dollars off the proposed two and one-half million county highway budget.

Taxpayers' complaints apparently sparked the surprise move.

Far from pleased was Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham—not because he'd fought for the extra money, but rather because he'd been lukewarm from the outset and now foresaw "two weeks of hard work fixing things up again."

Most displeased was Chairman William D. Fusselman, also chairman of the supervisors' public works committee which dreamed up the big figure at a March 17 meeting on the theory that it would be a good approach to put a lot of road needs before the board and then start paring.

As matters stood, the figure of $2,616,439 will be pared by Brigham with no help to a new figure of $1,516,439 or thereabouts, on a basis of calculations by assistant auditor-controller Michael Mitchell. The current year's budget is $1,362,000.

The change is expected to eliminate a 46½-cent addition to the tax rate—which apparently has been stirring some talk, and causing some jangling of supervisors' phones and nerves.

"I've been getting complaints," said Supervisor George Ludy bluntly after Castro said, "There's a million more in the budget for roads than we have revenue and I feel it is very important that we do something today."

Fusselman sought to explain that this was only a proposed budget figure. "We can eliminate that or anything we wish before the preliminary budget is printed," he said.

"I didn't ask that it go into the (proposed) budget," retorted Castro. "When the finance committee told me it had never discussed that million I thought they were kidding."

Supervisor J. Walter Blair, finance chairman, said the mysterious million hadn't been brought up but "we're giving people a wrong idea that it will be on the tax rate and I'm making a motion right now that we leave it out."

Mitchell said the $2,616,439 Brigham had proposed instruction of Fusselman's committee was about $1,100,000 over the expected income from gasoline and sales tax, traffic fines and carryover. This would require extra 46½ cents on the tax rate, he said.

"There's evidence of a pretty firm understanding with everyone but me," said Fusselman. "It can be unanimous, for all of me."

"The board has indicated," Brigham said finally, "that it wants a budget within regular income. I'd like to re-compile my figures.

Assembly Votes $6 Million Cut For Smokers

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The Assembly voted today for a Republican tax-cutting bill that could save California's cigarette smokers an estimated six and one-half million dollars a year.

The initial vote was 49-22 for the measure, but Gov. Edmund G. Brown's spokesmen had the roll held open while they sought to defeat the bill. The governor has opposed most tax reduction proposals.

DEDUCTIBLE ITEM

The bill by Assemblyman Milton Marks (R-San Francisco), would declare the state's three-cent-a-pack cigarette tax to be a direct consumer tax — and thus deductible from both state and federal income taxes.

Brown has said the state cannot afford any tax cuts beyond a five-million-dollar reduction by exempting prescription drugs from the sales tax.

Marks estimated that smokers would save some six million dollars on federal taxes and about $515,000 a year on state taxes if they file for the reduction.

He said it would free smokers from double taxation.

"This is a simple matter of justice and equity to the people of California," he said.

AGAINST CUT

Asemblyman Jesse Unruh (D-Los Angeles), the administration's financial spokesman in the Asembly, said the state's financial situation does not justify another cut.

If revenues and expenditures continue as they now are, he said, there'll be a deficit of up to 150 million dollars in the 1962-63 fiscal year.

"We ought to raise taxes to meet the needs of the people," he said.

BOAT OWNER WOULD FLOAT SAUSALITO

Connover Offers Ferryboat Berkeley For Needed City Offices, Library

A floating city hall and public library for Sausalito was proposed to the city council last night by Luther W. Conover, to be housed aboard Conover's ferryboat, Berkeley.

Conover, who owns and manages the Trade Fair on board the boat at the old Southern Pacific Railroad ferry slip, said the library could be moved onto the upper deck right away.

In some sort of swap arrangement, the city might consider moving its offices aboard in eight years when Conover's lease expires, he suggested.

The proposal came at a public hearing on the central waterfront plan, a plan suggesting uses and circulation for the central area of the city.

The council decided to discuss the matter further with Conover. It also moved to send the waterfront plan back to the planning commission for further study, along with City Manager Charles A. Brown's civic center location study, Conover's proposal and other communications.

Brown was directed by the council last month to have an engineer investigate the possible danger of the library floor caving in from its weight of books and falling down into the council chambers. He said last night the engineer has warned the library should not add one more book.

Conover told councilmen he has two main interests in life —the Trade Fair and his study of maritime history. "I feel this historical monument (The Berkeley) should be saved. The upper cabin should be a monument showing Sausalito's history as it relates to the waterfront.

"She's in beautiful shape today. She could last for 100-150 years, almost indefinitely."

He said he could not donate the boat to the city but perhaps he could swap it for the city hall on Bridgeway, taking into consideration value for value. The Berkeley, he said, has 25,000 square feet of highly useable space, "the most magnificent view and the most historical room."

James Gracie of 899 Bridgeway objected, "as a regular patron of the library, I don't think putting it on the Berkeley is very practical."

Councilman Michael Harris said he felt Conover's idea should be explored, but he doubted the practicality of moving the library aboard temporarily, then moving it again.

Speaking on the waterfront plan, Mayor Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. said he needed more specifics. Councilman Marjorie Brady said she could act on two questions — should the central area be for a park or parking and on location of a civic center. Councilman George E. Keeney said, "send it back to the planning commission with Conover's offer."

The council voted 5-0 to send it to the planners.

MORE FISHING BUT YOU'LL HAVE TO WAIT

There'll be fish in Marin's new Nicasio lake next year.

William R. Seeger, general manager of Marin Municipal Water District, revealed today that the new reservoir is to be stocked next year by the state fish and game commission with good prospects that it will become a fine asset to fishermen.

This year, though, the lake is still in process of being formed and powerful chemicals to kill off vegetation would likewise kill off fish.

Shakeup Hinted For Larkspur Planning Group

Major reorganization of the Larkspur Planning Commission at tonight's Larkspur City Council meeting—which may also name a new mayor—was hinted today.

James G. Chesnut of 10 Tamalpais Avenue will offer his resignation from the planning commission.

It was reported also that the council may ask for the resignation of Price J. Hall of 48 Francis Avenue. Councilman Lesly Daveler has several times objected to the fact that Hall serves on the planning commission, which acts on many applications from the Greenbrae Co. and other Schultz interests, while at the same time the Schultz organizations are clients of his public relations business.

It was reported also that if Hall's resignation is asked, S. W. (Bud) Eason of 42 Olive Avenue, a third planning commissioner, may resign.

Tonight's meeting will mark the annual reorganization of the council itself, with another councilman expected to succeed Arthur E. Dtorhaug as mayor, an office usually rotated annually.

Poker On Death Row, Quentin Felon Says

Albert Love, 39, convicted Chico wife slayer, charged today that Death Row inmates, with the knowledge of prison authorities, play stud and draw poker with money.

In a petition for writ of habeas corpus, Love also charged that new men on Death Row are jumped by a "clique" on condemned row, and that prison officers eat two meals a day of the condemned prisoners' food, causing food shortages among the inmates.

Love asked for an investigation by the district attorney, Marin County Grand Jury, and the attorney general's office. His petition was sent to Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court.

The wife slayer declared that prison authorities must know of the gambling games because one of the officers is the one who delivers the payoff for the houseman of the day.

Love contends that three prisoners have drawn out $20 per month for the last two years, and have lost all their money in the poker games.

He also says three of the condemned must sleep on concrete blocks while other inmates on Death Row have beds.

First Underground Titan Firing

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE (UPI) — A Titan long-range missile thundered from a 146-foot deep underground silo for the first time today — the payoff of a $100 million dollar gamble.

The 98-foot Missile blasted out of the bomb-proof shelter through a ring of smoke and fire in the initial test launching of a major liquid-fuel missile from a silo. It looked like a giant Roman candle shooting out a tin can buried upright in the sand.

The launch came despite a raw wind that raked the rolling seaside base with gusts up to 35 miles an hour.

After about two minutes of flight the two-stage rocket was intentionally destroyed after a series of violent sideways maneuvers to test its strength.

'FLOOD OF LITTER'

San Rafael Finds A Long Lost Park

The City of San Rafael acquired another park today.

Actually, said Gene O'Connor, chairman of the San Rafael Beautiful Committee, the city has had the park for many been forgotten.

It is "Flood Park," a one-block area at the top of Lincoln Avenue, where service club and chamber of commerce "welcome" signs greet motorists turning off Highway 101 southbound.

It was rediscovered when O'Connor; Pat Hetherton, chairman of the San Rafael Beautiful Committee's highway subcommittee; Joseph Rodota, city recreation director, and R. L. Arneal, district superintendent for the California Division of Highways, made an on-the-spot survey of the Highway 101 route through the city.

The land was given to the city for a park many years ago by the Flood family, O'Connor said.

Old automobile bodies, boulders and debris now litter "Flood Park."

But the Division of Highways and the city recreation department plan to change that. The Division of Highways has started to clean up the debris. Rodota said the recreation department has tables and benches which can be placed there for resting and picnicking.

The San Rafael Beautiful Committee will ask the city to put up a sign calling attention to Flood Park as a rest spot for tourists, O'Connor said.

Electronic Brain For Data Bureau?

Marin County is about to hire use of an electronic "big brain" to speed up and expand work of its data processing bureau.

This emerged as the board of supervisors yesterday gave informal approval to an education program for selected county employees in use of the $90-an-hour gadget.

Involved in the plan as outlined by data processing chief Arleigh Sewell and assistant auditor-controlled Michael Mitchell is release of some rented I.B.M. punch-card equipment, in favor of by-the-hour use of a Remington Rand Univac working four to five times as fast.

Sewell said $1,000 monthly will be saved by turning back the rented machines, but more than that is expected to be spent on the Univac.

Sewell said he couldn't justify costly electronic equipment for all phases of operation for Marin County but "in certain applications it's cheaper to use . . .

"Univac will produce in one hour what takes four or five now."

The board will consider details of leave for personnel selected for training later in the month, but members indicated that they felt "sold" on the program.

Finance Firm Manager In Theft Charge

MORE FISHING BUT YOU'LL HAVE TO WAIT

There'll be fish in Marin's new Nicasio lake next year.

William R. Seeger, general manager of Marin Municipal Water District, revealed today that the new reservoir is to be stocked next year by the state fish and game commission with good prospects that it will become a fine asset to fishermen.

This year, though, the lake is still in process of being formed and powerful chemicals to kill off vegetation would likewise kill off fish.

Shakeup Hinted For Larkspur Planning Group

Major reorganization of the Larkspur Planning Commission at tonight's Larkspur City Council meeting—which may also name a new mayor—was hinted today.

James G. Chesnut of 10 Tamalpais Avenue will offer his resignation from the planning commission.

It was reported also that the council may ask for the resignation of Price J. Hall of 48 Francis Avenue. Councilman Lesly Daveler has several times objected to the fact that Hall serves on the planning commission, which acts on many applications from the Greenbrae Co. and other Schultz interests, while at the same time the Schultz organizations are clients of his public relations business.

It was reported also that if Hall's resignation is asked, S. W. (Bud) Eason of 42 Olive Avenue, a third planning commissioner, may resign.

Tonight's meeting will mark the annual reorganization of the council itself, with another councilman expected to succeed Arthur E. Dtorhaug as mayor, an office usually rotated annually.

Medics Approve Proposed Merger

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Proposed merger of the California Medical Assn. and the California Osteopathic Assn. was approved today by the CMA's House of Delegates. (See story on page 5).

The House of Delegates had turned down a proposal to refer the question to the general membership. The proposal was approved by a substantial majority vote.

Minimum Wage Bill Approved By Senate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate approved a compromise version of President John F. Kennedy's $1.25 minimum wage bill today despite protests because laundry workers still were excluded from coverage.

'FLOOD OF LITTER'

San Rafael Finds A Long Lost Park

The City of San Rafael acquired another park today.

Actually, said Gene O'Connor, chairman of the San Rafael Beautiful Committee, the city has had the park for many been forgotten.

It is "Flood Park," a one-block area at the top of Lincoln Avenue, where service club and chamber of commerce "welcome" signs greet motorists turning off Highway 101 southbound.

It was rediscovered when O'Connor; Pat Hetherton, chairman of the San Rafael Beautiful Committee's highway subcommittee; Joseph Rodota, city recreation director, and R. L. Arneal, district superintendent for the California Division of Highways, made an on-the-spot survey of the Highway 101 route through the city.

The land was given to the city for a park many years ago by the Flood family, O'Connor said.

Old automobile bodies, boulders and debris now litter "Flood Park."

But the Division of Highways and the city recreation department plan to change that. The Division of Highways has started to clean up the debris. Rodota said the recreation department has tables and benches which can be placed there for resting and picnicking.

The San Rafael Beautiful Committee will ask the city to put up a sign calling attention to Flood Park as a rest spot for tourists, O'Connor said.

LOOKING TOWARD THE FUTURE

Board chairman of the Radio Corp. of America David Sarnoff left, and John L. Burns, RCA president, look at a large scale model of a "moon crawler," in New York yesterday. Unveiled for the first time at an RCA stockholders meeting, company scientists say the object was designed to move about the moon in response to radio signals from earth. U.S. Astronaut May Go Up Friday

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Now space pilot Alan B. Shepard Jr., once again begins those awful hours of tension. Perhaps Friday he will become the first American shot into space.

Rocket men found again yesterday—to their chagrin—that they might challenge space, but on earth they must still come in when it rains.

Storm fronts, two of them, struck here at the cape and 290 miles down range in the Atlantic where Shepard would have landed in his space capsule after a 115-mile high, 15-minute ride.

The shot was canceled with two hours and 20 minutes to go to blast off.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced that the shot was off for at least 48 hours.

However, it was reliably reported that trouble with the Redstone booster rocket will delay the launching at least until Friday. The difficulty was with a tube which feeds liquid oxygen to the rocket's fuel tanks.

With more astronaunt shots scheduled — perhaps every six weeks—the Weather Bureau issued the ominous warning that Florida is moving into its summer weather regime, which means its rainy season.

For the U.S. man-in-space program which expects to rocket a man around the world before the end of the year, this could mean additional temporary delays.

Shepard, 37, Navy commander, and his alternate, Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., 39, probably will turn in about 10 p.m. tomorrow, only to get up again four hours later.

Then they will repeat the ritual that they went through yesterday morning: shower, shave, breakfast, physical examination. Shepard will get into his space suit, be fitted with medical sensors at special tattooed marks around his heart, so doctors may read his condition by radio on earth.

Then, after a final briefing, they will sit down to wait.

Shepard, with a reputation for nervelessness, is nevertheless exposed to tension. He is more accustomed to handling this kind of tension, however, thanks to his years as a Navy test pilot.

One source close to the astronauts explained that the hours before the rocket blasts off are probably the worst. Once the rocket is in flight and the pilot has a job to do, the tension will fade.

Navy recovery ships, faced with picking Shepard or Glenn from the sea, and speeding him to Grand Bahama Island, can stay out marginally through Sunday if necessary. Then they must return to port for new supplies, and fuel.

MORE INFORMATION

American Space Shot Should Better Russ

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—America's initial astronaunt likely will top Yuri Gagain in bringing home critical knowledge needed for man to wheel around in space.

Alan B. Shepard—if he makes the first flight—apparently will perform more tasks than the Soviet pilot. Navy Comdr. Shepard has been selected for the job, but some change could disqualify him.

Detailed psychological, medical and technical knowledge is needed to write the book for man into space.

MEMORY CULLED

This astronaunt will have his memory culled of every last tid-bit of information on reactions and performance through verbal and written reports and tests. He will even re-live his flight the day after, seeing himself on TV film as he flew the capsule.

The Soviets have released only sparse details of Gagarin's experience, and perhaps did not arrange for as complete a harvest of information from it.

The U. S. pilot is being asked to control his capsule in flight to some extent, operate a periscope and radio, observe stars and clouds through a porthole, and conduct other tests.

HIS IMPRESSIONS

Recording devices and his own impressions, will help show how much, if at all, weightlessness and increased gravity pull affect human physical and psychological performances.

He will begin recording his observations and judgments soon after he boards a pick-up ship.

That same day he flies to quiet seclusion on Grand Bahama Island for very detailed physical exams to see if there are any subtle changes in faculties or condition.

The following day he will file written reports and talk extensively with experts in various fields of the space project to supply all possible technical data.

Taped records of his bodily reactions, his conversation, and his performance will be brought to the island, including TV films of his face and instrument panel as he rode the capsule. That possibility could jog his memory for significant detail otherwise overlooked.

Cuba Captures Rebel Chief

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Capt. Manuel Artime, leader of the unsuccessful invasion of Cuba two weeks ago, was captured today, Radio Havana announced.

Artime had been hiding in the swamps of the Bay of Cochines awaiting an opportunity to flee to the United States, the announcement said. The broadcast accused Artime of having fled Cuba to join the exile army with funds from an agricultural cooperative.

Artime was a member of Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro's rebel army in the successful revolution against President Fulgencio Batista. Castro later claimed that Artime was with his forces for a brief period of days.

Henry Kaiser's Son Dies At 44 In Oakland

OAKLAND (AP)—Henry J. Kaiser Jr., younger son of the internationally known industrialist, died yesterday after an extended illness. He was 44.

Henry J. Kaiser Sr. learned of his sons death at the end of the first game of a Seattle-Hawaii Pacific Coast League baseball doubleheader in Honolulu. He, his wife and their party left the stadium immediately.

Henry Jr. was a vice president and director of Kaiser Industries Corp. and of many related companies of the multibillion dollar Kaiser organization.

He was an early champion of sharing the profits of automation with workers.

Kaiser called on labor and management to "wage a voluntary disarmament program against such weapons as the strike and the use of the bargaining table as a fight arena" in a talk to the Los Angeles Rotary Club in March, 1960.

He had been confined to a wheel chair several months and frequently had been in hospitals.

He was naued Oakland's outstanding citizen of 1960 for his many civic activities. But he was too ill to accept the award on Feb. 15 and his 8-year-old son, Henry J. Kaiser III, accepted it in his father's name.

Heroic Resistance In Warsaw Ghetto Told

JERUSALEM, Israel (AP) — The gripping story of the anti-Nazi uprising in the Warsaw ghetto, swept with hunger and disease but filled with courage, was told by a woman survivor in the trial of Adolf Eichmann today.

In a low but unfaltering voice, Mrs. Zivia Lubotkin told of weeks of heroic resistance against overwhelming German forces in the walled-in Jewish quarter.

With home-made bombs that had to be fused with matches, a few arms and scarce ammunition, the Jews battled thouands of German troops trying to round them up for deportation to the gas chambers, she said.

A tense audience packed the courtroom as the woman testified about the last-ditch struggle of the ghetto fighters.

"We did not have a fighting chance," she said, "it was quite clear to us that we had no prospect of winning in the military sense of the word. But we knew that despite their strength, we would be the winners ultimately because we believed in a regime of justice to man."

Mrs. Lubotkin took the stand immediately after presiding Judge Moshe Landau announced the three-judge court trying Eichmann had decided to ask a West German court to examine four prospective defense witnesses.

Defense counsel Robert Servatius applied for the four—all former Nazis—to appear before the court in Israel. But Attorney General Gideon Hausner said all would be arrested on arrival in Israel and held for trial under the Nazi collaborators' law, the law under which Eichmann is being tried.

Navy Balloon To Try Record

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—The Navy plans to make an attempt tomorrow to launch a manned balloon from the deck of an aircraft carrier to a record altitude.

If weather conditions are favorable, the carrier Antietam will proceed to a point about 100 miles in the Gulf of Mexico from where the attempt is to be made.

Other tries will be made Friday or Saturday if the first attempt is washed out. Three such tries were blocked by the weather last weekend.

The balloon, fully inflated, contains 10 million cubic feet of helium. The plastic envelope has a surface area of about seven acres and it measures 411 feet at launch, or as tall as a 40-story building.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Those Coffee Breaks

BALTIMORE (AP)—The coffee break gained new status in Baltimore Superior Court Tuesday.

A jury under Judge S. Ralph Warnken ruled that a workman injured while taking a coffee break was entitled to workman's compensation. The jury ruled that the break was part of the normal employment and thus covered by the compensation law.

Pressures In Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (UPI)—The army is putting new pressure on Antoine Gizenga, communist-supported boss of Oriental Province, to attend the current Congo Conference in Coquilhatville, it was reported today.

Reports from Coquilhatville said a military delegation representing the Leopoldville goverment went to Gizenga's headquarters in Stanleyville yesterday with a half-dozen Oriental state troops to try to persuade him to join the conferees.

There appeared to be little likelihood that Gizenga would accept, especially in view of the experience of Katanga President Moise Tshombe, who went to Coquilhatville and was seized by Leopoldville troops when he tried to leave.

Town Given $402,500

RICHMONDVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — "Richmondville has been good to me," is banker Chauncey Winters' explanation for giving this Schoharie County village of 743 persons the equivalent of $402,500 in International Business Machines stocks.

Winters, a white-haired, bachelor, 68, is cashier and vice president of the Bank of Richmondville in this dairy-belt community located 40 miles west of Albany.

Adlai Prediction

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States will suffer "more and more adverse votes" in the United Nations from now on, Adlai E. Stevenson predicted last night.

The U.S. chief delegate said that with nearly half the world organization's 99 members from Africa and Asia "the West will no longer dominate."

Stevenson spoke at a New York dinner of the conference group of U.S. National Organizations of the United Nations.

South African Raids

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Thousands of armed police and plain clothesmen swept through South African cities and Negro townships last night, raiding the homes of whites and non-whites.

Purpose of the raid, one of the biggest in South Africa's history, apparently was to forestall nationwide strikes and protest demonstrations threatened by the non-white majority to coincide with proclamation of the new republic of South Africa May 31.

Troopers To Angola

LUANDA, Angola (UPI) — Portuguese paratroopers have landed in the northern Angola village of Mucaba where the 50-man garrison beat off two attacks over the weekend by bands of marauders, it was reported today.

Relief columns of Portuguese troops also were reported hacking their way through the dense jungle to bolster the garrison as the raiders were said to be re-forming for new assaults on the beleaguered village.

'Justice And Chessman'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A $50,000 judgment has been awarded to Caryl Chessman's prosecutor in a film about Chessman.

Deputy Dist. Atty. J. Miller Leavy had sued for one million dollars charging that he was induced to appear in a documentary that would be shown only on television. He said he learned later that the film, "Justice and Caryl Chessman," was produced for general distribution in theaters.

A jury awarded Leavy $7,500 against Terrence W. Cooney, producer of the film, and $42,500 against Sterling World Distribution Corp., which arranged distribution.

Muralist Dies

NEW YORK (UPI) — Hildreth M. Meiere, muralist, mosaic artist and architectural decorator, died in a hospital yesterday after a brief illness. She was 68.

Miss Meiere is best known for her murals in the National Academy of Sciences in Washington and in the Nebraska State Capitol in Lincoln.

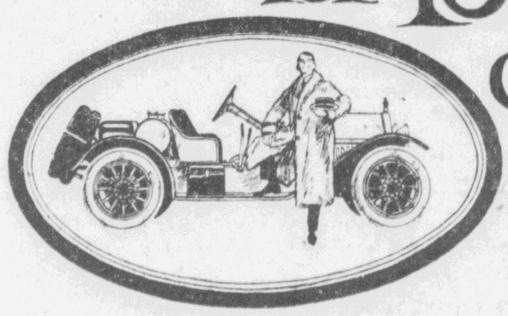
If you are putting aside MONEY for YOUr car's old age— STOP!



Put your money where it will do the most good...in a new FORD

STOP spending money on your car's old age.

SWAP now for a '61 Ford. Sales are up and your Ford Dealer is in a position to pay top dollar for your trade-in . . . which should cover the down payment.

SAVE with the car that's Beautifully Built to Take Care of Itself. A '61 Ford goes 30,000 miles between chassis lubrications, 4,000 miles between oil changes, adjusts its own brakes, guards its own muffler, never needs waxing, protects its own body.

Before you buy a '61 car, be sure it is a '61! That means a car as care-free and capable as the '61 Ford . . . the car that's beautifully built to take care of itself—the car that was deliberately built to back up its long-term warranty*!

STOP . . . SWAP . . . SAVE . . . today at your Ford Dealer's. Enjoy a full summer in a beautifully built '61 Ford.

*Each part of '61 Fords, except tires, is dealer warranted against defects in materials or workmanship for 12 months or 12,000 miles, whichever comes first. Owners remain responsible for normal maintenance service and routine replacement of maintenance items such as filters and ignition parts.

FIRE SERVICES DAY

Here's Chance To Ride Fire Engine

Open houses, equipment displays, films, and even rides on a "real" fire engine for the children will be presented by six fire departments in Marin Saturday in observance of National Fire Service Day.

The Terra Linda Fire Department will offer free rides for children. The Terra Linda Firehouse on Del Ganado Road will be open for inspection from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Fire equipment will be displayed and refreshments will be served. Terra Linda firemen are making a birthday out of the event, as the department was established in April, 1958.

IN TIBURON

The Tiburon main fire station on Tiburon Boulevard will have on open house from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. at which time the public may examine fire equipment.

During the afternoon, films on mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and industrial fire protection will be shown. The volunteer firemen will demonstrate the only fire pole in Southern Marin as part of the program. Refreshments will be served.

Novato firemen will hold open house at both fire stations from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., with displays of rescue and resuscitator equipment and explanations of fire fighting techniques and equipment.

Refreshments will be served to visitors both at the main fire station on Grant Avenue near Highway 101 and at Station 2 on South Novato Boulevard.

The Mill Valley and Ross firehouses and both firehouses in Alto Fire District will be open for inspection Saturday. No other activities have been planned for the three departments.

DISPLAYS

The Mill Valley firehouse on Corte Madera Avenue will be open with equipment on display from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. The Ross station at the Civic Center will have open house from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Equipment will be displayed at the Alto District firehouses in Alto and Strawberry during open house from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Other fire departments in Marin plan no special National Fire Service Day activities.

Hub American Legion Nominations May 8

Nominations for new officers of San Anselmo Post 179, American Legion, will be made at a meeting May 8 at the Legion Log Cabin.

A second round of nominations and the election will be at the May 22 meeting, said William Harrington, commander.

Demo Dinner Called Udall-2 Incident

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A Senate Republican leader branded as "pretty raw" today efforts of an oilman friend of Interior Secretary Steward L. Udall to peddle tickets to a $100 a plate Democratic dinner honoring President John F. Kennedy.

Chairman Styles Bridges (R-N. H.) made the statement after his Senate GOP Policy Committee discussed the ticket solicitation episode.

It was "a pretty raw way to go about collecting money," Bridges said of a letter from oil executive J. K. Evans asking 5 oil and gas industry representatives to buy tickets for the fund-raising dinner May 27.

Evans claimed in the letter that Udall asked him to solicit the industry as a "personal favor." Udall "categorically denied asking any such effort. He said Evans had admitted a "mistake." Evans himself was not immediately available for comment.

Republicans in Congress were clamoring for Udall's political scalp.

Sen. Wallace F. Bennett (R-Utah) termed the Udall development "the Democrat's U-2 incident." This referred to the difficulties of the Eisenhower Administration when the U. S. U-2 plane was shot down while over an espionage mission over the Soviet Union last year.

The Cold, Quiet Purges Khrushchev Is Making

LONDON (UPI)—Under the innocent guise of agricultural reforms a sweeping purge is taking place in Russia. It already has claimed premiers, party chiefs and an untold number of other officials high and low.

Diplomatic dispatches reaching here today said the purge, which began quietly a few months ago and gained momentum in recent weeks, apparently is not yet completed.

MASTERMIND

The mastermind behind it is Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev. By all appearances he is making sure his men are slipping into the vacancies and assuring absolute party control over the politicians in the state machinery.

The purges have lost the grim brutality of the Stalin era.

Firing squads are out of fashion. The victims usually get alternative jobs. But all indications are that the cold process of "substitution" is no less effective.

The purges have followed Khrushchev's tour of the Soviet Republics. Some of the changes:

Averki Aristov, member of the Soviet Presidium and Deputy Chairman of the Party Bureau of the Soviet Russian Republic, was removed from policy-making councils and sent to Poland as ambassador. He was replaced by G. I. Voronov, one of Khrushchev's latest proteges.

Agriculture Minister Vladimir Matskevitch was sent to Kazakhstan.

Nikifor Kalchenko was dismissed as Prime Minister of the Ukraine and replaced by Vladimir Sherbitsky of the Ukrainian Communist Party.

Mikhail Roginets was fired as Minister of Agriculture in Kazakhstan.

V. N. Titov was fired as Kharkov regional party secretary.

SACKED FOR FRAUD

In Tadzhikistan, in Soviet Central Asia, both Prime Minister N. Dokhudoev and First Party Secretary Turzunbar Uldzazaev were sacked for gross fraud.

Michael Grechukha, former President of the Ukraine Republic, was replaced as Deputy Chairman of the Ukraine Cabinet by Pyotr Tronko, a former Kiev Party secretary.

A. Yelagin, Communist Party Leader of the Pavlodar region in Northeast Kazakhstan, and Y. Norkeyev, Chairman of the region's Exectuive Council, were expelled from the party as "experienced thieves and bribe takers.

More Education Bill For Teachers Backed

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A bill to require California's school teachers and administrators to get more solid education themselves has spurted ahead in the legislature, after prodding by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

The measure by Sen. Hugo Fisher (D-San Diego), was approved unanimously last night by a seven-man subcommittee of the Assembly Education Committee.

It would require teachers to study more "academic" subjects, such as English, mathematics, science, social studies, music or fine art. At the same time, it would not reduce the present minimum state requirement for how-to-teach courses.

It would also prod principals to assign teachers to courses they studied in college.

It would require administrators and supervisors to have six or seven years of college, with "academic" emphasis and to be experienced teachers themselves.

The bill had been given top priority by Governor Brown last week after it came within one vote of being defeated by the full 18-member Assembly Education Committee.

The subcommittee made one major change — to require elementary teachers to have five years of college, with the provision that fifth year could be completed within five years after receiving a credential.

Fisher pointed out that his bill without the amendment would require more than four years. The subject matter requirements would leave only 15 elective units in a four-year program, while the State Board of Education demands 26 units of how-to-teach courses.

New Sources Law Extension Gains In Senate

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Wire services, press associations, television and radio reporters and commentators would have the right to withhold the identity of their news sources under a measure approved by a Senate committee last night.

Don Mozley, of KCBS in San Francisco and chairman of the California Associated Press Radio and Television Assn. said the broadcasting industry should enjoy the same privileges now enjoyed by newspapers alone.

Sen. Joseuh A. Rattigan (D-Santa Rosa) was the only dissenter on a voice vote by the Senate Judiciary Committee on the bill by Assemblyman Tom Carrell, (D-San Fernando).

The committee restored commentators to the measure after William Winter, of KGO-TV San Francisco, said any irresponsible commentators still would be checks by libel statutes.

FIRE SERVICES DAY

Here's Chance To Ride Fire Engine

Open houses, equipment displays, films, and even rides on a "real" fire engine for the children will be presented by six fire departments in Marin Saturday in observance of National Fire Service Day.

The Terra Linda Fire Department will offer free rides for children. The Terra Linda Firehouse on Del Ganado Road will be open for inspection from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Fire equipment will be displayed and refreshments will be served. Terra Linda firemen are making a birthday out of the event, as the department was established in April, 1958.

IN TIBURON

The Tiburon main fire station on Tiburon Boulevard will have on open house from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. at which time the public may examine fire equipment.

During the afternoon, films on mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and industrial fire protection will be shown. The volunteer firemen will demonstrate the only fire pole in Southern Marin as part of the program. Refreshments will be served.

Novato firemen will hold open house at both fire stations from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., with displays of rescue and resuscitator equipment and explanations of fire fighting techniques and equipment.

Refreshments will be served to visitors both at the main fire station on Grant Avenue near Highway 101 and at Station 2 on South Novato Boulevard.

The Mill Valley and Ross firehouses and both firehouses in Alto Fire District will be open for inspection Saturday. No other activities have been planned for the three departments.

DISPLAYS

The Mill Valley firehouse on Corte Madera Avenue will be open with equipment on display from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. The Ross station at the Civic Center will have open house from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Equipment will be displayed at the Alto District firehouses in Alto and Strawberry during open house from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Other fire departments in Marin plan no special National Fire Service Day activities.

Hub American Legion Nominations May 8

Nominations for new officers of San Anselmo Post 179, American Legion, will be made at a meeting May 8 at the Legion Log Cabin.

Demo Dinner Called Udall-2 Incident

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A Senate Republican leader branded as "pretty raw" today efforts of an oilman friend of Interior Secretary Steward L. Udall to peddle tickets to a $100 a plate Democratic dinner honoring President John F. Kennedy.

Chairman Styles Bridges (R-N. H.) made the statement after his Senate GOP Policy Committee discussed the ticket solicitation episode.

It was "a pretty raw way to go about collecting money," Bridges said of a letter from oil executive J. K. Evans asking 5 oil and gas industry representatives to buy tickets for the fund-raising dinner May 27.

Evans claimed in the letter that Udall asked him to solicit the industry as a "personal favor." Udall "categorically denied asking any such effort. He said Evans had admitted a "mistake." Evans himself was not immediately available for comment.

Republicans in Congress were clamoring for Udall's political scalp.

Sen. Wallace F. Bennett (R-Utah) termed the Udall development "the Democrat's U-2 incident." This referred to the difficulties of the Eisenhower Administration when the U. S. U-2 plane was shot down while over an espionage mission over the Soviet Union last year.

The Cold, Quiet Purges Khrushchev Is Making

LONDON (UPI)—Under the innocent guise of agricultural reforms a sweeping purge is taking place in Russia. It already has claimed premiers, party chiefs and an untold number of other officials high and low.

Diplomatic dispatches reaching here today said the purge, which began quietly a few months ago and gained momentum in recent weeks, apparently is not yet completed.

MASTERMIND

The mastermind behind it is Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev. By all appearances he is making sure his men are slipping into the vacancies and assuring absolute party control over the politicians in the state machinery.

The purges have lost the grim brutality of the Stalin era.

Firing squads are out of fashion. The victims usually get alternative jobs. But all indications are that the cold process of "substitution" is no less effective.

The purges have followed Khrushchev's tour of the Soviet Republics. Some of the changes:

Averki Aristov, member of the Soviet Presidium and Deputy Chairman of the Party Bureau of the Soviet Russian Republic, was removed from policy-making councils and sent to Poland as ambassador. He was replaced by G. I. Voronov, one of Khrushchev's latest proteges.

Agriculture Minister Vladimir Matskevitch was sent to Kazakhstan.

Nikifor Kalchenko was dismissed as Prime Minister of the Ukraine and replaced by Vladimir Sherbitsky of the Ukrainian Communist Party.

Mikhail Roginets was fired as Minister of Agriculture in Kazakhstan.

V. N. Titov was fired as Kharkov regional party secretary.

SACKED FOR FRAUD

In Tadzhikistan, in Soviet Central Asia, both Prime Minister N. Dokhudoev and First Party Secretary Turzunbar Uldzazaev were sacked for gross fraud.

Michael Grechukha, former President of the Ukraine Republic, was replaced as Deputy Chairman of the Ukraine Cabinet by Pyotr Tronko, a former Kiev Party secretary.

A. Yelagin, Communist Party Leader of the Pavlodar region in Northeast Kazakhstan, and Y. Norkeyev, Chairman of the region's Exectuive Council, were expelled from the party as "experienced thieves and bribe takers.

More Education Bill For Teachers Backed

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A bill to require California's school teachers and administrators to get more solid education themselves has spurted ahead in the legislature, after prodding by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

The measure by Sen. Hugo Fisher (D-San Diego), was approved unanimously last night by a seven-man subcommittee of the Assembly Education Committee.

It would require teachers to study more "academic" subjects, such as English, mathematics, science, social studies, music or fine art. At the same time, it would not reduce the present minimum state requirement for how-to-teach courses.

It would also prod principals to assign teachers to courses they studied in college.

It would require administrators and supervisors to have six or seven years of college, with "academic" emphasis and to be experienced teachers themselves.

The bill had been given top priority by Governor Brown last week after it came within one vote of being defeated by the full 18-member Assembly Education Committee.

The subcommittee made one major change — to require elementary teachers to have five years of college, with the provision that fifth year could be completed within five years after receiving a credential.

Fisher pointed out that his bill without the amendment would require more than four years. The subject matter requirements would leave only 15 elective units in a four-year program, while the State Board of Education demands 26 units of how-to-teach courses.

110TH BIRTHDAY SET

The staff at the Bellevue Manor nursing home near Seattle are planning a big birthday anniversary party next week for Benjamin Trimble, shown here getting his pillow adjusted by his nurse. Medics Consider Proposed Merger

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Proposed merger of the California Medical Assn. and the California Osteopathic Assn. was to be considered today by the Medical Association's house of delegates.

Negotiations for combining the 18,000-member Medical Association and the 2,200-member Osteopathic Association have been in progress for several months.

The agreement would allow individual members of the Osteopathic Association to receive Doctor of Medicine degrees and would change the status of the Los Angeles College of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons to that of a Medical School.

Members of the Osteopathic Association's house of delegates were to vote on the same proposal at a meeting in Long Beach, Calif., May 17.

The issue was near the top of the agenda of the closing day session of the medical association's 90th annual meeting here.

Warren L. Bostick of San Rafael, was installed today as the new president of the association. Dr. Omer W. Wheeler of Riverside, was named president-elect yesterday and will be installed at the group's 1962 meeting in San Francisco.

Bostick said yesterday he favored a change in emphasis in prepaid medical insurance programs from low premiums to adequate coverage. He said he was convinced adequate coverage was more important than low premiums.

Bostick told a news conference that the California Physicians Service (Blue Shield) would like to offer a state wide or regional plan based on community ratings, but that competition with private companies had forced premiums to be based on group ratings.

He called for such a program of community-rated insurance to meet what he called the threat of "government medicine."

In a scientific session yesterday, Dr. Irwin Nydick of New York predicted a substantial reduction in damage to heart tissue from heart attacks through new methods involving injections of a clot-dissolving enzyme.

Nydick said tests of the enzyme known as Fibrinolysin currently were being made on experimental animals and foresaw its ultimate widespread use on human beings if the tests show the chemical has no toxic side effects.

Finance Victory Won By 'Salesman' Hollis

County School Supt. Virgil S. Hollis won a personal victory and the title of "salesman" in an appearance yesterday before the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

At issue was a seemingly minor matter on which Hollis had been overruled by the supervisors' finance committee. His presentation set new policy for the supervisors, they conceded.

Hollis had asked that Dr. Rudolph S. Kupfer, assistant superintendent for business, be permitted to attend a regional conference of the Illuminating Society in Sacramento today through Friday.

Supervisor J. Walter Blair as finance chairman had reported adversely on the ground that the trip wasn't for educational purposes and hence in the "junket" category he has consistently opposed.

Hollis said his office, in approving school buildings, should be in position to say "have you tried this?" about something which might be new to builder and architect.

"Light is expensive," he said, "so here is a policy-making area where we need the latest knowledge."

After it was noted that Hollis had consented to paring of the conference cost to $53 through cut on meal cost suggested by Administrator Alan Bruce, Supervisor Walter R. Castro moved consent to the trip.

"I've got a lot of confidence in Dr. Hollis though I'm still not wholly sold on this," said Blair, "and I'll second. I respect your attitude."

"He's quite a salesman as he proved at the election," said Chairman William D. Fusselman.

Nike-Zeus Aide Quits Defense Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Post said today Richard S. Morse has resigned as assistant secretary of the Army and director of Army research.

Morse, advocate of the Nike-Zeus antimissile missile, has been reported by friends as unhappy over the decision by the Kennedy administration not to put the Nike-Zeus into production, the newspaper said.

However, the Post added that Morse denied he was quitting because of disagreement over defense policies.

Morse, 49, a research and manufacturing executive, was appointed two years ago by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The Post said John H. Rubel, deputy director of defense research and engineering, is expected to be named to succeed Morse.

Goldberg Moves On Air Strike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg moved into the two-day-old National Airlines strike by calling union and management officials to a conference in his office today.

Goldberg invited officials of National Airlines and the International Assn. of Machinists "to discuss" the union's walkout which has shut down the airlines operation. About 4,000 employees have been idled by the strike.

The union is seeking a wage increase ranging from 17 to 23 cents an hour over a two year period and other changes in its contact with National.

The airline has stopped flights on its routes from Boston to Miami and from Florida to New Orleans and Houston.

San Rafael Class Of '36 Reunion Set

The San Rafael High School class of 1936 will hold its 25th reunion at 6 p.m. Saturday at Rickey's Rancho Rafael, Ignacio. Joining in the festivities will be the winter graduation classes of January 1936 and January 1937.

Bryan McCarthy will be master of ceremonies. Jordan Dell 'Era, former student body president, is in charge of entertainment.

A number of the 1936 faculty members will attend, including former principal E. A. Wells and Mrs. Wells.

Still Critical

Alexander Andrews, San Francisco merchant marine officer who was injured when his car hit a tree in Novato early Monday, was still in critical condition at Marin General Hospital.

SUPERVISORS ROUNDUP

County Rejects Fuel Bids —'Not Question Of Price'

County Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham was authorized by the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday to reject bids on lubricants for county vehicles and to negotiate an agreement not based on price, working with the purchasing department.

This unusual action followed consultation with County Counsel E. Warren McGuire.

Brigham recommended that low bids be accepted on county needs for gasoline and diesel fuel during the next fiscal year. The board accordingly approved Union Oil Co.'s offer of 20.69 cents for premium gasoline and 17.97 cents for regular, and Richfield Oil Co.'s offer of 11.20 cents for motor diesel fuel.

Brigham asked that the board authorize the county purchasing department to negotiate a contract for oil after rejecting initial bids, because "we have utilized the oil that is low in price and didn't feel it had the lubricating qualities the others did."

It developed he prefers a Standard Oil Co. of California product.

The supervisors also:

1. On motion of Supervisor J. Walter Blair, adopted an ordinance amendment to limit parking to 30 minutes on the south side of Tiburon's Main Street.

2. Appropriated $22,641.44, net cost without a state reimbursement of $8,000, for county fair site improvements, engineering, grading and drainage work through April.

3. Reappointed John V. Bacigalupi, retired vice president of the Bank of America, to the county retirement board.

4. Individually apologized to William R. Seeger, general manager of the Marin Muncipal Water District, and asked him to express regret to his board that the supervisors hadn't paid due heed to district road-building of the past before overruling its protest against inclusion in Tara Hills assessment on the Tiburon Peninsula.

5. Approved development plans and changes in Crescent Heights Master Plan allowing purchase of historic St. Hilary's Church by the Tiburon Landmarks Society, preservation of a botanical garden adjacent, and consequent substitution of one apartment building in a locality where three had been planned.

6. Granted one-year time extension for filing a map of Katlas Subdivision in the Novato area.

Wedding Date Celebrated

Sausalito City Councilman Howard Sievers and his wife, Minnie, celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary last night by attending the city council meeting, where a resolution was read in honor of the occasion.

Councilman Marjorie Brady read the resolution, which said Sievers not only served as president, clerk and member of the Sausalito School District board of trustees but was rearing "four sterling children."

"Therefore, be it resolved," said the resolution, "that the city of Sausalito extend to Howard Sievers and his child bride congratulations and best wishes on their 25th wedding anniversary."

THEY TRACKED HIM DOWN— JAYWALKING

PASADENA (AP)—Persistent is the word for Pasadena police.

Take the case of David McCracken Winters, 38, who on Dec. 18, 1959, was cited for jaywalking. The record showed he failed to make a court appearance and pay the $5 fine.

So two officers this week journeyed nearly 100 miles, visited Winters' home in Santa Barbara and returned him to Pasadena to trial.

Municipal Judge Joseph A. Sprankle Jr. yesterday levied the $5 fine, plus $75 for ignoring the ticket. Winters, who had no prior record, said he would serve 16 days in jail instead.

Appeasement Blasted By GOP Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican leaders have pledged support for the Kennedy administration in matters affecting world peace. But almost simultaneously, GOP House members attacked the President for alleged appeasement in foreign policy.

Commenting on the failure of the Cuban invasion, former Vice President M. Nixon said in Greenville, S. C., he doesn't think Republicans should publicly criticize the Kennedy administration for "mistakes which have hurt our world position."

ATTACK

But in a statement summarizing "the first 100 days" of the Kennedy administration, the house GOP Policy Committee said:

"Many of the old 'Acheson appeasers' have reappeared on the scene, still befogged by the notion that softeness is the best reply to Soviet aggression. One of the more disquieting aspects of this trend toward appeasement has been the tendency of President Kennedy to make ringing declarations concerning our determination to resist Communist aggression while hovering in the wings behind him are the appeasers busily plotting the next surrender."

And while House Republicans attacked the president, the Republican leaders in Congress, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, pledged support to the President.

Explaining the GOP position to the National Press Club, Dirksen said: "Our first responsibility is to get all the facts available and to insist upon consultation with the administration.

UPHOLD JFK

"But when the irretrievable decision has been made in a world filled with fever and madness it becomes the responsibility of the minority to uphold the hand of the President and make it manifest to all the world that this is a united country."

However, Halleck said that on the domestic front, Republicans have "a responsibility to speak for the millions of good Americans who supported Vice President Richard Nixon in the last election."

Thefts, Vandalism Over Weekend

Thefts and vandalism at construction sites during the weekend have been reported to San Rafael police.

Raymond N. Ekman of Fairfax reported two batteries were taken from his bulldozer at a construction site at the end of Bonnie Banks Way.

Edward L. Bovee of Castro Valley, foreman for Underground Construction Co. of Oakland, working at the same location, reported two five gallon cans of hydraulic fluid were dumped and grading stakes were pulled up.

A battery was taken from a pile driver belonging to Ben C. Gerwick Co. of San Francisco, near the Marin Pistol Range Road, reported Orin A. Tess of San Pablo.

Deductions For Luxuries Hit By Dillon

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury said today many businessmen now claim luxuries as income tax deductions. It asked tighter restrictions on expense accounts to add $250 million dollars a year to government revenues as part of a general tax revision.

"There are few of the luxuries of life which a large number of taxpayers cannot in some way deduct on tax returns as business expenses," Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon said.

Dillon appeared before the House Ways and Means Committee to present the case for President Kennedy's program of tax revision — a broad plan for changes to encourage business investment in new equipment without cutting over-all Treasury revenues.

The Search Begins For Miss Marin

Do you have poise, personality, charm, beauty, good health and good character?

Girls with these qualities may apply for the Miss Marin contest — and an opportunity to compete for the title of Miss Universe at the Miss Universe Beauty Pageant in Miami Beach July 7-16.

Local contestants must have been born before July 1, 1943 and have lived in California for at least six months before the date of the contest. They must never have been married.

Directors of the local competition are Mrs. Kay Duncan and Miss Joanne Bernave, instructors at the John Robert Powers School in San Rafael. Applications are available at the school, and must be submitted there by 5 p.m. May 20.

Paul Richards, manager of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, co-sponsors of the competition, has urged service clubs, business concerns or individuals to sponsor a candidate.

Winner of the local competition will win a trip to Santa Monica where Miss California will be selected June 19-24. The state winner will be crowned, awarded a trophy and other prizes, including a scholarship. Four runners-up will receive trophies.

Miss California will compete in Miami Beach for the Miss United States title. Miss United States will be a Miss Universe contestant.

Reception To Honor Departing Pastor

A reception in honor of Rev. and Mrs. Robert C. Clapham will be held by the session (governing board) of the First Presbyterian Church of San Anselmo Friday at 8 p.m. in Duncan Hall, 199 Ross Avenue, San Anselmo.

Rev. Clapham, pastor of the San Anselmo church for eight years, announced last month that he will leave Marin County and become the pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of San Carlos this summer.

Science Grants Go To 6 Tam Teachers

Six Tamalpais Union High School District teachers have been awarded National Science Foundation study grants for the coming summer, it was announced today by Supt. Chester G. Carlisle.

Five of the grants received thus far are for teachers at Sir Francis Drake High School. They are:

Norman N. Goldstein Jr. of San Anselmo, biology teacher, already in possession of a National Science Foundation grant of $25,000 for study of electrical energy in human bodies, was one of 50 teachers in the nation selected to work in the institute of molecular biology at University of California.

HUB TEACHER

Gordon Chan of San Anselmo, biology teacher, is to do research on Marin invertebrates with the Pacific Marine Station at Dillon Beach, the grant to continue through the next school year on a part-time basis.

Rudolph R. Genetti of San Anselmo, physics teacher, will go to University of Colorado to study new data on teaching of physics which he will use for a district experimental course next year.

Ellsworth Hagen of Fairfax, biology teacher, will study Marine Biology in Maine, working with Bowdoin College.

U.C., CORNELL

W. Keith MacNab of San Anselmo will assist in revision of materials for use next year in high school chemistry courses. MacNab will study at both University of California and Cornell University. Next year he will be on a leave of absence from Drake to continue fulltime work on the program.

Leon G. Bennett of Kentfield, science and mathematics teacher at Tamalpais High School, will also study at the Molecular Biology Institute at University of California on a National Science Foundation grant.

Army Employees Get Cash Awards

Two Marin civilian employees of the Army at Fort Mason have received special cash bonuses for work and job improvement ideas.

Mrs. Virginia A. Loon of 1115 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield, received $150 in cash and an outstanding employee certificate. She is a secretary to Col. William A. McAleer, commanding officer at Fort Mason.

Lloyd V. Robertson of 101 Ridge Road, San Anselmo, a security patrolman at Fort Mason transport piers, received $20 for two suggestions for improving safety measures.

Marin City Contractors Claim Settled

A claim brought against Marin County Housing Authority for $93,000 in "extras" in construction of the Marin City low-rent housing units was settled before the commission Monday for $27,500.

Belmont contractors Williams and Burrows asked for extras, according to executive Bert Klahn, including a claim that they had moved 10,000 yards of soil uncovered in the project's grading. The commission claimed this was part of the contract.

The commission also denied a claim for extras by the electrical subcontractor.

The commission signed an agreement with developer James H. Scheuer for release hind Marin City at a sale price of $441,992. Scheuer, who will build single family homes and apartments in a private development, is to pay for the land by units as he uses them.

Klahn reported there are 600 families living in Marin City, 300 in the permanent low-rent housing and 300 in the temporary units, a reduction of 12 since April 3.

110TH BIRTHDAY SET

The staff at the Bellevue Manor nursing home near Seattle are planning a big birthday anniversary party next week for Benjamin Trimble, shown here getting his pillow adjusted by his nurse. Trimble, a former slave who lived to shake Abe Lincoln's hand and get a golf lesson from Ike's brother Edgar Eisenhower, says he'll be 110 May 10. (AP Wirephoto)

Medics Consider Proposed Merger

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Proposed merger of the California Medical Assn. and the California Osteopathic Assn. was to be considered today by the Medical Association's house of delegates.

Negotiations for combining the 18,000-member Medical Association and the 2,200-member Osteopathic Association have been in progress for several months.

The agreement would allow individual members of the Osteopathic Association to receive Doctor of Medicine degrees and would change the status of the Los Angeles College of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons to that of a Medical School.

Members of the Osteopathic Association's house of delegates were to vote on the same proposal at a meeting in Long Beach, Calif., May 17.

The issue was near the top of the agenda of the closing day session of the medical association's 90th annual meeting here.

Warren L. Bostick of San Rafael, was installed today as the new president of the association. Dr. Omer W. Wheeler of Riverside, was named president-elect yesterday and will be installed at the group's 1962 meeting in San Francisco.

Bostick said yesterday he favored a change in emphasis in prepaid medical insurance programs from low premiums to adequate coverage. He said he was convinced adequate coverage was more important than low premiums.

Bostick told a news conference that the California Physicians Service (Blue Shield) would like to offer a state wide or regional plan based on community ratings, but that competition with private companies had forced premiums to be based on group ratings.

He called for such a program of community-rated insurance to meet what he called the threat of "government medicine."

In a scientific session yesterday, Dr. Irwin Nydick of New York predicted a substantial reduction in damage to heart tissue from heart attacks through new methods involving injections of a clot-dissolving enzyme.

Nydick said tests of the enzyme known as Fibrinolysin currently were being made on experimental animals and foresaw its ultimate widespread use on human beings if the tests show the chemical has no toxic side effects.

Finance Victory Won By 'Salesman' Hollis

County School Supt. Virgil S. Hollis won a personal victory and the title of "salesman" in an apeparance yesterday before the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

At issue was a seemingly minor matter on which Hollis had been overruled by the supervisors' finance committee. His presentation set new policy for the supervisors, they conceded.

Hollis had asked that Dr. Rudolph S. Kupfer, assistant superintendent for business, be permitted to attend a regional conference of the Illuminating Society in Sacramento today through Friday.

Supervisor J. Walter Blair as finance chairman had reported adversely on the ground that the trip wasn't for educational purposes and hence in the "junket" category he has consistently opposed.

Hollis said his office, in approving school buildings, should be in position to say "have you tried this?" about something which might be new to builder and architect.

"Light is expensive," he said, "so here is a policy-making area where we need the latest knowledge."

After it was noted that Hollis had consented to paring of the conference cost to $53 through cut on meal cost suggested by Administrator Alan Bruce, Supervisor Walter R. Castro moved consent to the trip.

"I've got a lot of confidence in Dr. Hollis though I'm still not wholly sold on this," said Blair, "and I'll second. I respect your attitude."

"He's quite a salesman as he proved at the election," said Chairman William D. Fusselman.

Nike-Zeus Aide Quits Defense Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Post said today Richard S. Morse has resigned as assistant secretary of the Army and director of Army research.

Morse, advocate of the Nike-Zeus antimissile missile, has been reported by friends as unhappy over the decision by the Kennedy administration not to put the Nike-Zeus into production, the newspaper said.

However, the Post added that Morse denied he was quitting because of disagreement over defense policies.

Morse, 49, a research and manufacturing executive, was appointed two years ago by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The Post said John H. Rubel, deputy director of defense research and engineering, is expected to be named to succeed Morse.

Goldberg Moves On Air Strike

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg moved into the two-day-old National Airlines strike by calling union and management officials to a conference in his office today.

Goldberg invited officials of National Airlines and the International Assn. of Machinists "to discuss" the union's walkout which has shut down the airlines operation. About 4,000 employees have been idled by the strike.

The union is seeking a wage increase ranging from 17 to 23 cents an hour over a two year period and other changes in its contact with National.

The airline has stopped flights on its routes from Boston to Miami and from Florida to New Orleans and Houston.

San Rafael Class Of '36 Reunion Set

The San Rafael High School class of 1936 will hold its 25th reunion at 6 p.m. Saturday at Rickey's Rancho Rafael, Ignacio. Joining in the festivities will be the winter graduation classes of January 1936 and January 1937.

Bryan McCarthy will be master of ceremonies. Jordan Dell 'Era, former student body president, is in charge of entertainment.

A number of the 1936 faculty members will attend, including former principal E. A. Wells and Mrs. Wells.

Still Critical

Alexander Andrews, San Francisco merchant marine officer who was injured when his car hit a tree in Novato early Monday, was still in critical condition at Marin General Hospital.

SUPERVISORS ROUNDUP

County Rejects Fuel Bids —'Not Question Of Price'

County Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham was authorized by the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday to reject bids on lubricants for county vehicles and to negotiate an agreement not based on price, working with the purchasing department.

This unusual action followed consultation with County Counsel E. Warren McGuire.

Brigham recommended that low bids be accepted on county needs for gasoline and diesel fuel during the next fiscal year. The board accordingly approved Union Oil Co.'s offer of 20.69 cents for premium gasoline and 17.97 cents for regular, and Richfield Oil Co.'s offer of 11.20 cents for motor diesel fuel.

Brigham asked that the board authorize the county purchasing department to negotiate a contract for oil after rejecting initial bids, because "we have utilized the oil that is low in price and didn't feel it had the lubricating qualities the others did."

It developed he prefers a Standard Oil Co. of California product.

The supervisors also:

1. On motion of Supervisor J. Walter Blair, adopted an ordinance amendment to limit parking to 30 minutes on the south side of Tiburon's Main Street.

2. Appropriated $22,641.44, net cost without a state reimbursement of $8,000, for county fair site improvements, engineering, grading and drainage work through April.

3. Reappointed John V. Bacigalupi, retired vice president of the Bank of America, to the county retirement board.

4. Individually apologized to William R. Seeger, general manager of the Marin Muncipal Water District, and asked him to express regret to his board that the supervisors hadn't paid due heed to district road-building of the past before overruling its protest against inclusion in Tara Hills assessment on the Tiburon Peninsula.

5. Approved development plans and changes in Crescent Heights Master Plan allowing purchase of historic St. Hilary's Church by the Tiburon Landmarks Society, preservation of a botanical garden adjacent and consequent substitution o one apartment building in a lo cality where three had beer planned.

6. Granted one-year time extension for filing a map of Katlas Subdivision in the Novato area.

PILL PUSHER IS AIRMEN'S CHOICE

The smart money at Hamilton Air Force Base is on Pill Pusher IV, here being closely coached by M/Sgt. Richard Dowdakin of 644 Peach Street, Novato, to win the annual Angels Camp Jumping Frog Derby. The length of the frog's training jump is a military secret. He's a wild frog, captured Monday night with flashlight and net and now on a training diet of minced liver and "selected insects," financed by the Non-Commissioned Officers Club at the base hospital. Why Pill Pusher IV? "The first three," explains Dowdakin, were delicious. This one showed the most promise." (Independent-Journal photo)

House Group Votes For More Bombers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Armed Services Committee voted today to continue production of B-52 and B-58 bombers. It said missiles are not yet dominant in deterring war.

"The committee was unanimous in its belief that this country needs the proper mix of missiles and bombers," Chairman Carl Vinson (D-Ga.) said in announcing the action.

"After all, the missile can do only one or two things: It can go or it can not go. A bomber on the other hand, has an almost infinite variety of capabilities."

The committee took the action at a closed session in approving a $12,368,000,000 construction for planes, missiles and naval vessels.

The bill was the largest authorization in congressional history and the first of its kind. The actual funds must be appropriated in separate legislation and will not necessarily be provided in full.

The measure, required for the first time under a 1959 law, would authorize appropriation of $3,976,200,000 for missiles, $2,925,000,000 for ships, and $5,466,800,000 for planes in the 12 months beginning July 1.

With the added 337 million dollars authorization for continued production of B-52 and B-58 bombers—now scheduled to come to a halt during the year—the bill exceeds the president's requests by 393 million dollars.

Vinson said "a great many things" about the B-70 are still to be learned before production is warranted.

Missile programs for the three services were approved just as requested by Kennedy. The navy program also was approved intact except for one change: $10,000,000 was added to cover costs of putting nuclear power into two new missile frigates, which would be substituted for three frigates with conventional power.

Besides the extra bombers—which will continue to roll off the lines at a rate of several monthly—the committee added $21,200,000 to put turbofan engines into the last C-135 airplanes to be bought by the military air transport service (instead of conventional jets); and $25,000,000 to buy three new plush jets for White House and top level executive use.

Slaying Trial Jurrors Still Being Picked

Picking of 12 jurors and two alternates to try murder suspect Luis S. Aldeguer, 37, continued today before Judge Thomas F. Keating in Marin Superior Court.

Aldeguer is accused of at attempting to murder his wife, Ruth, 37, and killing her alleged boy friend, taxi driver James Roger Collins Jr., 38, at Mrs. Aldeguer's home at 10 Plymouth Circle in Mill Valley on Jan. 21.

Of 175 prospective jurors called yesterday, about half were excused for personal reasons or because they admitted they are opposed to the death penalty or have been prejudiced by reading newspaper accounts of the slaying.

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety and defense lawyer, Public Defender Peter Allen Smith hoped to complete the jury selection today.

The trial is set for two weeks. The district attorney has not ruled out the possibility that he would seek the death penalty.

Tiburon Sanitary Board Looks Into Assessment Plan

Tiburon Sanitary District directors Monday discussed with representatives of the Marin County Housing Authority the method of assessment of Hilarita Housing Project in the Upland Area Sewage Treatment Assessment District.

Hilarita is expected to pay approximately $80,000 for inclusion in the sewage treatment service. Because it is a public agency, it must pay now and not over a period of time, secretary Robert A. Sterling explained.

An adjourned meeting will be held Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the sewage treatment plant for further discussion.

GREETINGS — President John F. Kennedy today greets President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia at Washington National Airport. (AP Wirephoto)

Kennedy Personally Greets Bourguiba

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President John F. Kennedy personally extended a red carpet reception today to President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia.

Bourguiba's plane landed at National Airport on a flight from Ottawa, Canada.

The president and Mrs. Kennedy led a large gathering of dignitaries who were on hand to greet the African leader.

Kennedy, in welcoming Bourguiba, said it was proper that the Tunisian President was the first head of state to make a formal visit here since the new administration took office.

Kennedy said that he had long been "familiar with the struggle of Bourguiba to bring about the independence of his country."

As the Tunisian couple stepped off the plane the Kennedy's warmly greeted them. Mrs. Kennedy presented Mrs. Bourguiba with a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Bourguiba, in returning Kennedy's welcoming statement, said that "your warm welcome shows the depth of friendship between our countries."

Astronomy Lecture At College Tonight

Harold Ramsey of the Lockheed Solar Observatory in Los Angeles will lecture at 7:45 p.m. tonight in Olney Hall, College of Marin. The Marin Astronomical Society is sponsor of the program.

At Lockheed the sun is continually photographed with exposures made at 10-second intervals. Ramsey will show time-lapse films illustrating the wave - like disturbances initiated by solar flares.

Teacher Pay Plan Adopted In Fairfax

Fairfax School District trustees last night adopted an improved teachers' salary schedule calling for a range of $4,800 to $8,400 and decided to organize a semi-departmental program at Fairfax Central School next fall.

The new schedule for 1961-62 provides teachers will reach maximum with 13 years of experience. The current schedule begins at $4,600 and teachers reach a $7,400 maximum in 11 years.

PRINCIPALS' PAY

A provision for principals' salaries, adopted at a previous meeting, will give them a maximum of 30 per cent over the teachers' $8,400 maximum. They will reach maximum with seven years of experience.

The board also adopted a salary schedule for non-teaching personnel, providing a 2½ per cent increase over the current schedule.

All seventh and eighth grade students will attend Central School next year, the board decided. The program will be divided into "core" subjects in the morning, under one teacher, and "departmentalized" subjects under various teachers in the afternoon.

Core subjects include social studies, English, reading, spelling, writing, Spanish and physical education. Afternoon subjects will include mathematics, science and health, shop and homemaking, vocal music and art. Manor and Deer Park School will have kindergarten through grade 6 next fall.

BUS DECISION

The board, after hearing a cost analysis of various forms of transportation, decided the best solution would be to contract with a private bus firm for service. It authorized Supt. Homer Sisk to draft specifications and call for bids.

Laurence Hermann and Jay Hutchinson were sworn in as trustees to fill the vacancies caused by the resignations of Stryker Warren and Jack Uhte. The new members were elected April 18 to regular terms beginning July 1.

OBITUARY

Rites Held For Early Mill Valleyan

Funeral services were held yesterday in Pacific Grove for Benjamin Prince Upham Sr., one of the first settlers in Mill Valley. Upham died of a heart attack Monday while vacationing in Carmel.

A native of San Francisco, Upham was 85. He first lived in Mill Valley on Lovell Avenue, a home which burned in the 1929 fire.

He was in the printing business, retiring 10 years ago. He began in his father's business, the Payot Upham Co. which later became the Carlisle Printing Co.

Upham moved from Mill Valley to Ross during World War II. For the past six years he had resided at 304 Via Hidalgo in Greenbrae.

He was a member of the Bohemian Club and of the Downtown Assn. of San Francisco.

Surviving him are his wife, Alysse Upham; a son, Benjamin P. Upham Jr. of Mill Valley; two daughter, Mrs. James S. Russell of Ross and Mrs. Walter Sawyer of Essex Falls, N.J., and seven grandchildren.

Inurnment will be at Mountain View Cemetery in Oakland.

BERT CHURCH

Funeral services for Bert W. Church, brother of Mrs. William C. Osborn of Larkspur, were held Friday in San Mateo.

Church, 76, a retired bookkeeper for Southern Pacific Co., was a native of Watsonville and lived most of his life in Burlingame and San Mateo.

He is survived by his wife, Cora, and his sister.

EUNICE TAYLOR

Funeral services for Mrs. Eunice Blanche Taylor, who died Monday at her home at 61 Rogue Moraes Drive, Mill Valley, will be held at 11 a.m. tomorrow at Russell and Gooch chapel in Mill Valley.

Mrs. Taylor, 39, a switchboard operator for Wells Fargo Francisco, had resided in Mill Valley since last September.

Death was attributed to an overdose of sleeping tablets.

She was a member of the Order of the Eastern Star, Chapter 219, Mill Valley, which will be in charge of the funeral.

Surviving her are her mother, Rebecca Phillips of Oklahoma; a son, Jim Hickerson of Portland, Ore.; two brothers, Lee Phillips of San Francisco and Eugene Phillips of Oklahoma; a sister, Mrs. Bernice McCullar of Portland, Ore., and two grandchildren.

Despite the communist attacks, the defense ministry said the Royal Army truce team would continue trying to meet with rebel spokesmen in the no man's land north of Van Hin Heup. There was some belief the attacks in southern Laos could have been caused by faulty communications.

The rebel radio pleas for an end to hostilities were made in the Lao language beginning at 7 a.m. The broadcasts also repeated a plea to the pro-Western government to give safe conduct to planes carrying Red truce delegates to the peace talk area on a section of highway 13 a few miles north of Ban Hin Heup.

S.F. Court Continues Men-About-Town Case

The cases of Richard Skinner, 22, of 325 Fairhills Drive, San Rafael, and Michael Lumpy, 22, of San Francisco, charged with being drunk and defrauding an innkeeper, were continued in San Francisco Municipal Court Monday to May 9.

The pair were jailed Sunday at the Mark Hopkins Hotel after Skinner registered with a fictitious name and the pair ran up a bill totaling $137.43. The police were called after the hotel found the boys' luggage in the shrubbery beneath their window, and a number of items belonging to the hotel in the suitcases.

Windows Broken

Three windows of the Merrell Studios building at 60 Louise Street, San Rafael, have been broken in the past two weeks, John N. Carroll, proprietor, reported to police yesterday.

Planner Named In Sausalito

Robert C. La Fontaine of 9 Cazneau Avenue, Sausalito, was appointed to the Sausalito's planning commission last night by the city council to replace Gilbert P. Murphy.

La Fontaine, a publisher's representative for O'Mara and Ormsbee in San Francisco, has lived in Sausalito seven years. He has been a member and chairman of the recreation commission.

Murphy, on the commission for three years and chairman for the past year, is moving from Sausalito. His resignation becomes effective May 10.

P. Douglas Anderson of San Anselmo and Eugene Kibbe of Fairfax have been announced as judges for print and color slide competitions connected with "Photography Days," a three-day photo festival which opened tomorrow at the Hall of Flowers in Golden Gate Park, San Francisco.

Judging will be held May 21 with entries received at Photography Center, 50 Scott Street, San Francisco, through May 8.

Woman Faces Charge Of Taking Groceries

Bertha Patterson, 51, of San Francisco is scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court tomorrow afternoon on a charge that she put a cheese dip and a bell pepper into her handbag and walked out of Roger Wilco Market in Ignacio yesterday without paying for them.

Richard L. Walker, the manager, held the woman and called the sheriff about 3:45 p.m. Charged with shoplifting, she was freed on $262.50 bail.

Council To See Piedmont Terrace Map

Adoption of the final map of Piedmont Terrace Subdivision will come before the Larkspur City Council tonight at 8 o'clock in the city hall.

Councilmen will also discuss the sale of four city-owned lots on West Baltimore Avenue and will hold a public hearing on the annexation of 10 acres of land between Bon Air Bridge and Marin General Hospital, owned by Niels Schultz Jr.

Handwriting Nails Three Juveniles

Three juveniles, aged 11, 12 and 15, who broke into Short School at Bayview and Marin Streets, San Rafael, during the weekend, were not hard to apprehend, principal Harold Delmar told San Rafael police. The three took two bottles of ink and one of water color and painted their names on concrete pipes and in big letters in the school yard.

The rain washed out the big letters in the yard, but those in ink on the concrete pipes gave them away.

The trio broke a window to get into the kindergarten room, police reported.

District Boards Talk Of Merger

Directors of the Gallinas Village Community Services District and Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District met last night to discuss combining their two districts.

The Regional Water Pollution Control Board is trying to get the four districts now using Gallinas Creek for sewage discharge to combine and pump into the Bay. This would clean up the creek so it could be uses as a recreation area.

Frederick L. Nelson, chairman of the Gallinas Village board, said the Las Gallinas Valley board plans to set up a survey to determine costs of hooking the two districts together.

Marinites Drink Wrong Liquids

Last night seemed to be a night for drinking the wrong liquids.

David Nunn 2-year-old son of Mrs. Patricia Nunn of 101 Redwood Highway, San Rafael, drank some gasoline. He was admitted to San Rafael General Hosital at 6:45 p.m. His condition was satisfactory today.

Thomas McGivern, 30, of 658-A Main Street, Sausalito, accidentally drank some sudsy ammonia about 11 p.m. He went to Marin General Hospital, but as it did not have an available bed, he went to San Rafael General, where he was in satisfactory condition today.

SENTENCED AS SPY — George Blake, 38, was sentenced to 42 years in prison in London today as a spy for the Soviet Union. It was the stiffest sentence ever handed down in Britain in peacetime for spying. The bearded Blake, shown above in 1953 a Dutch-born British diplomat, turned pro-Communist during three years of captivity in North Korea. Gavin Denies CIA Link In Algeria Insurrection

PARIS (UPI)—U.S. Ambasador James M. Gavin today denied flatly that agents of the American Central Intelligence Agency were involved in the Algiers insurrection last week.

Asked about allegations made to the effect that there had been intervention by these agents, Gavin told an Anglo-American press luncheon:

"They are absolutely without foundation to the best of my knowledge, and I should know."

Informed sources said Gavin had checked with Central Intelligence Agency officials in Paris before making his statement.

Gavin faced a lively question and answer session after the luncheon and French foreign office spokesman Pierre Baraduc threatened to walk out of the room at the first question.

This asked the ambassador that "since the CIA now is officially admitted to have been involved . . . what is your comment."

Gavin refused to entertain the question. When feelings were smoothed again, Gavin answered another question on the same subject but in a different form.

Gavin said he could not recall a precendent for intervention in the internal affairs of another country such as President John F. Kennedy's message pledging aid to De Gaulle during the crisis.

A correspondent asked, "Have you asked the French for any evidence they might have that the CIA was involved?"

"Why ask?" Gavin replied. "The CIA was not involved."

He said he knew "absolutely nothing" about any American message to insurgent leader Gen. Maurice Challe.

French, Rebel Peace Talks 'Likely Soon'

PARIS (UPI)—A French government spokesman said today that peace negotiations between France and the Algerian Moslem rebel regime were likely to start at "a very early date."

Information Minister Louis Terrenoire expressed optimism over getting the long-awaited conference going after a three-hour cabinet meeting that decided on severe new purge measures in the wake of the generals' uprising.

Terrenoire said no specific date has been set for the start of the talks on Algeria's future "but it is likely to start at a very early date."

The negotiations to end the six and one-half year-old Algerian war were originally scheduled to begin last April 7 at the Lake Geneva resort town of Evian-Les-Bains. But the Tunis-based Moslem rebels refused to attend after the French announced their intention to consult with rival Moslem groups.

Instructor Wins Ballroom Honors

Arthur Burton, an instructor in ballroom dancing at the Marin Young Women's Christian Assn., has passed an examination giving him accredited membership in the British Imperial Society of Ballroom Dancers. He is one of very few persons in the United States to be so honored, and the only one in Marin County.

The Marin YWCA offers in addition to dancing, classes in health, arts and crafts and homemaking.

PILL PUSHER IS AIRMEN'S CHOICE

The smart money at Hamilton Air Force Base is on Pill Pusher IV, here being closely coached by M/Sgt. Richard Dowdakin of 644 Peach Street, Novato, to win the annual Angels Camp Jumping Frog Derby. The length of the frog's training jump is a military secret. He's a wild frog, captured Monday night with flashlight and net and now on a training diet of minced liver and "selected insects," financed by the Non-Commissioned Officers Club at the base hospital. Why Pill Pusher IV? "The first three," explains Dowdakin, were delicious. This one showed the most promise." (Independent-Journal photo)

House Group Votes For More Bombers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Armed Services Committee voted today to continue production of B-52 and B-58 bombers. It said missiles are not yet dominant in deterring war.

"The committee was unanimous in its belief that this country needs the proper mix of missiles and bombers," Chairman Carl Vinson (D-Ga.) said in announcing the action.

"After all, the missile can do only one or two things: It can go or it can not go. A bomber on the other hand, has an almost infinite variety of capabilities."

The committee took the action at a closed session in approving a $12,368,000,000 construction for planes, missiles and naval vessels.

The bill was the largest authorization in congressional history and the first of its kind. The actual funds must be appropriated in separate legislation and will not necessarily be provided in full.

The measure, required for the first time under a 1959 law, would authorize appropriation of $3,976,200,000 for missiles, $2,925,000,000 for ships, and $5,466,800,000 for planes in the 12 months beginning July 1.

With the added 337 million dollars authorization for continued production of B-52 and B-58 bombers—now scheduled to come to a halt during the year—the bill exceeds the president's requests by 393 million dollars.

Vinson said "a great many things" about the B-70 are still to be learned before production is warranted.

Missile programs for the three services were approved just as requested by Kennedy. The navy program also was approved intact except for one change: $10,000,000 was added to cover costs of putting nuclear power into two new missile frigates, which would be substituted for three frigates with conventional power.

Besides the extra bombers—which will continue to roll off the lines at a rate of several monthly—the committee added $21,200,000 to put turbofan engines into the last C-135 airplanes to be bought by the military air transport service (instead of conventional jets); and $25,000,000 to buy three new plush jets for White House and top level executive use.

Slaying Trial Jurrors Still Being Picked

Picking of 12 jurors and two alternates to try murder suspect Luis S. Aldeguer, 37, continued today before Judge Thomas F. Keating in Marin Superior Court.

Aldeguer is accused of at attempting to murder his wife, Ruth, 37, and killing her alleged boy friend, taxi driver James Roger Collins Jr., 38, at Mrs. Aldeguer's home at 10 Plymouth Circle in Mill Valley on Jan. 21.

Of 175 prospective jurors called yesterday, about half were excused for personal reasons or because they admitted they are opposed to the death penalty or have been prejudiced by reading newspaper accounts of the slaying.

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety and defense lawyer, Public Defender Peter Allen Smith hoped to complete the jury selection today.

The trial is set for two weeks. The district attorney has not ruled out the possibility that he would seek the death penalty.

Planner Named In Sausalito

Robert C. La Fontaine of 9 Cazneau Avenue, Sausalito, was appointed to the Sausalito's planning commission last night by the city council to replace Gilbert P. Murphy.

La Fontaine, a publisher's representative for O'Mara and Ormsbee in San Francisco, has lived in Sausalito seven years. He has been a member and chairman of the recreation commission.

Murphy, on the commission for three years and chairman for the past year, is moving from Sausalito. His resignation becomes effective May 10.

P. Douglas Anderson of San Anselmo and Eugene Kibbe of Fairfax have been announced as judges for print and color slide competitions connected with "Photography Days," a three-day photo festival which opened tomorrow at the Hall of Flowers in Golden Gate Park, San Francisco.

Judging will be held May 21 with entries received at Photography Center, 50 Scott Street, San Francisco, through May 8.

Woman Faces Charge Of Taking Groceries

Bertha Patterson, 51, of San Francisco is scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court tomorrow afternoon on a charge that she put a cheese dip and a bell pepper into her handbag and walked out of Roger Wilco Market in Ignacio yesterday without paying for them.

Richard L. Walker, the manager, held the woman and called the sheriff about 3:45 p.m. Charged with shoplifting, she was freed on $262.50 bail.

Council To See Piedmont Terrace Map

Adoption of the final map of Piedmont Terrace Subdivision will come before the Larkspur City Council tonight at 8 o'clock in the city hall.

Councilmen will also discuss the sale of four city-owned lots on West Baltimore Avenue and will hold a public hearing on the annexation of 10 acres of land between Bon Air Bridge and Marin General Hospital, owned by Niels Schultz Jr.

GREETINGS — President John F. Kennedy today greets President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia at Washington National Airport. (AP Wirephoto)

Kennedy Personally Greets Bourguiba

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President John F. Kennedy personally extended a red carpet reception today to President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia.

Bourguiba's plane landed at National Airport on a flight from Ottawa, Canada.

The president and Mrs. Kennedy led a large gathering of dignitaries who were on hand to greet the African leader.

Kennedy, in welcoming Bourguiba, said it was proper that the Tunisian President was the first head of state to make a formal visit here since the new administration took office.

Kennedy said that he had long been "familiar with the struggle of Bourguiba to bring about the independence of his country."

As the Tunisian couple stepped off the plane the Kennedy's warmly greeted them. Mrs. Kennedy presented Mrs. Bourguiba with a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Bourguiba, in returning Kennedy's welcoming statement, said that "your warm welcome shows the depth of friendship between our countries."

Tiburon Sanitary Board Looks Into Assessment Plan

Tiburon Sanitary District directors Monday discussed with representatives of the Marin County Housing Authority the method of assessment of Hilarita Housing Project in the Upland Area Sewage Treatment Assessment District.

Hilarita is expected to pay approximately $80,000 for inclusion in the sewage treatment service. Because it is a public agency, it must pay now and not over a period of time, secretary Robert A. Sterling explained.

An adjourned meeting will be held Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the sewage treatment plant for further discussion.

Handwriting Nails Three Juveniles

Three juveniles, aged 11, 12 and 15, who broke into Short School at Bayview and Marin Streets, San Rafael, during the weekend, were not hard to apprehend, principal Harold Delmar told San Rafael police. The three took two bottles of ink and one of water color and painted their names on concrete pipes and in big letters in the school yard.

The rain washed out the big letters in the yard, but those in ink on the concrete pipes gave them away.

The trio broke a window to get into the kindergarten room, police reported.

District Boards Talk Of Merger

Directors of the Gallinas Village Community Services District and Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District met last night to discuss combining their two districts.

The Regional Water Pollution Control Board is trying to get the four districts now using Gallinas Creek for sewage discharge to combine and pump into the Bay. This would clean up the creek so it could be uses as a recreation area.

Frederick L. Nelson, chairman of the Gallinas Village board, said the Las Gallinas Valley board plans to set up a survey to determine costs of hooking the two districts together.

Marinites Drink Wrong Liquids

Last night seemed to be a night for drinking the wrong liquids.

David Nunn 2-year-old son of Mrs. Patricia Nunn of 101 Redwood Highway, San Rafael, drank some gasoline. He was admitted to San Rafael General Hesital at 6:45 p.m. His condition was satisfactory today.

Thomas McGivern, 30, of 658-A Main Street, Sausalito, accidentally drank some sudsy ammonia about 11 p.m. He went to Marin General Hospital, but as it did not have an available bed, he went to San Rafael General, where he was in satisfactory condition today.

Astronomy Lecture At College Tonight

Harold Ramsey of the Lockheed Solar Observatory in Los Angeles will lecture at 7:45 p.m. tonight in Olney Hall, College of Marin. The Marin Astronomical Society is sponsor of the program.

At Lockheed the sun is continually photographed with exposures made at 10-second intervals. Ramsey will show time-lapse films illustrating the wave - like disturbances initiated by solar flares.

Teacher Pay Plan Adopted In Fairfax

Fairfax School District trustees last night adopted an improved teachers' salary schedule calling for a range of $4,800 to $8,400 and decided to organize a semi-departmental program at Fairfax Central School next fall.

The new schedule for 1961-62 provides teachers will reach maximum with 13 years of experience. The current schedule begins at $4,600 and teachers reach a $7,400 maximum in 11 years.

PRINCIPALS' PAY

A provision for principals' salaries, adopted at a previous meeting, will give them a maximum of 30 per cent over the teachers' $8,400 maximum. They will reach maximum with seven years of experience.

The board also adopted a salary schedule for non-teaching personnel, providing a 2½ per cent increase over the current schedule.

All seventh and eighth grade students will attend Central School next year, the board decided. The program will be divided into "core" subjects in the morning, under one teacher, and "departmentalized" subjects under various teachers in the afternoon.

Core subjects include social studies, English, reading, spelling, writing, Spanish and physical education. Afternoon subjects will include mathematics, science and health, shop and homemaking, vocal music and art. Manor and Deer Park School will have kindergarten through grade 6 next fall.

BUS DECISION

The board, after hearing a cost analysis of various forms of transportation, decided the best solution would be to contract with a private bus firm for service. It authorized Supt. Homer Sisk to draft specifications and call for bids.

Laurence Hermann and Jay Hutchinson were sworn in as trustees to fill the vacancies caused by the resignations of Stryker Warren and Jack Uhte. The new members were elected April 18 to regular terms beginning July 1.

OBITUARY

Rites Held For Early Mill Valleyan

Funeral services were held yesterday in Pacific Grove for Benjamin Prince Upham Sr., one of the first settlers in Mill Valley. Upham died of a heart attack Monday while vacationing in Carmel.

A native of San Francisco, Upham was 85. He first lived in Mill Valley on Lovell Avenue, a home which burned in the 1929 fire.

He was in the printing business, retiring 10 years ago. He began in his father's business, the Payot Upham Co. which later became the Carlisle Printing Co.

Upham moved from Mill Valley to Ross during World War II. For the past six years he had resided at 304 Via Hidalgo in Greenbrae.

He was a member of the Bohemian Club and of the Downtown Assn. of San Francisco.

Surviving him are his wife, Alysse Upham; a son, Benjamin P. Upham Jr. of Mill Valley; two daughter, Mrs. James S. Russell of Ross and Mrs. Walter Sawyer of Essex Falls, N.J., and seven grandchildren.

Inurnment will be at Mountain View Cemetery in Oakland.

BERT CHURCH

Funeral services for Bert W. Church, brother of Mrs. William C. Osborn of Larkspur, were held Friday in San Mateo.

Church, 76, a retired bookkeeper for Southern Pacific Co., was a native of Watsonville and lived most of his life in Burlingame and San Mateo.

He is survived by his wife, Cora, and his sister.

EUNICE TAYLOR

Funeral services for Mrs. Eunice Blanche Taylor, who died Monday at her home at 61 Rogue Moraes Drive, Mill Valley, will be held at 11 a.m. tomorrow at Russell and Gooch chapel in Mill Valley.

Mrs. Taylor, 39, a switchboard operator for Wells Fargo Francisco, had resided in Mill Valley since last September.

Death was attributed to an overdose of sleeping tablets.

She was a member of the Order of the Eastern Star, Chapter 219, Mill Valley, which will be in charge of the funeral.

Surviving her are her mother, Rebecca Phillips of Oklahoma; a son, Jim Hickerson of Portland, Ore.; two brothers, Lee Phillips of San Francisco and Eugene Phillips of Oklahoma; a sister, Mrs. Bernice McCullar of Portland, Ore., and two grandchildren.

He lives in Petaluma with his wife Irene, 34, a native of Warsaw, Poland, and Canadian citizen. She works for a laundry in Santa Rosa.

As manager of the San Rafael office, Hopper was drawing a monthly salary of $510 plus incidentals.

Assistant District Attorney Bales said he plans to file about seven counts of grand theft against Hopper.

Tonkin Gulf coast city of Hue in South Viet Nam. The French Air Force maintains a base at Seno, outside Savannakhet which is the stronghold of Gen. Phoumi Nosavan.

Despite the communist attacks, the defense ministry said the Royal Army truce team would continue trying to meet with rebel spokesmen in the no man's land north of Van Hin Heup. There was some belief the attacks in southern Laos could have been caused by faulty communications.

The rebel radio pleas for an end to hostilities were made in the Lao language beginning at 7 a.m. The broadcasts also repeated a plea to the pro-Western government to give safe conduct to planes carrying Red truce delegates to the peace talk area on a section of highway 13 a few miles north of Ban Hin Heup.

S.F. Court Continues Men-About-Town Case

The cases of Richard Skinner, 22, of 325 Fairhills Drive, San Rafael, and Michael Lumpy, 22, of San Francisco, charged with being drunk and defrauding an innkeeper, were continued in San Francisco Municipal Court Monday to May 9.

The pair were jailed Sunday at the Mark Hopkins Hotel after Skinner registered with a fictitious name and the pair ran up a bill totaling $137.43. The police were called after the hotel found the boys' luggage in the shrubbery beneath their window, and a number of items belonging to the hotel in the suitcases.

Windows Broken

Three windows of the Merrell Studios building at 60 Louise Street, San Rafael, have been broken in the past two weeks, John N. Carroll, proprietor, reported to police yesterday.

SENTENCED AS SPY — George Blake, 38, was sentenced to 42 years in prison in London today as a spy for the Soviet Union. It was the stiffest sentence ever handed down in Britain in peacetime for spying. The bearded Blake, shown above in 1953 a Dutch-born British diplomat, turned pro-Communist during three years of captivity in North Korea. He was captured in 1950 while serving as vice consul in Seoul. (AP Wirephoto)

Gavin Denies CIA Link In Algeria Insurrection

PARIS (UPI)—U.S. Ambasador James M. Gavin today denied flatly that agents of the American Central Intelligence Agency were involved in the Algiers insurrection last week.

Asked about allegations made to the effect that there had been intervention by these agents, Gavin told an Anglo-American press luncheon:

"They are absolutely without foundation to the best of my knowledge, and I should know."

Informed sources said Gavin had checked with Central Intelligence Agency officials in Paris before making his statement.

Gavin faced a lively question and answer session after the luncheon and French foreign office spokesman Pierre Baraduc threatened to walk out of the room at the first question.

This asked the ambassador that "since the CIA now is officially admitted to have been involved . . . what is your comment."

Gavin refused to entertain the question. When feelings were smoothed again, Gavin answered another question on the same subject but in a different form.

Gavin said he could not recall a precendent for intervention in the internal affairs of another country such as President John F. Kennedy's message pledging aid to De Gaulle during the crisis.

A correspondent asked, "Have you asked the French for any evidence they might have that the CIA was involved?"

"Why ask?" Gavin replied. "The CIA was not involved."

He said he knew "absolutely nothing" about any American message to insurgent leader Gen. Maurice Challe.

French, Rebel Peace Talks 'Likely Soon'

PARIS (UPI)—A French government spokesman said today that peace negotiations between France and the Algerian Moslem rebel regime were likely to start at "a very early date."

Information Minister Louis Terrenoire expressed optimism over getting the long-awaited conference going after a three-hour cabinet meeting that decided on severe new purge measures in the wake of the generals' uprising.

Terrenoire said no specific date has been set for the start of the talks on Algeria's future "but it is likely to start at a very early date."

The negotiations to end the six and one-half year-old Algerian war were originally scheduled to begin last April 7 at the Lake Geneva resort town of Evian-Les-Bains. But the Tunis-based Moslem rebels refused to attend after the French announced their intention to consult with rival Moslem groups.

Instructor Wins Ballroom Honors

Arthur Burton, an instructor in ballroom dancing at the Marin Young Women's Christian Assn., has passed an examination giving him accredited membership in the British Imperial Society of Ballroom Dancers. He is one of very few persons in the United States to be so honored, and the only one in Marin County.

The Marin YWCA offers in addition to dancing, classes in health, arts and crafts and homemaking.

FROM BULLETS TO BOATERS — This model is a replica of the Sausalito Cruising Club's new clubhouse which is to be made by remodeling an old river barge which once carried ammunition for the Navy. Model was built by Russell H. Papenhausen of Sausalito. Plans call for a dining and dancing hall, galley, bar, sun decks and floats for tying up boats. (Independent-Journal photo)

Sausalito Cruising Club Remodeling River Barge

The Sausalito Cruising Club plans to start work in about two weeks on remodeling of an old river barge into a floating clubhouse.

Built to carry ammunition for the Navy, the barge has hauled wheat and barley from Petaluma to San Francisco and, most recently, was a "Noah's Ark" when it was the home of a great many stuffed animals.

AT LOCUST STREET

The barge lies at the foot of Locust Street in Sausalito and still has large "Bear Tracks" painted on the deck inside and big splashes of bright color painted on the outside.

It will be the club's first clubhouse. Founded in 1949, for sailors with either sail or power boats, the 200-member club first met in a small shack owned by the Madden and Lewis Boat Yard on the sandspit. Since 1956 club members have met in the IDESST Hall on Caledonia Street.

The barge was used to haul ammunition at Mare Island during World War II. It was acquired by the Petaluma and Santa Rosa railroad in 1950 and used for several years to carry grain up and down the Petaluma River. The railroad built the deck house to protect the grain.

Later the barge was leased to the Berkeley Transportation Co. for a time and used between San Francisco and Oakland and other points.

Then, for nine months in 1959, it was a children's concession in San Francisco near Fisherman's Wharf containing the Biblical animals of Noah. This venture apparently failed financially and the barge was returned to Petaluma where the cruising club discovered it and bought it for $500.

SEEKS HOME

It is 111 by 31 feet and has a deck house. It draws two feet of water. Club commodore Newton B. McCarthy said the club hopes to find a permanent home for the barge in the lagoon at the foot of Bee Street.

A four-foot model of the barge as it will appear when remodeled has been built by Russell H. Papenhausen of Sausalito, a former commodore. Plans call for a dining and dancing hall with glassed walls, a galley and a bar. There are to be two sun decks forward and floats built outboard on three sides to tie up boats.

Novato High Seniors Name Valedictorian For Class

Dannelle Smith, 17, has been named valedictorian of the Novato High School graduating class.

She has the highest grade average of the 130 graduating seniors, at 3.89 out of a possible four for a perfect "A" record.

She plans to attend Dominican College and major in science.

Miss Smith has been president of the school Language Club, Girls League and California Scholarship Federation. She has been a member of the Pom Pom Girls Booster Group and held office in the Girls Athletic Assn. and Pep Club.

She is a daughter of Mrs. Anita Smith of Novato and Dann L. Smith.

Construction Slated Today On Novato Water Pipeline

Contractors today were to begin boring under Highway 101 just north of Novato as part of pipeline construction for the North Marin Water District.

Pipe which will bring Russian River water to the Novato area will be laid beginning June 1, crossing under the highway near Petaluma and crossing it again near Atherton Avenue. The line is expected to be completed next winter.

Directors of the water district last night approved a temporary extension of service to the Novato Little League field. The district will supply the connection; the Little League will supply some 1,000 feet of pipe.

Sailing Ship Sinks —Six Feared Lost

MIAMI (UPI) — A two-masted sailing ship being used as a floating classroom for high school boys sank in a violent windstorm yesterday with the probable loss of six lives, the Coast Guard said today.

The vessel was identified as the 93-ton Brigantine Albatross owned by Oceans Academy of Darien, Conn.

A passing motor vessel, the Grand Rio, picked up 13 survivors of the 19 passengers and crew.

PLANES HUNT

The captain of the Albatross, Christopher B. Sheldon, reported by telephone from the Grand Rio that there was "no probability of additional survivors," the Coast Guard said. However, two Coast Guard planes from St. Petersburg were searching the area of the Gulf of Mexico where the Albatross sank.

The sinking took place 125 mlies west of the dry tortugas about 9 a.m. Tuesday, the Coast Guard said.

Sheldon said the Albatross "went down in less than a minute" after it began taking on water.

The names of the persons aboard the vessel could not be learned immediately. The Coast Guard said they were of American and Canadian nationality although the Albatross was registered in Panama.

Dick Langford, a professor of English at Stetson University, Deland, Fla., who had planned a trip aboard the Albatross, described the vessel last fall as a floating "campus and classroom" offering courses in biology, Spanish, English, mathematics and navigation to teenage students of the 10th and 11th grades.

SURVIVORS

The Coast Guard said the Albatross was en route from Progresso, Mexico, to Nassau, Bahamas, when it went down.

The Grand Rio was taking the survivors of the sinking to Tampa, Fla., where it was expected to dock about 7 a.m. tomorrow, the Coast Guard said.

Many of the young students aboard the vessel were reported to be from prominent families.

Bolinas History Talk

Runaway Car Whips Into Five Others

A freak, chain-reaction accident last night wrecked six cars and sent a Larkspur mechanic to the hospital.

Thomas Wallen, 22, mechanic for the Larkspur Garage who lives at 134 Morningside Avenue, Mill Valley, was sitting on the fender of an automobile working on the engine at 7:20 p.m., when the car started, threw him to the ground and ran over him.

The runaway car, a 1957 Cadillac owned by J. E. Warren of 2130 Redwood Highway, crashed into five other parked cars before it stopped on the frontage road in front of the Larkspur Trailer Court.

Warren was reported suffering from a broken left arm by Marin General Hospital attendants today.

County Hospital Panel On KTIM

"What is Marin County's obligation with regard to the county hospital and farm?" will be discussed from 9 to 10 a.m. tomorrow on the radio KTIM "Sounding Board" program, moderated by Kitty Oppenheimer.

Panelists will be Dr. Bruce Merrill, chairman of hospital committee of the Marin Council for Civic Affairs; George Banning of the firm of Crawford and Banning, architects, who have been appointed by the board of supervisors to work out plans for the county hospital; Leon A. de Lisle, county auditor, and Dr. Dr. Calvin Plumhoff, member of the Marin Medical Society and head of its county hospital committee.

Questions telephoned during the broadcast will be directed to the panel members. The program will be repeated from a recording Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

Money Trouble Bobs Up Again In Mill Valley

Mill Valley Treasurer William G. Rutherford was having money troubles again today—there wasn't enough.

Vice Mayor George Blackwell, in the absence of Mayor Robert D. Huber in Los Angeles on business, called a "workshop session" of the council for noon at the city hall. The meeting was called, Blackwell said, after he learned that Rutherford was to ask the council at its regular meeting tonight for approval of two outstanding warrants. The matter was taken off the agenda yesterday afternoon on Blackwell's request, but Rutherford told the Independent-Journal today he still plans to ask approval of the warrants.

According to City Manager A. E. Almcrants, the treasurer's $1,200 annual expense budget has been overspent by $713.36. Almcrants said he cannot approve the warrants, which are for $60 to Harry Auduchon for accounting services and $21 to Mrs. Mary A. Scarlett for secretarial services.

Also, Rutherford would like to have his expenses paid for a recent trip to Sacramento to attend a treasurers' conference and for extra secretarial help.

Rutherford met with former treasurer E. H. Daniel this morning.

Rutherford receives $300 a month salary, an increase of $125 a month over Daniel's salary when he retired in April of 1960. The $1,200 expense budget is additional.

School Planning Art Festival

A spring art festival will be staged from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. tomorrow by the art department of Santa Venetia Junior High School.

The exhibit, in the school's multi-purpose room, will be patterned after French outdoor art shows, said Bruce Pinegar, art instructor. A string quartet will play and refreshment will be served while visitors view the displays.

The work of each of 10 outstanding students will be displayed under its own canopy, Pinegar said. The 10 are Bill Ayers, Debbie Adams, Dennis Camgros, Dean Toll, Tim Garvin, Janet Fernandez, Carl Loeber, Dale Berg, Laura Buton and Damon Pennington.

Sausalito Teen Party Called No 'Beer Bust'

Mrs. Carl G. Wooley of Sausalito told Sausalito Police Chief Howard Goerndt yesterday that a party at the Wooley home Saturday night was "not a beer bust but an open house to which about 40-50 people had been invited."

"There were specific instructions that there would be no drinking," she said.

Seven teen-agers, one a minor, were taken into custody by police outside the house. Six of them are to appear at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow in San Rafael Municipal Court on charges including possession of alcoholic beverages by a minor, resisting arrest and being drunk in a public place.

Mrs. Wooley told police that not one of 16 youngsters taken to the police station Saturday had been invited to the party.

Sanity Testimony In Arson Trial

Bearded bongo-drummer Victor Andrew Gipson, 27, accused of setting fire to his own home in Tamalpais Valley last March, is scheduled to appear in Marin Superior Court next Monday to hear what two psychiatrists have to say about him.

An arson trial for Gipson, originally scheduled to start today, was postponed while Dr. Bernard L. Diamond of Ross and Dr. Theo K. Miller of Napa State Hospital examine him to determine his sanity.

Sheriff's deputies and firemen said they found Gipson watching his home burn at 363 Pinehill Road on March 19. Throughout his court arraignment and preliminary hearing, Gipson has flatly refused to have the services of the public defender or any other attorney.

$140 Hi-Fi Set Stolen From Marinwood Home

A high-fidelity set worth $140 vanished from a Marinwood home, the owner has reported to sheriff's deputies.

Stanley R. Klopstock, 50, a managing analyst who lives at 450 Pinewood Drive, told officers the set is missing from the living room. He does not know exactly when the theft occurred

San Jose-Novato Schools Merger Opinions Asked

Members of the Loma Verde Homeowners Assn. have been asked to write to the Marin Committee on School District Organiation to give their opinions on merger of San Jose and Novato Unified School Districts.

About 45 members of the association Monday heard an explanation of various aspects of unification, annexation and boundary change of the two districts from Edwin L. Blackmore, administrative assistant to superintendent of schools.

Association members were asked by officers of the group to write their opinions to the county committee, now studying unification. The next meeting of the committee will be May 10 at Pacheco school in the San Jose District.

ROSS VALLEY COMEDY

'Janus' Is A Slow Starter, But Racy Entertainment

"Janus," which the Ross Valley Players presented to capacity audiences in the Barn of the Marin Art and Garden Center last weekend, will be repeated tomorrow, Friday and Saturday and May 12 and 13, with curtain time 8:30 p.m.

A situation comedy by Carolyn Green, "Janus" plots a two-faced situation and stars Barbara Morrisey.

Although the first act was a bit slow (a fault of the playwright, not the players), it quickly speeded up to one of the most entertaining shows of the season.

Barbara Morrisey is excellent, beautiful and convincing as Jess, the housewife who finds that happiness can lie in more realms than at home in Seattle.

Her writing collaborator, Denny, disarmingly played by Fred Brylka, sees to it that she is appreciated more as a woman than as an authoress. His performance convinced this writer that no one could blame Jess.

Jess's husband Gil, who barges in, surprising the two writers, is played by Roland Irving, who supplies the show with excellent and sparkling comedy delivery. Gil is more upset by the income tax problem than by his wife's extracurricular actions. The collector of this revenue is played by Jim Urquhart, who deservedly received exit applause for beautifully underplaying the precise tax collector.

Miss Addy, played by Jean Irving, is the money-loving literary agent who publishes the "lusty busty" novels written by Gil and Jess.

Naturally no review is complete without a word about the director, and John Brebner's talent last weekend showed itselft to be exceptional. "Janus" could not possibly be as entertaining if Brebner had not produced the best possible performance from his actors and crew.

"Janus" provides a two-headed success as an evening's entertainment and as good theater.—ADELE DEETHS

Fairfax Given Recreation Proposal

Residents of Claus Circle last night presented a plan for development of the circle to the Fairfax Park and Recreation Commission.

A. Nelson Gamas of 2 Claus Circle pledge support of the residents in maintaining the circle if their plan for a park of ivy, trees, shrubs and flagstone walkways is approved.

Members of the Fairfax City Council attended the meeting, at the invitation of the recreation commissioners. Mayor Kenneth M. Edgar said today that nothing specific was discussed. The commission primarily wanted councilmen to watch it operate and to answer questions the commissioners might have, the mayor said.

The commissioners discussed the need for the city to protect its park properties from encroachment and decided efforts should be made to establish legal protection for the park areas to save them for the future.

The Fairfax Little League is now in full operation under the leadership of president Peter Forney, the commission was told.

Knew About, But Opposed Fixing: Paxton

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Retiring President Robert Paxton of General Electric Co., testified today that he discovered price-fixing in G.E. at the height of the depression and violently opposed it.

Paxton, now on leave of absence from the top G.E. post, told Senate investigators he was an enemy of price-fixing during his 36-year career with the firm. He will retire this month for poor health.

FOUND OUT

He said he found out about the price-fixing when he was a young G.E. engineer. He said that later, in the late 1940s, men serving under him had disobeyed his firm instructions not to meet with competitors to agree on prices for electrical equipment.

The Scotland-born executive, responding quickly and precisely to questions asked by the Senate Anti-trust Subcommittee, whipped out a pencil when asked to calculate his salary last year.

"The figure I come up with is roughly $330,000," he replied.

Paxton said he first found out about price-fixing in the 1930s when sent on a 3,000-mile trip to the west coast to help sell switch gear.

Paxton said he came back to Philadelphia disappointed that he had not sold the expected quantity. But he said disappointment quickly turned to outrage when the sales manager, Robert F. Tinnerholm, told him he wasn't expected to sell a big order.

'A WINK'

"And he winked at me," Paxton recalled.

Tinnerholm's wink, he said, made him understand that "the cards had been stacked against me," that G.E. had agreed with competitors not to bid low for the business.

"I told him," Paxton recalled, "that I would never have anything to do with such monkey business. It was an outrage to send a G.E. salesman out to go through the motions.

"I didn't like it then and I don't like it now."

Eye Pencil Maker Takes Away Shadow

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The nation's largest manufacturer of cosmetic eye pencils has voluntarily stopped using certain coal tar colors, the U.S. Food and Drug Administration said today.

Jensen's Inc. of Shelbyville, Tenn., has notified the FDA that it has removed the colors from its plant. The firm has also asked its wholesale customers to withdraw from trade channels immediately all eye brow and eye liner crayons containing the colors.

During the past few weeks, the FDA has seized several lots of eye pencils containing various colors not authorized for use in the area of the eye.

Several cosmetic firms have already recalled their outstanding stocks of eye makeup containing such colors.

Axel Jensen, president of the Shelbyville firm, wrote to FDA commissioner George P. Larrick: "We will cooperate in correcting this problem as quickly as possible but wish to assure you that every effort is being made at our plant to remove any possibilities of a reoccurence of this situation."

Library Closes For Six Weeks

While the San Anselmo Library is closed for remodeling, patrons can use the Marin County Library or the San Rafael Public Library for a small fee, Virginia Stewart, San Anselmo librarian said today.

The San Anselmo Library closed Monday and will be closed for approximately six weeks.

The county library or its branches can be used for $1.25 for a three months membership. The San Rafael Public Library requires a $5 yearly non-resident membership. However, a refund will be made when the card is turned back, of all except 50 cents for each month the card was used.

Sad Visit For Queen

ROME (UPI)—Queen Elizabeth II today visited a quiet little cemetery almost in the heart of Rome which contains the bodies of 426 British and Commonwealth soldiers who died during World War II on Italian soil.

The Queen, accompanied by Prince Philip, placed a wreath of red carnations on the tomb of one unknown soldier.

KISSING COSTS SWAIN THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A young man argued that when he kissed a girl while driving she "assumed the risks, if any there were," for a subsequent accident.

Sanford Wagner, 19, admitted the kiss — he said there had been several—but denied he and Loretta Ann Petite, 20, had been drinking or that the kissing constituted negligent driving.

The Circuit Court jury yesterday disagreed with Wagner's theory and awarded Miss Petite $7,200 damages for lacerations of the face and head and her father, Joseph, $2,600 punitive damages.

Assistant Curator Named For Marin Junior Museum

George S. Raddue III of San Anselmo was appointed assistant curator of the Junior Museum of Marin last night by the museum senior board, president David Plant of Ross announced.

He will become director of the museum when the acting director, Mrs. Diane Williams, retires in July.

Raddue, 30, attended College of Marin, Sierra College in Auburn and San Francisco State College. He has taught geology and lapidary at Randall Junior Museum of the San Francisco Recreation and Parks Department. He has had academic training in earth and social sciences.

The museum board also heard good news from its treasurer, P. F. Kendall of San Anselmo. He reported the overall museum debt was reduced $3,355.63 during April.

A fund-raising program now under way is aimed at reducing the balance of the remaining $10,000 debt by June, Plant said. The museum will conclude fund-raising activities with an open house June 9.

Sausalito Council Asked To Curb Pressing Marin Vista Point Access

A Golden Gate Bridge District engineer asked the Sausalito City Council last night to go slow on pressing for a Marin access to Vista Point.

The district, said engineer Arthur Jenkins, is interested in widening the north end of the bridge and is negotiating with the Army for a 20-foot strip of federal land for that purpose. To push for Vista Point access now "would only complicate matters," he declared.

M. A. Graham, president of the bridge district, told the council he favored rapid transit using the bridge if it can be proved feasible from engineering and economic standpoints and "practical and necessary and in the public interest."

He said the bridge board is opposed to creation of a Golden Gate transportation commission to take over publicly owned toll bridges in the Bay Area because it would acquire the bridge district's 20 million dollars in reserves without a vote of the people.

Jenkins said a Vista Point access road under the bridge approach, would have to be a military road and two-laned, it would be costly to design, and traffic from the bridge northbound into Vista Point would conflict with traffic coming to the point from Marin.

"It won't be a state highway," he said, "so who will do the job and who will pay for it?"

Jenkins said he had never spoken to the Army about the matter. He also admitted, on questions from the council, that the district built the Sausalito lateral and connecting roads from the bridge to Park Presidio and the Marina in San Francisco. But he said these were not parallels to the proposed Vista Point access.

Mrs. Milton Kosmer, in the audience, asked Jenkins if there had been any thought to replacing the commute books with monthly or bi-monthly windshield stickers. Jenkins said this had been considered but it would be a problem because it would be a "permanent thing on the windshield."

Graham said, on leaving, he hoped the Vista Point access matter would be "corrected some time in the future; we have to deal with the Army engineers first."

The Sausalito council also:

1. Heard a letter from the Army Engineers addressed to James W. Halley, attorney for Ellis Lando of Lando Products Inc. saying that the engineers are not willing to grant a city road easement through federal property in Marinship.

2. Heard a letter from Clyde Kilian which listed 50 Sausalitans who use the Turney Street boat launching ramp. It had been suggested at a previous council meeting that the ramp was used only by out-of-town boaters.

SIGN REMOVED

3. Was told by City Manager Charles A. Brown that he has directed building inspector William L. Hynes to ask removal of a sign "Portofino Yacht Harbor and Golden Gate Yacht Sales" from the end of Main Street because it encroaches on city property.

4. Appointed Councilmen Haward Sievers and Marjorie Brady to study a master street lighting program for Sausalito following a report from Mark Jensen of Pacific Gas and Electric Co.

5. Adjourned to next Tuesday.

State Pharmacist Decline Slightly

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The number of registered pharmacists in California has declined slightly in the past year.

A recent count by the State Department of Professional and Vocational Standards set the present figure at 20,524. At the same time last year, it was 20,565.

FROM BULLETS TO BOATERS — This model is a replica of the Sausalito Cruising Club's new clubhouse which is to be made by remodeling an old river barge which once carried ammunition for the Navy. Model was built by Russell H. Papenhausen of Sausalito. Plans call for a dining and dancing hall, galley, bar, sun decks and floats for tying up boats. (Independent-Journal photo)

Sausalito Cruising Club Remodeling River Barge

The Sausalito Cruising Club plans to start work in about two weeks on remodeling of an old river barge into a floating clubhouse.

Built to carry ammunition for the Navy, the barge has hauled wheat and barley from Petaluma to San Francisco and, most recently, was a "Noah's Ark" when it was the home of a great many stuffed animals.

AT LOCUST STREET

The barge lies at the foot of Locust Street in Sausalito and still has large "Bear Tracks" painted on the deck inside and big splashes of bright color painted on the outside.

It will be the club's first clubhouse. Founded in 1949, for sailors with either sail or power boats, the 200-member club first met in a small shack owned by the Madden and Lewis Boat Yard on the sandspit. Since 1956 club members have met in the IDESST Hall on Caledonia Street.

The barge was used to haul ammunition at Mare Island during World War II. It was acquired by the Petaluma and Santa Rosa railroad in 1950 and used for several years to carry grain up and down the Petaluma River. The railroad built the deck house to protect the grain.

Later the barge was leased to the Berkeley Transportation Co. for a time and used between San Francisco and Oakland and other points.

Then, for nine months in 1959, it was a children's concession in San Francisco near Fisherman's Wharf containing the Biblical animals of Noah. This venture apparently failed financially and the barge was returned to Petaluma where the cruising club discovered it and bought it for $500.

SEEKS HOME

It is 111 by 31 feet and has a deck house. It draws two feet of water. Club commodore Newton B. McCarthy said the club hopes to find a permanent home for the barge in the lagoon at the foot of Bee Street.

A four-foot model of the barge as it will appear when remodeled has been built by Russell H. Papenhausen of Sausalito, a former commodore. Plans call for a dining and dancing hall with glassed walls, a galley and a bar. There are to be two sun decks forward and floats built outboard on three sides to tie up boats.

Novato High Seniors Name Valedictorian For Class

Dannelle Smith, 17, has been named valedictorian of the Novato High School graduating class.

She has the highest grade average of the 130 graduating seniors, at 3.89 out of a possible four for a perfect "A" record.

She plans to attend Dominican College and major in science.

Miss Smith has been president of the school Language Club, Girls League and California Scholarship Federation. She has been a member of the Pom Pom Girls Booster Group and held office in the Girls Athletic Assn. and Pep Club.

She is a daughter of Mrs. Anita Smith of Novato and Dann L. Smith.

Construction Slated Today On Novato Water Pipeline

Contractors today were to begin boring under Highway 101 just north of Novato as part of pipeline construction for the North Marin Water District.

Pipe which will bring Russion River water to the Novato area will be laid beginning June 1, crossing under the highway near Petaluma and crossing it again near Atherton Avenue. The line is expected to be completed next winter.

Directors of the water district last night approved a temporary extension of service to the Novato Little League field. The district will supply the connection; the Little League will supply some 1,000 feet of pipe.

Runaway Car Whips Into Five Others

A freak, chain-reaction accident last night wrecked six cars and sent a Larkspur mechanic to the hospital.

Thomas Wallen, 22, mechanic for the Larkspur Garage who lives at 134 Morningside Avenue, Mill Valley, was sitting on the fender of an automobile working on the engine at 7:20 p.m., when the car started, threw him to the ground and ran over him.

The runaway car, a 1957 Cadillac owned by J. E. Warren of 2130 Redwood Highway, crashed into five other parked cars before it stopped on the frontage road in front of the Larkspur Trailer Court.

Warren was reported suffering from a broken left arm by Marin General Hospital attendants today.

County Hospital Panel On KTIM

"What is Marin County's obligation with regard to the county hospital and farm?" will be discussed from 9 to 10 a.m. tomorrow on the radio KTIM "Sounding Board" program, moderated by Kitty Oppenheimer.

Panelists will be Dr. Bruce Merrill, chairman of hospital committee of the Marin Council for Civic Affairs; George Banning of the firm of Crawford and Banning, architects, who have been appointed by the board of supervisors to work out plans for the county hospital; Leon A. de Lisle, county auditor, and Dr. Dr. Calvin Plumhoff, member of the Marin Medical Society and head of its county hospital committee.

Questions telephoned during the broadcast will be directed to the panel members. The program will be repeated from a recording Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

Sailing Ship Sinks —Six Feared Lost

MIAMI (UPI) — A two-masted sailing ship being used as a floating classroom for high school boys sank in a violent windstorm yesterday with the probable loss of six lives, the Coast Guard said today.

The vessel was identified as the 93-ton Brigantine Albatross owned by Oceans Academy of Darien, Conn.

A passing motor vessel, the Grand Rio, picked up 13 survivors of the 19 passengers and crew.

PLANES HUNT

The captain of the Albatross, Christopher B. Sheldon, reported by telephone from the Grand Rio that there was "no probability of additional survivors," the Coast Guard said. However, two Coast Guard planes from St. Petersburg were searching the area of the Gulf of Mexico where the Albatross sank.

The sinking took place 125 mlies west of the dry tortugas about 9 a.m. Tuesday, the Coast Guard said.

Sheldon said the Albatross "went down in less than a minute" after it began taking on water.

The names of the persons aboard the vessel could not be learned immediately. The Coast Guard said they were of American and Canadian nationality although the Albatross was registered in Panama.

Dick Langford, a professor of English at Stetson University, Deland, Fla., who had planned a trip aboard the Albatross, described the vessel last fall as a floating "campus and classroom" offering courses in biology, Spanish, English, mathematics and navigation to teenage students of the 10th and 11th grades.

SURVIVORS

The Coast Guard said the Albatross was en route from Progresso, Mexico, to Nassau, Bahamas, when it went down.

The Grand Rio was taking the survivors of the sinking to Tampa, Fla., where it was expected to dock about 7 a.m. tomorrow, the Coast Guard said.

Many of the young students aboard the vessel were reported to be from prominent families.

Money Trouble Bobs Up Again In Mill Valley

Mill Valley Treasurer William G. Rutherford was having money troubles again today—there wasn't enough.

Vice Mayor George Blackwell, in the absence of Mayor Robert D. Huber in Los Angeles on business, called a "workshop session" of the council for noon at the city hall. The meeting was called, Blackwell said, after he learned that Rutherford was to ask the council at its regular meeting tonight for approval of two outstanding warrants. The matter was taken off the agenda yesterday afternoon on Blackwell's request, but Rutherford told the Independent-Journal today he still plans to ask approval of the warrants.

According to City Manager A. E. Almcrants, the treasurer's $1,200 annual expense budget has been overspent by $713.36. Almcrants said he cannot approve the warrants, which are for $60 to Harry Auduchon for accounting services and $21 to Mrs. Mary A. Scarlett for secretarial services.

Also, Rutherford would like to have his expenses paid for a recent trip to Sacramento to attend a treasurers' conference and for extra secretarial help.

Rutherford met with former treasurer E. H. Daniel this morning.

Rutherford receives $300 a month salary, an increase of $125 a month over Daniel's salary when he retired in April of 1960. The $1,200 expense budget is additional.

School Planning Art Festival

A spring art festival will be staged from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. tomorrow by the art department of Santa Venetia Junior High School.

The exhibit, in the school's multi-purpose room, will be patterned after French outdoor art shows, said Bruce Pinegar, art instructor. A string quartet will play and refreshment will be served while visitors view the displays.

The work of each of 10 outstanding students will be displayed under its own canopy, Pinegar said. The 10 are Bill Ayers, Debbie Adams, Dennis Camgros, Dean Toll, Tim Garvin, Janet Fernandez, Carl Loeber, Dale Berg, Laura Buton and Damon Pennington.

Sausalito Teen Party Called No 'Beer Bust'

Mrs. Carl G. Wooley of Sausalito told Sausalito Police Chief Howard Goerndt yesterday that a party at the Wooley home Saturday night was "not a beer bust but an open house to which about 40-50 people had been invited."

"There were specific instructions that there would be no drinking," she said.

Seven teen-agers, one a minor, were taken into custody by police outside the house. Six of them are to appear at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow in San Rafael Municipal Court on charges including possession of alcoholic beverages by a minor, resisting arrest and being drunk in a public place.

Mrs. Wooley told police that not one of 16 youngsters taken to the police station Saturday had been invited to the party.

Sanity Testimony In Arson Trial

Bearded bongo-drummer Victor Andrew Gipson, 27, accused of setting fire to his own home in Tamalpais Valley last March, is scheduled to appear in Marin Superior Court next Monday to hear what two psychiatrists have to say about him.

An arson trial for Gipson, originally scheduled to start today, was postponed while Dr. Bernard L. Diamond of Ross and Dr. Theo K. Miller of Napa State Hospital examine him to determine his sanity.

Sheriff's deputies and firemen said they found Gipson watching his home burn at 363 Pinehill Road on March 19. Throughout his court arraignment and preliminary hearing, Gipson has flatly refused to have the services of the public defender or any other attorney.

$140 Hi-Fi Set Stolen From Marinwood Home

A high-fidelity set worth $140 vanished from a Marinwood home, the owner has reported to sheriff's deputies.

Stanley R. Klopstock, 50, a managing analyst who lives at 450 Pinewood Drive, told officers the set is missing from the living room. He does not know exactly when the theft occurred

San Jose-Novato Schools Merger Opinions Asked

Members of the Loma Verde Homeowners Assn. have been asked to write to the Marin Committee on School District Organiation to give their opinions on merger of San Jose and Novato Unified School Districts.

About 45 members of the association Monday heard an explanation of various aspects of unification, annexation and boundary change of the two districts from Edwin L. Blackmore, administrative assistant to superintendent of schools.

Association members were asked by officers of the group to write their opinions to the county committee, now studying unification. The next meeting of the committee will be May 10 at Pacheco school in the San Jose District.

A 'Hot' Invention Sends Music Into Every Room Of Your House

Register-Music, a new patented invention that sends sound through the furnace ducts to every room in a home, office or commercial building, is under exclusive Bay Area franchise to Marin Specialty Sales of San Anselmo. The firm has appointed L. C. Smith Building Supplies, 427 Irwin Street, San Rafael as Marin County sub-distributor.

The Smith Co. in turn has named New Mission Heating and Ventilating Co. of San Rafael to work with them in its merchandising.

The unit is installed in the dome of the furnace is is said to be impervious to heat and condensation. Range and tonal quality are produced by a specially designed transducer.

Demonstration models at L. C. Smith Co. and at the model home in Marinwood Estates.

TWO NEW Jaguar sports cars capable, in standard production form, of speeds of 150 miles per hour will be given their first public showing in Marin County next Saturday and Sunday, May 6 and 7, at E. F. Sweeney British Cars, 523 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael.

These are the XK-E roadster and coupe with extremely low drag characteristics— probably two of the fastest, production sports cars ever offered for public sale. Twin overhead camshaft engines develop 265 horsepower at 5,500 r.p.m. Bucket seats—naturally.

A GAIN of 31 per cent in resources has been registered by the four Marin savings and loan associations for the 12-month period that ended March 31.

Assets of the local savings institutions now total almost $66,000,000, a jump of better than 15 million dollars since a year ago.

Current resources listed are: Ross Valley Savings, San Anselmo, $14,592,462; Marin County Savings, San Rafael, $19,321,753; Northwestern Savings, San Rafael and Mill Valley, $26,144,730; Homestead Savings, Sausalito, $5,900,098.

NEW S&H Green Stamp Catalogs are now available at Marin County business firms that offer the trading stamps to purchasers, according to Jake Ventrello, local sales representative of the Sperry and Hutchinson Co.

AWAY from local problems in Marin this week is Daniel F. Deedy, executive manager of the Marin County Real Estate Board. He has been appointed to serve on the faculty of the 18th annual Seminar of Real Estate Board Administration in Chicago . . . Sales manager Donald R. Collins of Stenstrom Buick, San Rafael has won Royal Purple Salesmaster standing among Buick salesmen for 1960—his award is a diamond-mounted gold pin . . . Roy Gibbons, 65 Summit Avenue, Mill Valley has withdrawn from partnership in the Top Hat Market, Mill Valley, leaving it in the hands of his partners Olen Bartlett and Albert Gondolla . . . William S. Dennis, 40 Gustafson Court, Novato has just completed a 49-week professional insurance course provided by his firm.

DONALD L. WALLING, an assistant manager for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. in San Rafael district has been promoted to the position of field training supervisor. From now on he'll be working out of the head office in San Francisco, with duties taking him throughout the eight Western States.

U.S. Chamber Approves Laws On Antitrust

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Chamber of Commerce today officially declared full support for the antitrust laws, repudiated violations like the elecrical price-rigging conspiracy, and added an unofficial postscript: Labor should be brought under the same restraint.

The unusual "statement on business ethics" was approved by the chamber's 62-member Board of Directors, at a closed meeting late yesterday. It was scheduled for presentation at today's final business meeting of the 3,000 delegates attending the chamber's annual meeting here.

The postscript was added by retiring President Arthur H. Motley. He did it in a letter to Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges, who had expressed hope the chamber would take leadership in formulating a code of ethics for industry.

Motley advised Hodges of the directors' action, but added the warning that antitrust laws "should never be used as instrumentalities for extending forms of government regulation of business, or for the harassment of business."

"Too, it is of overriding importance to recognize that there are many forms of monopolistic and other improper practices by labor organizations which are not subject to restraints or remedies under antitrust laws," Motley said.

"The serious consequences to the economy of such practices emphasize the need to subject them to appropriate legal controls to protect the public interest."

Suspect Pleads

Gerald Paul Wills, 26, of Eureka, yesterday pleaded guilty to a charge of second degree burglary of Francisco Sales at 637 Francisco Boulevard on April 15.

Judge Harold J. Haley, sitting for Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. in Marin Superior Court, set May 22 for sentencing Wills.

'Power For Peace' Is Forces Week Theme

"Power for Peace" is the theme this year for Armed Forces Day and Armed Forces Week at Hamilton Air Force Base, May 13-21, it was announced today by Col. Reed P. Smith, deputy commander of the 78th Fighter Wing and project officer for the event.

Armed Forces Day open house will be held from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. May 21.

Last year approximately 20,000 people visited Hamilton Air Force Base for open house, Smith said. This year there will be more than 35 displays and demonstrations in the base operations hangar showing the latest air defense weapons.

One of the few remaining places where bald eagles persist in numbers is Everglades National Park in Florida.

WYATT EARP NEVER LOST A HORSE . . .!

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Deputy U. S. Marshal Jesse W. Grider, who has arrested dozens of car thieves, wants to catch at least one more.

He is interested in the one who took his official car and let him in for a lot of kidding around the office—and at home.

His wife's comment: "Wyatt Earp wouldn't let anybody steal his horse."

Udall Decision Almost Lost Brother Election

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Democrat Morris K. Udall, winner in one of Arizona's closest congressional elections, today prepared to follow the footsteps of his older brother to Washington.

But he said a recent unpopular announcement by his brother almost cost him the victory.

Udall, 38, a Tucson attorney, nosed out Republican Mac C. Matheson by about 2,000 votes in nearly complete unofficial returns from yesterday's special election in the Second District.

As interior secretary, Stewart recently announced settlement of a long-standing dispute over farmers squatting on federal lands along the Colorado River in Yuma County. The ruling was that the farmers must evacuate the lands.

MONEY TO BURN—Cold cash gets a warm look from Jim Urquhart, who plays a baffled tax agent in Ross Valley Players' "Janus" at the Marin Art and Garden Center, Ross. Barbara Morrisey is featured in the comedy as an authoress who hides her royalties in the stove and her male collaborator from her husband. The play runs this weekend and next, curtain time 8:30 p.m.

ROSS VALLEY COMEDY

'Janus' Is A Slow Starter, But Racy Entertainment

"Janus," which the Ross Valley Players presented to capacity audiences in the Barn of the Marin Art and Garden Center last weekend, will be repeated tomorrow, Friday and Saturday and May 12 and 13, with curtain time 8:30 p.m.

A situation comedy by Carolyn Green, "Janus" plots a two-faced situation and stars Barbara Morrisey.

Although the first act was a bit slow (a fault of the playwright, not the players), it quickly speeded up to one of the most entertaining shows of the season.

Barbara Morrisey is excellent, beautiful and convincing as Jess, the housewife who finds that happiness can lie in more realms than at home in Seattle.

Her writing collaborator, Denny, disarmingly played by Fred Brylka, sees to it that she is appreciated more as a woman than as an authoress. His performance convinced this writer that no one could blame Jess.

Jess's husband Gil, who barges in, surprising the two writers, is played by Roland Irving, who supplies the show with excellent and sparkling comedy delivery. Gil is more upset by the income tax problem than by his wife's extracurricular actions. The collector of this revenue is played by Jim Urquhart, who deservedly received exit applause for beautifully underplaying the precise tax collector.

Miss Addy, played by Jean Irving, is the money-loving literary agent who publishes the "lusty busty" novels written by Gil and Jess.

Naturally no review is complete without a word about the director, and John Brebner's talent last weekend showed itself to be exceptional. "Janus" could not possibly be as entertaining if Brebner had not produced the best possible performance from his actors and crew.

"Janus" provides a two-headed success as an evening's entertainment and as good theater.—ADELE DEETHS

Fairfax Given Recreation Proposal

Residents of Claus Circle last night presented a plan for development of the circle to the Fairfax Park and Recreation Commission.

A. Nelson Gamas of 2 Claus Circle pledge support of the residents in maintaining the circle if their plan for a park of ivy, trees, shrubs and flagstone walkways is approved.

Members of the Fairfax City Council attended the meeting, at the invitation of the recreation commissioners. Mayor Kenneth M. Edgar said today that nothing specific was discussed. The commission primarily wanted councilmen to watch it operate and to answer questions the commissioners might have, the mayor said.

The commissioners discussed the need for the city to protect its park properties from encroachment and decided efforts should be made to establish legal protection for the park areas to save them for the future.

The Fairfax Little League is now in full operation under the leadership of president Peter Forney, the commission was told.

Advisory Group Named For New Blood Center

A citizens advisory committee has been established to help obtain donors for the new Marin Blood Center which opened Monday at 506 Fourth Street, San Rafael, operated by the Irwin Memorial Blood Bank of the San Francisco Medical Society.

Heading the committee are co-chairman Thomas Faraday of San Rafael and Mrs. Robert Bramman of Marinwood.

Knew About, But Opposed Fixing: Paxton

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Retiring President Robert Paxton of General Electric Co., testified today that he discovered price-fixing in G.E. at the height of the depression and violently opposed it.

Paxton, now on leave of absence from the top G.E. post, told Senate investigators he was an enemy of price-fixing during his 36-year career with the firm. He will retire this month for poor health.

FOUND OUT

He said he found out about the price-fixing when he was a young G.E. engineer. He said that later, in the late 1940s, men serving under him had disobeyed his firm instructions not to meet with competitors to agree on prices for electrical equipment.

The Scotland-born executive, responding quickly and precisely to questions asked by the Senate Anti-trust Subcommittee, whipped out a pencil when asked to calculate his salary last year.

"The figure I come up with is roughly $330,000," he replied.

Paxton said he first found out about price-fixing in the 1930s when sent on a 3,000-mile trip to the west coast to help sell switch gear.

Paxton said he came back to Philadelphia disappointed that he had not sold the expected quantity. But he said disappointment quickly turned to outrage when the sales manager, Robert F. Tinnerholm, told him he wasn't expected to sell a big order.

'A WINK'

"And he winked at me," Paxton recalled.

Tinnerholm's wink, he said, made him understand that "the cards had been stacked against me," that G.E. had agreed with competitors not to bid low for the business.

"I told him," Paxton recalled, "that I would never have anything to do with such monkey business. It was an outrage to send a G.E. salesman out to go through the motions.

"I didn't like it then and I don't like it now."

Eye Pencil Maker Takes Away Shadow

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The nation's largest manufacturer of cosmetic eye pencils has voluntarily stopped using certain coal tar colors, the U.S. Food and Drug Administration said today.

Jensen's Inc. of Shelbyville, Tenn., has notified the FDA that it has removed the colors from its plant. The firm has also asked its wholesale customers to withdraw from trade channels immediately all eye brow and eye liner crayons containing the colors.

During the past few weeks, the FDA has seized several lots of eye pencils containing various colors not authorized for use in the area of the eye.

Several cosmetic firms have already recalled their outstanding stocks of eye makeup containing such colors.

Axel Jensen, president of the Shelbyville firm, wrote to FDA commissioner George P. Larrick: "We will cooperate in correcting this problem as quickly as possible but wish to assure you that every effort is being made at our plant to remove any possibilities of a reoccurence of this situation."

Library Closes For Six Weeks

While the San Anselmo Library is closed for remodeling, patrons can use the Marin County Library or the San Rafael Public Library for a small fee, Virginia Stewart, San Anselmo librarian said today.

The San Anselmo Library closed Monday and will be closed for approximately six weeks.

The county library or its branches can be used for $1.25 for a three months membership. The San Rafael Public Library requires a $5 yearly non-resident membership. However, a refund will be made when the card is turned back, of all except 50 cents for each month the card was used.

Sad Visit For Queen

ROME (UPI)—Queen Elizabeth II today visited a quiet little cemetery almost in the heart of Rome which contains the bodies of 426 British and Commonwealth soldiers who died during World War II on Italian soil.

The Queen, accompanied by Prince Philip, placed a wreath of red carnations on the tomb of one unknown soldier.

KISSING COSTS SWAIN THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A young man argued that when he kissed a girl while driving she "assumed the risks, if any there were," for a subsequent accident.

Sanford Wagner, 19, admitted the kiss — he said there had been several—but denied he and Loretta Ann Petite, 20, had been drinking or that the kissing constituted negligent driving.

The Circuit Court jury yesterday disagreed with Wagner's theory and awarded Miss Petite $7,200 damages for lacerations of the face and head and her father, Joseph, $2,600 punitive damages.

Assistant Curator Named For Marin Junior Museum

George S. Raddue III of San Anselmo was appointed assistant curator of the Junior Museum of Marin last night by the museum senior board, president David Plant of Ross announced.

He will become director of the museum when the acting director, Mrs. Diane Williams, retires in July.

Raddue, 30, attended College of Marin, Sierra College in Auburn and San Francisco State College. He has taught geology and lapidary at Randall Junior Museum of the San Francisco Recreation and Parks Department. He has had academic training in earth and social sciences.

The museum board also heard good news from its treasurer, P. F. Kendall of San Anselmo. He reported the overall museum debt was reduced $3,355.63 during April.

A fund-raising program now under way is aimed at reducing the balance of the remaining $10,000 debt by June, Plant said. The museum will conclude fund-raising activities with an open house June 9.

Sausalito Council Asked To Curb Pressing Marin Vista Point Access

A Golden Gate Bridge District engineer asked the Sausalito City Council last night to go slow on pressing for a Marin access to Vista Point.

The district, said engineer Arthur Jenkins, is interested in widening the north end of the bridge and is negotiating with the Army for a 20-foot strip of federal land for that purpose. To push for Vista Point access now "would only complicate matters," he declared.

M. A. Graham, president of the bridge district, told the council he favored rapid transit using the bridge if it can be proved feasible from engineering and economic standpoints and "practical and necessary and in the public interest."

He said the bridge board is opposed to creation of a Golden Gate transportation commission to take over publicly owned toll bridges in the Bay Area because it would acquire the bridge district's 20 million dollars in reserves without a vote of the people.

Jenkins said a Vista Point access road under the bridge approach, would have to be a military road and two-laned, it would be costly to design, and traffic from the bridge northbound into Vista Point would conflict with traffic coming to the point from Marin.

"It won't be a state highway," he said, "so who will do the job and who will pay for it?"

Jenkins said he had never spoken to the Army about the matter. He also admitted, on questions from the council, that the district built the Sausalito lateral and connecting roads from the bridge to Park Presidio and the Marina in San Francisco. But he said these were not parallels to the proposed Vista Point access.

Mrs. Milton Kosmer, in the audience, asked Jenkins if there had been any thought to replacing the commute books with monthly or bi-monthly windshield stickers. Jenkins said this had been considered but it would be a problem because it would be a "permanent thing on the windshield."

Graham said, on leaving, he hoped the Vista Point access matter would be "corrected some time in the future; we have to deal with the Army engineers first."

The Sausalito council also:

1. Heard a letter from the Army Engineers addressed to James W. Halley, attorney for Ellis Lando of Lando Products Inc. saying that the engineers are not willing to grant a city road easement through federal property in Marinship.

2. Heard a letter from Clyde Kilian which listed 50 Sausalitans who use the Turney Street boat launching ramp. It had been suggested at a previous council meeting that the ramp was used only by out-of-town boaters.

SIGN REMOVED

3. Was told by City Manager Charles A. Brown that he has directed building inspector William L. Hynes to ask removal of a sign "Portofino Yacht Harbor and Golden Gate Yacht Sales" from the end of Main Street because it encroaches on city property.

4. Appointed Councilmen Haward Sievers and Marjorie Brady to study a master street lighting program for Sausalito following a report from Mark Jensen of Pacific Gas and Electric Co.

5. Adjourned to next Tuesday.

State Pharmacist Decline Slightly

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The number of registered pharmacists in California has declined slightly in the past year.

A recent count by the State Department of Professional and Vocational Standards set the present figure at 20,524. At the same time last year, it was 20,565.

MUSCULAR MICK AND MOOSE—Yankees' power hitters Bill "Moose" Skowron (left) and Mickey Mantle wear smiles after their homers downed the Minnesota Twins 6-4 yesterday. Marin Catholic Upsets Drake, 4-3

Coach Harry Moore's scrappy Marin Catholic Wildcats, who have been knocking on the door of a major upset all season, turned the trick yesterday with a 4-3 victory over Drake that knocked the defending champion Pirates reeling out of first place in the Marin Athletic League baseball standings.

The opportunistic Wildcats capitalized on a comedy of errors by the Pirates' usually reliable infield and the clutch pitching of Bill Finn to hand Drake its second loss against as many wins. With games against co-leaders San Rafael Friday and Tax next Tuesday, Drake is under terrific pressure.

Nino Geminiani, considered by many as the finest pitcher in the county, was victim of Drake's defensive collapse yesterday. He pitched a three-hitter, striking out eight and walking five. But three consecutive errors in the third inning enabled Marin to rally for three runs. Finn opened with a walk, and then errors on balls hit by John Odetto, Joe Hebel and Ken Bowerman gave Marin its three runs.

The Wildcats scored the winning run in the top of the fourth when Frank Ubhause waited out a walk, Finn singled and an error of Jerry Smith's grounder sent Ubhause across the plate.

Drake, which scored first in the first inning on a triple by Mike Bresnan and a single by Jerry Ard, pecked away at the Wildcats with solo runs in the fourth and seventh innings. In the fourth Steve Anderson singled, Hamish Tyler was safe on an error and Lee Malcolm singled home Anderson.

In the seventh the Pirates got a real threat going when Ard was safe on an error and back-to-back singles by Vince Pallavicini and Bob Ingram loaded the bases with one out. Ard scored on an error of Anderson's grounder, but the Wildcats forced Pallavicini, the potential tying run, at the plate on a fielder's choice by Tyler and Finn got Malcolm to ground out for the final out.

Drake's star second baseman Larry Kline was declared through for the season as he suffered a broken shoulder last Friday in a game at Novato.

Leading Drake's hitting attack yesterday was Bresnan with two triples. Marin's Odetto had a double. Finn struck out six and walked only two.

Marathon! Bulldogs Top Giants In 10

Junior fireballer Jack Sovereign's spectacular relief pitching saved the San Rafael Bulldogs from upset yesterday as they went 10 innings to score an 8-4 victory over the Redwood Giants in the Marin Athletic League's longest game of the season. Sovereign came to the relief of starter Dennis Hall in the seventh inning as Redwood rallied to tie the favored Bulldogs at 4-4. From then through the bottom of the 10th big Jack tamed the Giants while striking out nine batters and walking only two.

San Rafael, fighting bitterly to stay in a tie with Tamalpais for the league lead, finally broke the game apart in the top of the 10th on three hits, an error, a passed ball and three walks.

WINNING RALLY

Tom Mork started the rally with a single, stole second and scored on another single by Mike Osborne. An error on a fielder's choice try sent Osborne to third and Ken Becker safe at first. Becker then stole second, after which a passed ball enabled Osborne to score. Becker was nailed at the plate on a fielder's choice off the bat of Jim Costello, but then Sovereign nailed one of relief pitcher Mike Cooney's pitches for a double that scored Costello with the third run. Consecutive walks to Gary Ledson, Rich Curry and Tom Williams resulted in the fourth run.

Even in defeat, Redwood showed its best batting performance of the year with Mark Pearce and Don Simon leading the way. Pearce had four singles in five at bats and Simon unloaded a home run and double for two runs batted in. Pearce drove in the tying run in the seventh inning, forcing the game into overtime.

WILLIAMS STARS

Tom Williams was the Bulldogs' big gun as he drove across three runs. A pinch double by Ron Stirling resulted in two RBIs for San Rafael.

The Bulldogs should have been named "Pirates" yesterday for their daring base running accounted for nine stolen bases. Mork pilfered three sacks and Billy Roberts and Rich Curry two each.

Tam Batters Bomb Novatans By 14-4

Russ Adams' one-hit pitching and a booming 15-hit support of his teammates yesterday carried the Tamalpais Indians to a 14-4 rout of the Novato Hornets at Tam's diamond.

The win was Tam's fourth against one loss and kept the Indians on top of the Marin league standings with San Rafael.

Adams got off to a shaky start when Hornet Joe Colfer got to first on an error and the hard hitting Hornet catcher Lu Haas unloaded a home run for a 2-0 Novato lead.

However, except for a bit of wildness in the fourth when he walked three batters to give up two more runs, Adams was superb the rest of the way.

BATTING BARRAGE

Meanwhile, his mates were combing two Novato hurlers under a barrage of base hits, including three each by Chip Collins and Bill Hurley and two each by Steve Long and Henry Herr. Shortstop Bob Melbern with a walk and a single drove home three runs while Collins, the Indians' nifty leadoff man, and Dave Perlis each had two RBI. Collins, with a double had Tam's only extra base blow.

Warmath Bowl Coach

TUCSON, Ariz., (UPI)—Minnesota football coach Murray Warmath has been signed by officials of the All-American Bowl to coach the Major All-Stars for the Dec. 30 game.

Warmath, due to arrive here Dec. 26 to open drills, will try to extend the three-year win record of the Majors against the small college headliners.

Peck-Away Pirates Use Same Old Formula To Top League

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Okay, so they're not spectacular, but the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates sure are persistent and they're back on top again using last year's formula — pitching instead of power.

The peck-away Pirates are dead last in home runs in the National League with a meager total of seven. A team like the Giants hits more homers than that in one game.

But there's nothing wrong with the Pirates' pitching as southpaw Harvey Haddix plainly proved last night by shutting out the St. Louis Cardinals, 6-0, for Pittsburgh's fifth victory in the last six games.

It was a typical Pirate triumph. No home runs and only three extra base hits. One of those extra base hits, however, was a two-run double by Rocky Nelson that highlighted a three-run third inning. It was more than enough for Haddix and too much for Ernie Broglio, who went down to his third defeat as against a single victory.

Pittsburgh thus took over first place from San Francisco, which lost to Chicago, 9-4. Los Angeles out-lasted Milwaukee, 11-9, and Cincinnati ran its winning streak to three games with a 3-2 decision over Philadelphia.

Detroit held on to the American League lead with a 6-3 win over Washington, while New York remained a game off the pace with a 10-inning 6-4 triumph over Minnesota. Baltimore edged Los Angeles, 7-6, Cleveland nipped Chicago, 3-2, in 11 innings, and Kansas City defeated Boston, 7-4.

Don Cardwell won his third straight game for the Cubs by limiting the Giants to five hits, one of which was a two-run homer by Willie McCovey in the ninth. That gave the Giants 14 home runs in three consecutive games, equalling the major league record.

Cardwell, who pitched a no-hitter against the Phillies last year, held the Giants hitless until pinch hitter Harvey Kuenn singled with two out in the sixth. Bill Williams hit a grand-slam homer off loser Jack Sanford and George Altman also homered for the Cubs, who scored all their runs in the first two innings.

BRAVES WILD

The Dodgers won their game from the Braves with a six-run rally in the seventh inning. Five walks, an error and a wild pitch helped the Los Angeles rally. Frank Howard, Tommy Davis and John Roseboro each homered for the Dodgers. Rookie Jim Golden was the winner and Ken MacKenzie the loser.

Vada Pinson's homer touched off a three-run fourth inning rally that carried the Reds to their victory over the Phillies. Loser Dallas Green paved the way for his own defeat with a two-run throwing error. Rookie Ken Hunt was credited with his second victory. He gave up all six of the Phils' hits before Jim Brosnan took over in the ninth.

TIGERS WIN

Jim Bunning nailed down his first victory of the season for the Tigers although touched for 11 hits by the Senators. Norm Cash socked his fourth homer for Detroit and rookie Jake Wood contributed a pair of triples. Tom Sturdivant was the loser.

Mickey Mantle's grand-slam homer in the 10th inning broke up a tie between the Yankees and Twins. Mantle's eighth homer came off loser Camilo Pascual who nursed a 2-1 lead until Bill Skowron homered in the seventh. Harmon Killebrew hit his third homer for the losers. Jim Coates, who relieved starter Art Ditmar, was the winning pitcher.

'I'M THROUGH FOREVER'

Jensen Apologizes For Way He Left Red Sox

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Manager Mike Higgins of the Boston Red Sox plans to talk with Jackie Jensen again in a few days before accepting the outfielder's departure as final.

Jensen, 34, who left the club Saturday at Cleveland, said yesterday in Reno:

"I'm through with baseball forever. I just don't feel I can play major league baseball any more and I wasn't giving them their money's worth. I don't regret leaving baseball as an active player because I feel I can no longer be an asset to the game."

Jensen telephoned Higgins in Kansas City yesterday, apologized for the manner in which he left the club, and reiterated his determination to quit.

In Boston, Dick O'Connell, executive vice president of the Red Sox, said Jensen would be carried on the active list until May 10, the cutdown date, but "we don't expect him to come back."

Jensen didn't play last year, saying he wanted to spend more time with his family.

His effort at a comeback this season resulted in a dismal batting average of .130 in 12 games, with just one RBI.

Another Ex-USF Star, Gene Brown, Joins S.F. Saints

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Gene Brown, a star guard with the University of San Francisco basketball team, will perform for the San Francisco Saints of the American Basketball League next year.

Brown, 6-foot-3 playmaker, thus returns to play under Phil Woolpert who coached the Dons to a pair of NCAA championships. Brown also rejoins teammate Mike Farmer, who joined Brown for all three years at USF. The Dons lost only nine basketball games those three seasons.

Brown played with Seattle in the amateur National Industrial Basketball League after graduating from USF.

Tam, Redwood Swim Teams Set For Finals Saturday

Warming up for the Marin Athletic League's swimming and diving finals Saturday, the Tamalpais Indians yesterday swamped San Rafael's Bulldogs 73-22 in the league's final dual meet of the season.

It marked Tam's 24th consecutive league dual meet victory, dating back to the old North Bay League before Marin schools organized their own conference. The dual champion Tamites and runner-up Redwood Giants are expected to dominate the league finals Saturday at Tam. Redwood splashed to a 64-30 win over Drake yesterday in the other final dual contest, with Giant standouts Dick Chambers and Ken Frost again dominating their events.

Tam won 10 of the 12 events with San Rafael. Following are varsity first place winners: 400 free, Jack Taylor (T), 4:57.5; 50 free, Lou Yuvan (SR), 24.5; 100 butterfly, Bob Scott (T), 1:03.2; 200 free, Jack Martin (T), 2:10.7; 100 back, Jeff McCreary (T), 1:06.5; 100 free, Jack Mosher (T), 54.9; 100 breast, Steve Deutch (T), 1:14.1; 200 individual medley, Rick Snow (T), 2:29.5; diving, Jim Flanagan (SR); Tam won both relays.

Tam also won Class B, 51-35, with Steve Dazey winning the 50 free and 100 individual medley.

Redwood's Chambers, a record-breaker just about everywhere he swims, set a Drake pool record for the 400 free in 4 minutes, 20.1 seconds and also copped the 200 free in 2:02.0. Unbeaten Ken Frost won the 100 breast stroke, as usual. Drake's Tony Crossler set a school record in the 100 butterfly in 1:01.2, although he placed second to Redwood's Foster. Crossler also won the individual medley.

Drake won the Class B meet, 59-25 with Terry Politi winning two firsts—the backstroke and individual medley. Drake is the league's Class B champion.

7th Straight Win For Novato Golf

Coach Jerry Barnacle's Novato High School golf team breezed to its seventh straight Marin Athletic League victory yesterday with a 6-0 blanking of Marin Catholic at the Meadow Club.

Novato's steady Fred O'Bannon won his match 5 and 4 with a card of 40 for the nine holes. He fired a birdie and four pars to clinch the victory, then eased up over the final holes.

Cards of the other Novato victors: Bob Sparrow, 42; Barry Hachmyer and Bob McBride 44 each, Rob Schultz 46 and Al Walters 49.

26 Pros Eye $10,000 Top Vegas Prize

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Two of professional golf's hottest campaigners, Arnold Palmer and Gary Player, took aim today at one target they've missed—the $40,000 Tournament of Champions' title.

And also here is the incomparable Sam Snead, who has taken three shots at the $10,000 top booty and never come close.

The three are among the 26 pros who tee off tomorrow in the ninth annual classic of the cactus country—72 holes over the par 36-36—72 Desert Inn Country Club course.

Each of the 26 has won a major PGA-sanctioned event during the past 12 months, else they would not be eligible to compete here.

Starting in 1956, the best Palmer has done is a tie for fifth place, achieved last year.

Player, South Africa's winner of the 1961 Masters over Arnold, wound up in 22nd place in 1959 and 1960.

With the exception of one, the winner each year is back again for another crack at the rich purse.

A 'Hot' Invention Sends Music Into Every Room Of Your House

Register-Music, a new patented invention that sends sound through the furnace ducts to every room in a home, office or commercial building, is under exclusive Bay Area franchise to Marin Specialty Sales of San Anselmo. The firm has appointed L. C. Smith Building Supplies, 427 Irwin Street, San Rafael as Marin County sub-distributor.

The Smith Co. in turn has named New Mission Heating and Ventilating Co. of San Rafael to work with them in its merchandising.

The unit is installed in the dome of the furnace is is said to be impervious to heat and condensation. Range and tonal quality are produced by a specially designed transducer.

Demonstration models at L. C. Smith Co. and at the model home in Marinwood Estates.

TWO NEW Jaguar sports cars capable, in standard production form, of speeds of 150 miles per hour will be given their first public showing in Marin County next Saturday and Sunday, May 6 and 7, at E. F. Sweeney British Cars, 523 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael.

These are the XK-E roadster and coupe with extremely low drag characteristics— probably two of the fastest production sports cars ever offered for public sale. Twin overhead camshaft engines develop 265 horsepower at 5,500 r.p.m. Bucket seats—naturally.

A GAIN of 31 per cent in resources has been registered by the four Marin savings and loan associations for the 12-month period that ended March 31.

Assets of the local savings institutions now total almost $66,000,000, a jump of better than 15 million dollars since a year ago.

Current resources listed are: Ross Valley Savings, San Anselmo, $14,592,462; Marin County Savings, San Rafael, $19,321,753; Northwestern Savings, San Rafael and Mill Valley, $26,144,730; Homestead Savings, Sausalito, $5,900,098.

NEW S&H Green Stamp Catalogs are now available at Marin County business firms that offer the trading stamps to purchasers, according to Jake Ventrello, local sales representative of the Sperry and Hutchinson Co.

AWAY from local problems in Marin this week is Daniel F. Deedy, executive manager of the Marin County Real Estate Board. He has been appointed to serve on the faculty of the 18th annual Seminar of Real Estate Board Administration in Chicago . . . Sales manager Donald R. Collins of Stenstrom Buick, San Rafael has won Royal Purple Salesmaster standing among Buick salesmen for 1960—his award is a diamond-mounted gold pin . . . Roy Gibbons, 65 Summit Avenue, Mill Valley has withdrawn from partnership in the Top Hat Market, Mill Valley, leaving it in the hands of his partners Olen Bartlett and Albert Gondolla . . . William S. Dennis, 40 Gustafson Court, Novato has just completed a 49-week professional insurance course provided by his firm.

DONALD L. WALLING, an assistant manager for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. in San Rafael district has been promoted to the position of field training supervisor. From now on he'll be working out of the head office in San Francisco, with duties taking him throughout the eight Western States.

U.S. Chamber Approves Laws On Antitrust

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Chamber of Commerce today officially declared full support for the antitrust laws, repudiated violations like the elecrical price-rigging conspiracy, and added an unofficial postscript: Labor should be brought under the same restraint.

The unusual "statement on business ethics" was approved by the chamber's 62-member Board of Directors, at a closed meeting late yesterday. It was scheduled for presentation at today's final business meeting of the 3,000 delegates attending the chamber's annual meeting here.

The postscript was added by retiring President Arthur H. Motley. He did it in a letter to Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges, who had expressed hope the chamber would take leadership in formulating a code of ethics for industry.

Motley advised Hodges of the directors' action, but added the warning that antitrust laws "should never be used as instrumentalities for extending forms of government regulation of business, or for the harassment of business."

"Too, it is of overriding importance to recognize that there are many forms of monopolistic and other improper practices by labor organizations which are not subject to restraints or remedies under antitrust laws," Motley said.

"The serious consequences to the economy of such practices emphasize the need to subject them to appropriate legal controls to protect the public interest."

'Power For Peace' Is Forces Week Theme

"Power for Peace" is the theme this year for Armed Forces Day and Armed Forces Week at Hamilton Air Force Base, May 13-21, it was announced today by Col. Reed P. Smith, deputy commander of the 78th Fighter Wing and project officer for the event.

Armed Forces Day open house will be held from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. May 21.

Last year approximately 20,000 people visited Hamilton Air Force Base for open house, Smith said. This year there will be more than 35 displays and demonstrations in the base operations hangar showing the latest air defense weapons.

One of the few remaining places where bald eagles persist in numbers is Everglades National Park in Florida.

His wife's comment: "Wyatt Earp wouldn't let anybody steal his horse."

Udall Decision Almost Lost Brother Election

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Democrat Morris K. Udall, winner in one of Arizona's closest congressional elections, today prepared to follow the footsteps of his older brother to Washington.

But he said a recent unpopular announcement by his brother almost cost him the victory.

Udall, 38, a Tucson attorney, nosed out Republican Mac C. Matheson by about 2,000 votes in nearly complete unofficial returns from yesterday's special election in the Second District.

As interior secretary, Stewart recently announced settlement of a long-standing dispute over farmers squatting on federal lands along the Colorado River in Yuma County. The ruling was that the farmers must evacuate the lands.

TV Cameramen, Sportscasters Did A Superb Job Of Giant-L.A. Tilts

CONNOLLY

We could understand, perhaps, forgive and forget, a bad TV baseball presentation because there are so many obvious difficulties in bringing baseball to the screen.

It takes a bit of "know how" even with a wide angle lens to hold baseball action within its frame. The ball is constantly in flight and illusive to a camera. In other sports action, for the most part, is centered in one spot.

But I saw two Giants-Dodger games on TV the other night and so help me, the TV cameras completely surrounded the action on the field, in the air and particularly the facial expressions of the pitchers.

All the bad features of TV broadcasting seemed eliminated. Even the sportscasters, some of whom sound like a babbling baboon when a rally starts, were absent in the Giant-Dodger series. I think Russ Hodges and Lon Simmons did a superb job, just as entertaining and just as authentic as their radio broadcasts have been for so many seasons. Salaams to Russ and Lon and their directors and engineers for the masterly manner in which they handled a very difficult situation.

Did you hold your breath during the ball games," I asked my Uncle Mike.

"NO," HE SAID. "I held my nose because I think televising games eventually will give the home town fans their fill of baseball and they won't want to go out to see the heroes when they come home."

Uncle Mike went on to explain that watching the TV for three and one-half hours made his eyes sore and his elbow limp.

While Uncle Mike's observations seemed cruel they reminded me of the pioneer days of radio in baseball.

BROADCASTING ball games originally was supposed to increase attendance. But some owners claimed it hurt the gate.

TV now faces the same obstacles of pioneer radio broadcasts of ball games.

I, for one, think TV-ing the Giants on the road will swell the gate, make new friends for the team and for the players and new customers for the club.

CERTAINLY those fans who have never seen Willie Mays, Harvey Kuenn, Filipe Alou and the rookies (Hiller, Haller, Bolin, Duffalo and Ed Fisher) will be anxious to see them in the flesh.

It only takes a nickel's worth of understanding of what goes on in the dugout, in the clubhouse and on the field to make a TV baseball fan a very devout cash customer.

And I certainly believe Owner Horace Stoneham of the Giants will never regret or forget the favor he did himself in permitting luke-warm baseball fans a chance to see the real thing "for nothing."

THE BASEBALL bug will bite everybody within a radius of 100 miles from Candlestick Park when the Giants start tearing down the homestretch, pennant-wise.

Recent H.R. Flurry Does Not Spell 'Rabbit Ball'

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—To hear the home run haullabaloo in the Major Leagues today you'd probably lay odds that every pitcher in the game was out shopping for a hari-kari knife.

Willie Mays sent the figure Philberts scurrying to the record book by swatting four in one game, in which there were a total of 10 balls walloped out of circulation. All in all there were 29 home runs during Sunday's festivities and you'd figure the deliverymen had to be in deep shock.

T'aint so.

Believe it or go check it up for yourself, but the home run hitters despite placards being toted by the horsehide spinners and twirlers union have been strangely somnolent to date this season. Just in case you've been figuring on screaming "rabbit ball," statistics prove production is off sharply in the belting of the big blast.

Toting up the same number of games as each team had played at a comparable period last year, the majors are exactly 39 round trippers behind their 1960 pace.

At this stage last year the American League had flogged 102 and the National League had belted 135 for a total of 237.

The figures this time are 85 for the Americans and 113 for the Nationals for a total of 198.

Add in the two new teams playing in the American League and you still have a deficit. The new Washington Senators have chipped in with 16 and the Los Angeles Angels with 13 for 29 which boosts the overall total to 227 — 10 short of the 16-team setup last year.

Mays' amazing production in Sunday's contest raised his total for the season to six at that stage while teammate Willie McCovey had authored four. Last year at the same stage, wondrous Willie had only one and McCovey had seven — but the Giants still were one ahead of their current total of 21.

The Los Angeles Dodgers currently are setting the major league home run pace with 27, sparked principally by Wally Moon's eight and Tommy Davis' five, as against 17 in a similar period last season. But every other club in the league is down.

Minnesota leads the American League with 15, as of yesterday, a minor deficit of two against last season, with Detroit up one at 14, Chicago up five on a total of 10 and Baltimore having stepped up production by three with its 13.

D'AMATO DECLARES:

Liston Not Included In Patterson's Plans

NEW YORK (AP)—Cus D'Amato today supplied the answer to Sonny Liston's one-man campaign for a heavyweight title bout with champion Floyd Patterson.

"Liston is not included in Patterson's plans at all," snapped D'Amato, chief of the Patterson advisory staff, "not at all."

That brings up the question of how much D'Amato has to say about Patterson's professional activity. After Floyd took care of Ingemar Johansson less than eight weeks ago, he proclaimed himself a free man.

"I'm making my own decisions from now on," he said then. "D'Amato will remain my manager, but I will make the decisions."

If D'Amato is talking for Patterson, Liston will not be the only hopeful who will remain on the outside looking in.

"Patterson will not fight anyone this year who has a future," thundered D'Amato.

This presumably would rule out the likes of Britain's Henry Cooper who also thought he was near the head of the line.

D'Amato hinted that the tax situation has something to do with his decision to sidestep the headliners this year. Patterson made almost $1,000,000 in his last defense against Johansson. If he fights again this year, the purse will go almost completely for taxes. D'Amato figures there is no use fighting a tough opponent for practically nothing.

A rumor made the rounds yesterday that Tom McNeeley of Boston, unbeaten in 23 bouts, would be Patterson's next opponent. Apparently he would qualify only if he didn't have a future.

"I really don't know him that well," said D'Amato. "I would have to investigate him. But if he has a future that would eliminate him. We have three opponents in mind for the September defense. All are Americans."

ABL To Arrange Schedule Today

CHICAGO (AP) — Acting Commissioner Abe Saperstein meets with coaches and owners of the new American Basketball League today to complete making schedules for the 1961-62 season.

Saperstein said the meeting would be routine, with the main item the drafting of a schedule.

Teams in the league are Chicago, San Francisco, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Washington, D. C., Kansas City, Los Angeles and Honolulu.

Crozier's Dazzling Speed Wins Kentucky Derby Trial

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Crozier set 15,000 customers to talking about his dazzling speed as he dashed the fastest mile in the history of ancient Churchill Downs.

A question mark all spring, the colt wore down California's Four-and-Twenty and bounced home in 1:34 3-5 yesterday to win the $16,850 Derby Trial Stakes and clip two-fifths second off the record set in 1954 when Hasty Road edged Determine, another California-owned colt.

Determine, a Kentucky horse who went west, came back to turn the tables on Hasty Road in the Kentucky Derby four days later.

Four-and-Twenty will be back with his stablemate, Flutterby, and could turn this 87th run for the roses into another Far Western parade. Both colts are from the Alberta Ranches, Ltd., of Calgary, Alberta.

Alabaman Fred W. Hooper is the owner-breeder of Crozier, and the colt's brilliant Derby Trial victory may have frightened away a few rivals. The entry box for Saturday's $125,000-added classic opens at 7 a.m. tomorrow and the guess is that from 12 to 15 horses may go.

It certainly didn't scare Jack Price, a retired Cleveland business man who trains Carry Back, probable favorite for the 1¼-mile Derby.

Price quickly pointed out that Carry Back had beaten Crozier three times in Florida. The colt skipped the Derby Trial.

It was the general opinion that Carry Back would go postward Saturday at 1:30 p.m., PDT—CBS television—the favorite at around 8 to 5. The final Caliente future book odds had him 3-1 co-favorite with Four-and-Twenty, who won the Santa Anita Derby.

Four-and-Twenty, beaten 3¼ lengths in yesterday's Derby trial, led most of the way until Crozier's late run in the stretch. Ethel D. Jacobs' Dr. Miller closed with a good burst to take third place. Nine started in the Trial, but it seems no more than the top three rate a return engagement.

Pender In Vegas, Possible Site Of Bout With Fullmer

LAS VEGAS (UPI)—Paul Pender, middleweight champion of Massachusetts, New York and Europe, started a second round of conferences today with two local promoters on the defense of his crown against NBA champion Gene Fullmer next fall.

Pender arrived here yesterday and immediately went into a huddle with promoters Jack Doyle and Mel Greb.

Pender said he would like to meet Fullmer "to settle the dispute over who is middleweight king. We fought before and he won a split decision in New York, but I think I can take him now."

Fullmer successfully defended his crown against Sugar Ray Robinson here earlier this year. Pender twice has beaten Robinson but has never fought in the West.

Palmer Nearing Player Who Has Won Most $$$$$

DUNEDIN, Fla (AP)— Money talks, goes the saying, and right now it's declaring loudly that Gary Player is the best professional golfer in the United States.

Even so, there's a slight echo coming back that Arnold Palmer of Ligonier, Pa., isn't going to let it stay that way long.

Player, who now hails from Langhorn, Pa., has competed in 15 tournaments so far this year and won three for a total of $46,036.58.

However, Palmer, who won more than $80,000 last year to set an all time record, is within hailing distance. His victory in the Texas Open last weekend pushed his earnings this season to $37,225.

Pro Tennis Finals

CLEVELAND (AP) — Pancho Gonzalez and Frank Sedgman meet tonight for the championship of the Cleveland professional tennis tournament.

81-Year-Old Golfer Wins Tournament

One of the winning partners of the Best Ball Twosome Tournament Sunday at the Mill Valley Golf Club was an 81-year-old lifetime member of the club.

He is Willie Rees of 162 Morning Sun, Mill Valley. His winning partner, Carl Rissman of 319 Lovell Avenue in Mill Valley, was confident enough as Rees came into the ninth hole only one over par, reported Keeler Nash of 43 Mirabel Avenue.

Nash and Bill Bevans of San Quentin tied for runner-up with twosome Bob Russell, 650 Oakdale, Corte Madera, and Gran Wyatt of 25 Rogue Moraes, Mill Valley.

This Sunday will be Club Professionals Day at the Mill Valley Golf Club, announced Nash.

San Mateo Team Off To Fast Start In ABC

DETROIT (AP)—The Bel Mateo Masters from San Mateo, Calif., started well in the American Bowling Congress tournament last night with 2994.

It will shoot its final three games tonight.

Brentwood Bowl of San Francisco leads the classic team division with 5,983.

MUSCULAR MICK AND MOOSE—Yankees' power hitters Bill "Moose" Skowron (left) and Mickey Mantle wear smiles after their homers downed the Minnesota Twins 6-4 yesterday. Skowron's homer gave the Yankees a tie and forced the game to the 10th inning, when Mantle took over with a grand slam. (AP Wirephoto)

Marin Catholic Upsets Drake, 4-3

Coach Harry Moore's scrappy Marin Catholic Wildcats, who have been knocking on the door of a major upset all season, turned the trick yesterday with a 4-3 victory over Drake that knocked the defending champion Pirates reeling out of first place in the Marin Athletic League baseball standings.

The opportunistic Wildcats capitalized on a comedy of errors by the Pirates' usually reliable infield and the clutch pitching of Bill Finn to hand Drake its second loss against as many wins. With games against co-leaders San Rafael Friday and Tax next Tuesday, Drake is under terrific pressure.

Nino Geminiani, cohsidered by many as the finest pitcher in the county, was victim of Drake's defensive collapse yesterday. He pitched a three-hitter, striking out eight and walking five. But three consecutive errors in the third inning enabled Marin to rally for three runs. Finn opened with a walk, and then errors on balls hit by John Odetto, Joe Hebel and Ken Bowerman gave Marin its three runs.

The Wildcats scored the winning run in the top of the fourth when Frank Ubhause waited out a walk, Finn singled and an error of Jerry Smith's grounder sent Ubhause across the plate.

Drake, which scored first in the first inning on a triple by Mike Bresnan and a single by Jerry Ard, pecked away at the Wildcats with solo runs in the fourth and seventh innings. In the fourth Steve Anderson singled, Hamish Tyler was safe on an error and Lee Malcolm singled home Anderson.

In the seventh the Pirates got a real threat going when Ard was safe on an error and back-to-back singles by Vince Pallavicini and Bob Ingram loaded the bases with one out. Ard scored on an error of Anderson's grounder, but the Wildcats forced Pallavicini, the potential tying run, at the plate on a fielder's choice by Tyler and Finn got Malcolm to ground out for the final out.

Drake's star second baseman Larry Kline was declared through for the season as he suffered a broken shoulder last Friday in a game at Novato.

Leading Drake's hitting attack yesterday was Bresnan with two triples. Marin's Odetto had a double. Finn struck out six and walked only two.

Marathon! Bulldogs Top Giants In 10

Junior fireballer Jack Sovereign's spectacular relief pitching saved the San Rafael Bulldogs from upset yesterday as they went 10 innings to score an 8-4 victory over the Redwood Giants in the Marin Athletic League's longest game of the season. Sovereign came to the relief of starter Dennis Hall in the seventh inning as Redwood rallied to tie the favored Bulldogs at 4-4. From then through the bottom of the 10th big Jack tamed the Giants while striking out nine batters and walking only two.

San Rafael, fighting bitterly to stay in a tie with Tamalpais for the league lead, finally broke the game apart in the top of the 10th on three hits, an error, a passed ball and three walks.

WINNING RALLY

Tom Mork started the rally with a single, stole second and scored on another single by Mike Osborne. An error on a fielder's choice try sent Osborne to third and Ken Becker safe at first. Becker then stole second, after which a passed ball enabled Osborne to score. Becker was nailed at the plate on a fielder's choice off the bat of Jim Costello, but then Sovereign nailed one of relief pitcher Mike Cooney's pitches for a double that scored Costello with the third run. Consecutive walks to Gary Ledson, Rich Curry and Tom Williams resulted in the fourth run.

Even in defeat, Redwood showed its best batting performance of the year with Mark Pearce and Don Simon leading the way. Pearce had four singles in five at bats and Simon unloaded a home run and double for two runs batted in. Pearce drove in the tying run in the seventh inning, forcing the game into overtime.

WILLIAMS STARS

Tom Williams was the Bulldogs' big gun as he drove across three runs. A pinch double by Ron Stirling resulted in two RBIs for San Rafael.

The Bulldogs should have been named "Pirates" yesterday for their daring base running accounted for nine stolen bases. Mork pilfered three sacks and Billy Roberts and Rich Curry two each.

Tam Batters Bomb Novatans By 14-4

Russ Adams' one-hit pitching and a booming 15-hit support of his teammates yesterday carried the Tamalpais Indians to a 14-4 rout of the Novato Hornets at Tam's diamond.

The win was Tam's fourth against one loss and kept the Indians on top of the Marin league standings with San Rafael.

Adams got off to a shaky start when Hornet Joe Colfer got to first on an error and the hard hitting Hornet catcher Lu Haas unloaded a home run for a 2-0 Novato lead.

However, except for a bit of wildness in the fourth when he walked three batters to give up two more runs, Adams was superb the rest of the way.

BATTING BARRAGE

Meanwhile, his mates were combing two Novato hurlers under a barrage of base hits, including three each by Chip Collins and Bill Hurley and two each by Steve Long and Henry Herr. Shortstop Bob Melbern with a walk and a single drove home three runs while Collins, the Indians' nifty leadoff man, and Dave Perlis each had two RBI. Collins, with a double had Tam's only extra base blow.

Warmath Bowl Coach

TUCSON, Ariz., (UPI)—Minnesota football coach Murray Warmath has been signed by officials of the All-American Bowl to coach the Major All-Stars for the Dec. 30 game.

Warmath, due to arrive here Dec. 26 to open drills, will try to extend the three-year win record of the Majors against the small college headliners.

Peck-Away Pirates Use Same Old Formula To Top League

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Okay, so they're not spectacular, but the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates sure are persistent and they're back on top again using last year's formula — pitching instead of power.

The peck-away Pirates are dead last in home runs in the National League with a meager total of seven. A team like the Giants hits more homers than that in one game.

But there's nothing wrong with the Pirates' pitching as southpaw Harvey Haddix plainly proved last night by shutting out the St. Louis Cardinals, 6-0, for Pittsburgh's fifth victory in the last six games.

It was a typical Pirate triumph. No home runs and only three extra base hits. One of those extra base hits, however, was a two-run double by Rocky Nelson that highlighted a three-run third inning. It was more than enough for Haddix and too much for Ernie Broglio, who went down to his third defeat as against a single victory.

Pittsburgh thus took over first place from San Francisco, which lost to Chicago, 9-4. Los Angeles out-lasted Milwaukee, 11-9, and Cincinnati ran its winning streak to three games with a 3-2 decision over Philadelphia.

Detroit held on to the American League lead with a 6-3 win over Washington, while New York remained a game off the pace with a 10-inning 6-4 triumph over Minnesota. Baltimore edged Los Angeles, 7-6, Cleveland nipped Chicago, 3-2, in 11 innings, and Kansas City defeated Boston, 7-4.

Don Cardwell won his third straight game for the Cubs by limiting the Giants to five hits, one of which was a two-run homer by Willie McCovey in the ninth. That gave the Giants 14 home runs in three consecutive games, equalling the major league record.

Cardwell, who pitched a no-hitter against the Phillies last year, held the Giants hitless until pinch hitter Harvey Kuenn singled with two out in the sixth. Bill Williams hit a grand-slam homer off loser Jack Sanford and George Altman also homered for the Cubs, who scored all their runs in the first two innings.

BRAVES WILD

The Dodgers won their game from the Braves with a six-run rally in the seventh inning. Five walks, an error and a wild pitch helped the Los Angeles rally. Frank Howard, Tommy Davis and John Roseboro each homered for the Dodgers. Rookie Jim Golden was the winner and Ken MacKenzie the loser.

Vada Pinson's homer touched off a three-run fourth inning rally that carried the Reds to their victory over the Phillies. Loser Dallas Green paved the way for his own defeat with a two-run throwing error. Rookie Ken Hunt was credited with his second victory. He gave up all six of the Phils' hits before Jim Brosnan took over in the ninth.

TIGERS WIN

Jim Bunning nailed down his first victory of the season for the Tigers although touched for 11 hits by the Senators. Norm Cash socked his fourth homer for Detroit and rookie Jake Wood contributed a pair of triples. Tom Sturdivant was the loser.

Mickey Mantle's grand-slam homer in the 10th inning broke up a tie between the Yankees and Twins. Mantle's eighth homer came off loser Camilo Pascual who nursed a 2-1 lead until Bill Skowron homered in the seventh. Harmon Killebrew hit his third homer for the losers. Jim Coates, who relieved starter Art Ditmar, was the winning pitcher.

'I'M THROUGH FOREVER'

Jensen Apologizes For Way He Left Red Sox

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Manager Mike Higgins of the Boston Red Sox plans to talk with Jackie Jensen again in a few days before accepting the outfielder's departure as final.

Jensen, 34, who left the club Saturday at Cleveland, said yesterday in Reno:

"I'm through with baseball forever. I just don't feel I can play major league baseball any more and I wasn't giving them their money's worth. I don't regret leaving baseball as an active player because I feel I can no longer be an asset to the game."

Jensen telephoned Higgins in Kansas City yesterday, apologized for the manner in which he left the club, and reiterated his determination to quit.

In Boston, Dick O'Connell, executive vice president of the Red Sox, said Jensen would be carried on the active list until May 10, the cutdown date, but "we don't expect him to come back."

Jensen didn't play last year, saying he wanted to spend more time with his family.

His effort at a comeback this season resulted in a dismal batting average of .130 in 12 games, with just one RBI.

Another Ex-USF Star, Gene Brown, Joins S.F. Saints

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Gene Brown, a star guard with the University of San Francisco basketball team, will perform for the San Francisco Saints of the American Basketball League next year.

Brown, 6-foot-3 playmaker, thus returns to play under Phil Woolpert who coached the Dons to a pair of NCAA championships. Brown also rejoins teammate Mike Farmer, who joined Brown for all three years at USF. The Dons lost only nine basketball games those three seasons.

Brown played with Seattle in the amateur National Industrial Basketball League after graduating from USF.

Tam, Redwood Swim Teams Set For Finals Saturday

Warming up for the Marin Athletic League's swimming and diving finals Saturday, the Tamalpais Indians yesterday swamped San Rafael's Bulldogs 73-22 in the league's final dual meet of the season.

It marked Tam's 24th consecutive league dual meet victory, dating back to the old North Bay League before Marin schools organized their own conference. The dual champion Tamites and runner-up Redwood Giants are expected to dominate the league finals Saturday at Tam. Redwood splashed to a 64-30 win over Drake yesterday in the other final dual contest, with Giant standouts Dick Chambers and Ken Frost again dominating their events.

Tam won 10 of the 12 events with San Rafael. Following are varsity first place winners: 400 free, Jack Taylor (T), 4:57.5; 50 free, Lou Yuvan (SR), 24.5; 100 butterfly, Bob Scott (T), 1:03.2; 200 free, Jack Martin (T), 2:10.7; 100 back, Jeff McCreary (T), 1:06.5; 100 free, Jack Mosher (T), 54.9; 100 breast, Steve Deutch (T), 1:14.1; 200 individual medley, Rick Snow (T), 2:29.5; diving, Jim Flanagan (SR); Tam won both relays.

Tam also won Class B, 51-35, with Steve Dazey winning the 50 free and 100 individual medley.

Redwood's Chambers, a record-breaker just about everywhere he swims, set a Drake pool record for the 400 free in 4 minutes, 20.1 seconds and also copped the 200 free in 2:02.0. Unbeaten Ken Frost won the 100 breast stroke, as usual. Drake's Tony Crossler set a school record in the 100 buterfly in 1:01.2, although he placed second to Redwood's Foster. Crossler also won the individual medley.

Drake won the Class B meet, 59-25 with Terry Politi winning two firsts—the backstroke and individual medley. Drake is the league's Class B champion.

7th Straight Win For Novato Golf

Coach Jerry Barnacle's Novato High School golf team breezed to its seventh straight Marin Athletic League victory yesterday with a 6-0 blanking of Marin Catholic at the Meadow Club.

Novato's steady Fred O'Bannon won his match 5 and 4 with a card of 40 for the nine holes. He fired a birdie and four pars to clinch the victory, then eased up over the final holes.

Cards of the other Novato victors: Bob Sparrow, 42; Barry Hachmyer and Bob McBride 44 each, Rob Schultz 46 and Al Walters 49.

26 Pros Eye $10,000 Top Vegas Prize

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Two of professional golf's hottest campaigners, Arnold Palmer and Gary Player, took aim today at one target they've missed—the $40,000 Tournament of Champions' title.

And also here is the incomparable Sam Snead, who has taken three shots at the $10,000 top booty and never come close.

The three are among the 26 pros who tee off tomorrow in the ninth annual classic of the cactus country—72 holes over the par 36-36—72 Desert Inn Country Club course.

Each of the 26 has won a major PGA-sanctioned event during the past 12 months, else they would not be eligible to compete here.

Starting in 1956, the best Palmer has done is a tie for fifth place, achieved last year.

Player, South Africa's winner of the 1961 Masters over Arnold, wound up in 22nd place in 1959 and 1960.

With the exception of one, the winner each year is back again for another crack at the rich purse.

They are Jerry Barber, surprise winner a year ago; Gene Littler, who scored successively in 1955-56-57; Art Wall, Jr., in 1954; Mike Souchak, 1959, and Stan Leonard, 1958.

HERE'S BIG DIP in a Big Mitt, a nutritious treat for your hungry sandlotters. Made with creamy Vanilla Big Dip Ice Milk, it's a big league dish that's sure to make a hit as a dessert or a pick-me-up.

Hungry Sandlotters— Big Dip In Big Mitt

"Play Ball" is a cry that's heard year-around and youngsters respond immediately. Baseball or any other sport helps build strong bodies, but it also builds big appetites. Here's an easy-to-fix snack or pick-me-up that will have a big league rating with your youngsters.

It's Big Dip in a Big Mitt, and it's made with creamy Vanilla Big Dip Ice Milk. Your sandlotters and little leaguers will clamor for more. It's nutritious, too!

The mitt and bat are made of a basic sugar cookie dough that's simple to make:

Cream together 1 stick butter or margarine and 1 cup brown or granulated sugar until fluffy. Beat in 3 egg yolks and 1 whole egg, add 1 teaspoon vanilla and blend well. Work in two cups all-purpose flour and blend thoroughly. Refrigerate about 1 to 2 hours. Remove ¼ of dough and form into bat. Mold mitt from balance of mixture. Bake on ungreased cookie sheet in a moderately hot, 375 degree oven 15 to 20 minutes. Cool. This recipe makes four mitts and four bats. When cookie mitts are cool, fill each with an extra large scoop of Vanilla Big Dip Ice Milk.

Shrimp Recipe Handed Down From Fine Southern Cooks

Talk to an English cook about favorite British dishes and you are likely to hear about potted meat or fish.

Generations ago some of our fine southern cooks adopted one of these dishes—potted shrimp—and made it their own. Recipes for it have been handed down in southern families ever since. We find rules for potted shrimp or shrimp paste, as it is often called here, in regional cook books from Savannah, Charleston and New Orleans.

These southern recipes may stem from England's Mrs. Beeton whose cook books were certainly known to many 19th century American women. Or they may come from French forebears because Mrs. Beeton acknowledged that her recipe for potted shrimp was adopted from France's terrine de crevettes.

The name of this dish exactly describes the way it is made: seasoned shrimp and butter are turned into a small earthenware pot and covered with extra melted (or clarified) butter to exclude the air.

Canned shrimp, we find, are perfect to use in the following recipe because of their texture—they can be lifted out whole and spread or they can be broken up easily as they are served.

The British are likely to serve potted shrimp on toast at teatime. Americans usually offer it as an hors d'oeuvre with crackers before a meal; it's a fine go-along for tomato juice.

POTTED SHRIMP

2 cans (4½ ounces each) shrimp.
1 cup butter
1 teaspon mace
½ teaspoon white pepper
¼ teaspoon cayenne

Drain shrimp; rinse in cold water and drain again. Melt ¼ cup of the butter; mix in mace, pepper and cayenne. Add shrimp and cook gently for a minute or two, stirring carefully so as not to break up shrimp. Turn into a small deep attractive earthenware container. Clarify the remaining ¾ cup butter by heating it gently in a small saucepan until it foams; quickly skim off the foam and pour the clear butter over the shrimp; do not add any of the white residue at the bottom of the saucepan. Refrigerate to allow butter to set. Before serving, let stand at room temperature until butter is slightly soft—1 hour or more. Serve in the container as a spread. Makes about 2 cups.

Note: The shrimp should all be covered by the clarified butter; you may have to mash them down a bit to do so. If you have an earthenware container whose top is somewhat smaller than its bottom, you may find it convenient to use.

Southern recipes for shrimp paste vary in their seasonings. Mrs. Beeton used mace and cayenne, as does the above recipe, but she noted that a little nutmeg could be added "when liked." Some Charleston cooks omit the mace and add nutmeg and celery salt. A Savannah cook comments that shrimp paste tastes delicious with tomato salad.

TOFFEE CHIFFON PIE

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
1 egg (lightly beaten)
⅓ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup milk (scalded)
¼ cup sherry
1 package (2 ounces) whipped dessert topping
½ cup crushed English toffee
Baked 9-inch graham-cracker shell

Soften gelatin in water. Add sugar and salt to egg; stir in a little hot milk; combine with remaining milk. Cook and stir over hot water until mixture thickens slightly and coats a silver spoon. Add softened gelatin; stir to dissolve. Stir in sherry. Cool until slightly thickened. Meanwhile prepare dessert topping according to package directions; chill; fold with toffee into thickened gelatin. Chill briefly, until mixture mounds; turn into cooled shell. Chill until firm—two hours.

Eating Habits Change Our Cobblers

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Typically American is the family dessert called a cobbler. It's easy for Mom to make, it's nutritious and popular.

Once upon a time a cobbler, according to Webster, was "a deep-dish fruit pie with a thick upper crust." Although the dictionary doesn't say so, the fruit was most often apples or blueberries.

Like everything else, eating ways change. Modern cobblers have less crust than the old-time versions of this dessert—due, maybe, to weight-watchers. Then, too, we're likely to call upon convenient pantryshelf fruits when we concoct them.

That's just what we did when we used canned Bartlett pears in the following recipe, and all our tasters approved. The pastry—really a drop shortcake—atop the pears holds a delightful surprise. Try this cobbler and see for yourself.

PEAR COBBLER

1 can (1 pound, 13 ounces) Bartlett pear halves in heavy or extra heavy syrup
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 tablespoon sugar
⅛ teaspoon cinnamon
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Topping

Drain pears and place in a 2-quart baking dish — about 8 inches across and 3 inches deep. In a saucepan mix together the cornstarch, sugar and cinnamon; gradually add the pear syrup, stirring until smooth; simmer, stirring constantly, until clear and thickened. Stir in lemon juice. Pour this hot sauce over the pears. Place in hot (425 degrees) oven until bubbling hot — about 15 minutes. Remove from oven; at once drop a spoonful of the topping on each pear half, it doesn't matter if the hot syrup comes slightly over some of the pears. Return at once to 425-degree oven and bake until topping is lightly browned—about 18 minutes. Serve warm with cream. Makes 6 or 7 servings.

PEAR COBBLER TOPPING

1 cup sifted flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar
3 tablespoons shortening
½ cup flaked coconut
½ cup milk (about)

Sift together the flour, baking powder, salt and sugar; cut in shortening; stir in coconut and enough milk to make drop-dough consistency.

Pecans For A Gourmet Dessert

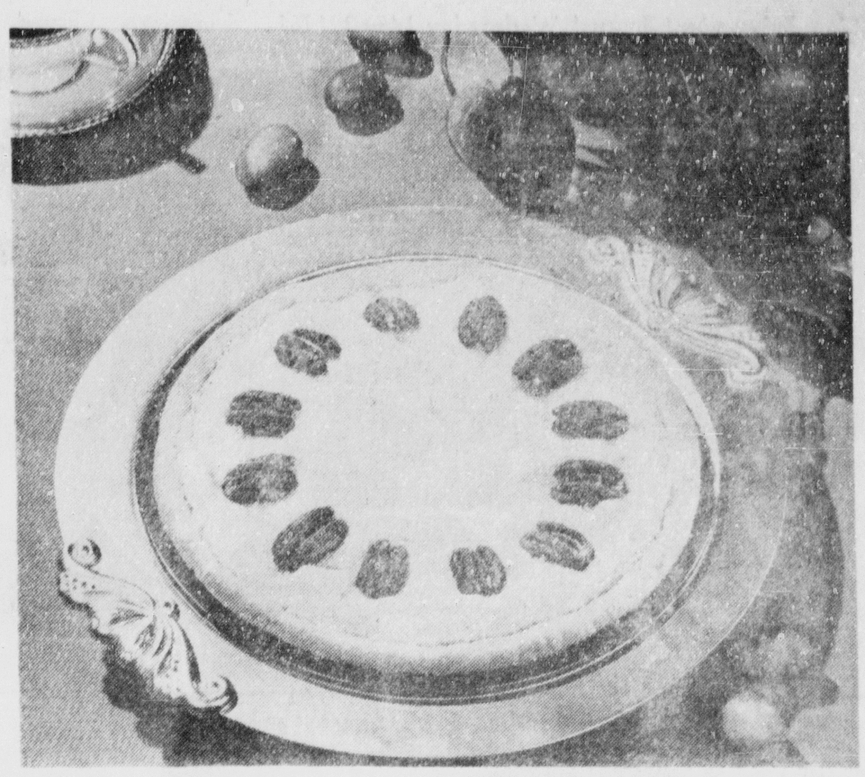
One of the most popular invitations these days is "Come for dessert and coffee" . . . and the canny hostess should take this opportunity to demonstrate her skill as a gourmet cook. Here is a confection which promises everything in the way of delicious eating and guaranteed to fimly establish your reputation as an M.K.A. (Master of Kitchen Arts!)

Orange Pecan shortbread is a dreamy combination of rich buttery shortbread, tangy orange marmalade and meringue topped with crunchy, flavorful pecans . . . and its glamorous appearance belies its easy-to-make preparation!

ORANGE PECAN SHORTBREAD

Shortbread:
½ cup butter
⅓ cup sugar
2 egg yolks
1 teaspoon vanilla
1¼ cups flour (all-purpose)
¼ teaspoon soda
¼ teaspoon salt
Filling:
1 cup orange marmalade
½ cup chopped pecans
Topping:
2 egg whites—beaten stiff but not dry
1 tablespon sugar
Pecan halves

Cream butter and sugar until fluffy. Add egg yolks and vanilla and beat well. Sift dry ingredients together and mix thoroughly, then add to butter mixture. Press into bottom and sides of a 9-inch pie pan. Spread marmalade on shortbread to form a layer of filling. Sprinkle chopped pecans over marmalade. Spread beaten egg whites over nuts and marmalade. Arrange pecan halves on topping. Sprinkle sugar over topping. Bake in moderate oven (350°)—30 minutes.



ORANGE PECAN shortbread is a dreamy combination of rich, buttery shortbread, tangy orange marmalade and meringue topped with crunchy, flavorful pecans . . . and its glamorous appearance belies its easy-to-make preparation.

TV Cameramen, Sportscasters Did A Superb Job Of Giant-L.A. Tilts

CONNOLLY

We could understand, perhaps, forgive and forget, a bad TV baseball presentation because there are so many obvious difficulties in bringing baseball to the screen.

It takes a bit of "know how" even with a wide angle lens to hold baseball action within its frame. The ball is constantly in flight and illusive to a camera. In other sports action, for the most part, is centered in one spot.

But I saw two Giants-Dodger games on TV the other night and so help me, the TV cameras completely surrounded the action on the field, in the air and particularly the facial expressions of the pitchers.

All the bad features of TV broadcasting seemed eliminated. Even the sportscasters, some of whom sound like a babbling baboon when a rally starts, were absent in the Giant-Dodger series. I think Russ Hodges and Lon Simmons did a superb job, just as entertaining and just as authentic as their radio broadcasts have been for so many seasons. Salaams to Russ and Lon and their directors and engineers for the masterly manner in which they handled a very difficult situation.

Did you hold your breath during the ball games," I asked my Uncle Mike.

"NO," HE SAID. "I held my nose because I think televising games eventually will give the home town fans their fill of baseball and they won't want to go out to see the heroes when they come home."

Uncle Mike went on to explain that watching the TV for three and one-half hours made his eyes sore and his elbow limp.

While Uncle Mike's observations seemed cruel they reminded me of the pioneer days of radio in baseball.

BROADCASTING ball games originally was supposed to increase attendance. But some owners claimed it hurt the gate.

TV now faces the same obstacles of pioneer radio broadcasts of ball games.

I, for one, think TV-ing the Giants on the road will swell the gate, make new friends for the team and for the players and new customers for the club.

CERTAINLY those fans who have never seen Willie Mays, Harvey Kuenn, Filipe Alou and the rookies (Hiller, Haller, Bolin, Duffalo and Ed Fisher) will be anxious to see them in the flesh.

It only takes a nickel's worth of understanding of what goes on in the dugout, in the clubhouse and on the field to make a TV baseball fan a very devout cash customer.

And I certainly believe Owner Horace Stoneham of the Giants will never regret or forget the favor he did himself in permitting luke-warm baseball fans a chance to see the real thing "for nothing."

THE BASEBALL bug will bite everybody within a radius of 100 miles from Candlestick Park when the Giants start tearing down the homestretch, pennant-wise.

Recent H.R. Flurry Does Not Spell 'Rabbit Ball'

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—To hear the home run haullabaloo in the Major Leagues today you'd probably lay odds that every pitcher in the game was out shopping for a hari-kari knife.

Willie Mays sent the figure Philberts scurrying to the record book by swatting four in one game, in which there were a total of 10 balls walloped out of circulation. All in all there were 29 home runs during Sunday's festivities and you'd figure the deliverymen had to be in deep shock.

T'aint so.

Believe it or go check it up for yourself, but the home run hitters despite placards being toted by the horsehide spinners and twirlers union have been strangely somnolent to date this season. Just in case you've been figuring on screaming "rabbit ball," statistics prove production is off sharply in the belting of the big blast.

Toting up the same number of games as each team had played at a comparable period last year, the majors are exactly 39 round trippers behind their 1960 pace.

At this stage last year the American League had flogged 102 and the National League had belted 135 for a total of 237.

The figures this time are 85 for the Americans and 113 for the Nationals for a total of 198.

Add in the two new teams playing in the American League and you still have a deficit. The new Washington Senators have chipped in with 16 and the Los Angeles Angels with 13 for 29 which boosts the overall total to 227 — 10 short of the 16-team setup last year.

Mays' amazing production in Sunday's contest raised his total for the season to six at that stage while teammate Willie McCovey had authored four. Last year at the same stage, wondrous Willie had only one and McCovey had seven — but the Giants still were one ahead of their current total of 21.

The Los Angeles Dodgers currently are setting the major league home run pace with 27, sparked principally by Wally Moon's eight and Tommy Davis' five, as against 17 in a similar period last season. But every other club in the league is down.

Minnesota leads the American League with 15, as of yesterday, a minor deficit of two against last season, with Detroit up one at 14, Chicago up five on a total of 10 and Baltimore having stepped up production by three with its 13.

Crozier's Dazzling Speed Wins Kentucky Derby Trial

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Crozier set 15,000 customers to talking about his dazzling speed as he dashed the fastest mile in the history of ancient Churchill Downs.

A question mark all spring, the colt wore down California's Four-and-Twenty and bounced home in 1:34 3-5 yesterday to win the $16,850 Derby Trial Stakes and clip two-fifths second off the record set in 1954 when Hasty Road edged Determine, another California-owned colt.

Determine, a Kentucky horse who went west, came back to turn the tables on Hasty Road in the Kentucky Derby four days later.

Four-and-Twenty will be back with his stablemate, Flutterby, and could turn this 87th run for the roses into another Far Western parade. Both colts are from the Alberta Ranches, Ltd., of Calgary, Alberta.

Alabaman Fred W. Hooper is the owner-breeder of Crozier, and the colt's brilliant Derby Trial victory may have frightened away a few rivals. The entry box for Saturday's $125,000-added classic opens at 7 a.m. tomorrow and the guess is that from 12 to 15 horses may go.

It certainly didn't scare Jack Price, a retired Cleveland business man who trains Carry Back, probable favorite for the 1¼-mile Derby.

Price quickly pointed out that Carry Back had beaten Crozier three times in Florida. The colt skipped the Derby Trial.

It was the general opinion that Carry Back would go postward Saturday at 1:30 p.m., PDT—CBS television—the favorite at around 8 to 5. The final Caliente future book odds had him 3-1 co-favorite with Four-and-Twenty, who won the Santa Anita Derby.

Four-and-Twenty, beaten 3¼ lengths in yesterday's Derby trial, led most of the way until Crozier's late run in the stretch. Ethel D. Jacobs' Dr. Miller closed with a good burst to take third place. Nine started in the Trial, but it seems no more than the top three rate a return engagement.

Pender In Vegas, Possible Site Of Bout With Fullmer

LAS VEGAS (UPI)—Paul Pender, middleweight champion of Massachusetts, New York and Europe, started a second round of conferences today with two local promoters on the defense of his crown against NBA champion Gene Fullmer next fall.

Pender arrived here yesterday and immediately went into a huddle with promoters Jack Doyle and Mel Greb.

Pender said he would like to meet Fullmer "to settle the dispute over who is middleweight king. We fought before and he won a split decision in New York, but I think I can take him now."

Fullmer successfully defended his crown against Sugar Ray Robinson here earlier this year. Pender twice has beaten Robinson but has never fought in the West.

Palmer Nearing Player Who Has Won Most $$$$$

DUNEDIN, Fla (AP)— Money talks, goes the saying, and right now it's declaring loudly that Gary Player is the best professional golfer in the United States.

Even so, there's a slight echo coming back that Arnold Palmer of Ligonier, Pa., isn't going to let it stay that way long.

Player, who now hails from Langhorn, Pa., has competed in 15 tournaments so far this year and won three for a total of $46,036.58.

However, Palmer, who won more than $80,000 last year to set an all time record, is within hailing distance. His victory in the Texas Open last weekend pushed his earnings this season to $37,225.

Pro Tennis Finals

CLEVELAND (AP) — Pancho Gonzalez and Frank Sedgman meet tonight for the championship of the Cleveland professional tennis tournament.

Gonzalez gained the final by defeating Andres Gimene, 6-4, 6-3, Tuesday night.

Sedgman downed Barry MacKay 6-4, 11-9.

Fights Last Night

TRENTON, N.J. — Jetro Cason, 139¾, Philadelphia, outpointed J. D. Ellis, 137¾, Trenton 10.

HALIFAX, N.S.—Blair Richardson, 162, South Bar, N.S., outpointed Bobby Barnes, 162½, Wilkes-Barre, Pa. 10.

LONDON, England — Terry Downes, 160¼, England, stopped Tony Montano, 160¾, Phoenix, Ariz., 5.

SACRAMENTO — Benny "Bandit" Medina, 136 Fresno, outpointed Georgia Page, 137½, Auburn, 10.

81-Year-Old Golfer Wins Tournament

One of the winning partners of the Best Ball Twosome Tournament Sunday at the Mill Valley Golf Club was an 81-year-old lifetime member of the club.

He is Willie Rees of 162 Morning Sun, Mill Valley. His winning partner, Carl Rissman of 319 Lovell Avenue in Mill Valley, was confident enough as Rees came into the ninth hole only one over par, reported Keeler Nash of 43 Mirabel Avenue.

Nash and Bill Bevans of San Quentin tied for runner-up with twosome Bob Russell, 650 Oakdale, Corte Madera, and Gran Wyatt of 25 Rogue Moraes, Mill Valley.

This Sunday will be Club Professionals Day at the Mill Valley Golf Club, announced Nash.

San Mateo Team Off To Fast Start In ABC

DETROIT (AP)—The Bel Mateo Masters from San Mateo, Calif., started well in the American Bowling Congress tournament last night with 2994.

It will shoot its final three games tonight.

Brentwood Bowl of San Francisco leads the classic team division with 5,983.

D'AMATO DECLARES:

Liston Not Included In Patterson's Plans

NEW YORK (AP)—Cus D'Amato today supplied the answer to Sonny Liston's one-man campaign for a heavyweight title bout with champion Floyd Patterson.

"Liston is not included in Patterson's plans at all," snapped D'Amato, chief of the Patterson advisory staff, "not at all."

That brings up the question of how much D'Amato has to say about Patterson's professional activity. After Floyd took care of Ingemar Johansson less than eight weeks ago, he proclaimed himself a free man.

"I'm making my own decisions from now on," he said then. "D'Amato will remain my manager, but I will make the decisions."

If D'Amato is talking for Patterson, Liston will not be the only hopeful who will remain on the outside looking in.

"Patterson will not fight anyone this year who has a future," thundered D'Amato.

This presumably would rule out the likes of Britain's Henry Cooper who also thought he was near the head of the line.

D'Amato hinted that the tax situation has something to do with his decision to sidestep the headliners this year. Patterson made almost $1,000,000 in his last defense against Johansson. If he fights again this year, the purse will go almost completely for taxes. D'Amato figures there is no use fighting a tough opponent for practically nothing.

A rumor made the rounds yesterday that Tom McNeeley of Boston, unbeaten in 23 bouts, would be Patterson's next opponent. Apparently he would qualify only if he didn't have a future.

"I really don't know him that well," said D'Amato. "I would have to investigate him. But if he has a future that would eliminate him. We have three opponents in mind for the September defense. All are Americans."

ABL To Arrange Schedule Today

CHICAGO (AP) — Acting Commissioner Abe Saperstein meets with coaches and owners of the new American Basketball League today to complete making schedules for the 1961-62 season.

Saperstein said the meeting would be routine, with the main item the drafting of a schedule.

Teams in the league are Chicago, San Francisco, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Washington, D.C., Kansas City, Los Angeles and Honolulu.

GET A HORSE—and trot down to Strawberry Round-Up Day. Getting in a Western mood for the annual community event to be held Saturday, May 13th on the school grounds is Mrs. Robert Nickoloff, decorations chairman, tempting "Duster" with geraniums. Mounted on the horse, owned by the Vernon Koehlers, is Kathleen Clark, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William Clark. Dr. Clark is president of the Strawberry Point P-TA.

Western Theme For Strawberry Festival

Strawberry is a beehive of activity these days, as for the eighth year, residents of the community, young and old are vigorously painting bright posters, hammering booths, preparing prized cake recipes, slipping their favorite fuchsias, cutting out paper clown hats and rounding up helpers for the big fund-raising event of the year to be held Saturday, May 13.

Sponsored by the Strawberry Point Parent-Teacher Association the event will be held on the school grounds.

This year the festival is going Western in a big way and "Round-up Day" will begin at 1 p.m. with a flag ceremony on horseback. Ready for all to enjoy will be "Ghost Town" (the fun house), "Pioneer Pantry," "Ranch Posies," "Gold Nugget Auction" and "The Old Trading Post."

"War Paint" will be applied at the makeup booth and there will be hay rides and food and drink galore. Visitors can munch on Cow Poke candy, Indian corn, Snow Cone Tepees and Steerburgers and then wander down to Lemonade Creek and Cotton Candy Corral.

A mouth watering chuck wagon dinner will be served starting at 4:30 p.m.

And while all of this is going on there will be three talent shows given from a "covered wagon" stage with Master of Ceremonies Stanley Gallagher. Everyone is asked to come in cowboy clothes as there will be a colorful parade and prizes for young and old for the most effective costumes.

Proceeds of the Festival will be used to beautify the school grounds and add books to the library.

Among the hard-working chairmen are Mesdames Tom Barca, Charles Drolla, Edward Smith, John Linker, N. L. Petrakis, Ralph Cole, Alfred Goldberg, J. W. Binckley, J. C. Gobershock, William Clark, A. Marchini and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Koski.

'Memo To A Modern Mother' Theme For Fashion Focus

Take a fashion memo, Miss Jones! Address: The Modern Mother.

If you are this modern mother, then Fashion Focus is sending you a newsy memo via summer fashions from a Marin shop next Tuesday at Rickey's popular Fashion Focus luncheon—a memo to the modern mother who regardless of age, feels young, thinks young, and offers fresh young ideas to her community.

Refreshing symbol of this modern mother who combines homemaking with community service is Tuesday's honored organization, the Lucas Valley Hospital Auxiliary.

This newest of Marin's volunteer hospital organizations was formed under the auspices of the San Rafael Improvement Club. Serving food at meal time, writing letters for the patients, working in the rehabilitation room, staffing the beauty salon, etc. are just a few of the vital services performed by the Lucas Valley Hospital Auxiliary volunteers with a special measure of affection, patience and a friendly smile.

On Tuesday, six of the attractive Lucas Valley Hospital Auxiliary members will promenade the fashionable "Memos To a Modern Mother" chosen by Lois Nacca of a San Rafael shop as perfect for a summer of fun.

Tuesday memos might say "Always Bright Color," "Be Pretty By the Pool" or "Make Mine for Men." Each will be short, sweet and to the point of summer fashion: Look Lovely.

Brightening the coffers of a special fund planned by the LV Hospital Auxiliary for equipment in the rehabilitation room and for the occupational therapy program will be the proceeds from the Tuesday surprises.

Reservations to enjoy "Memo To a Modern Mother" on Tuesday at Fashion Focus may be made by calling Rickey's.

PAST PRESIDENTS OF LEAGUE WILL BE SALUTED AT BALL

Twenty-two Past Presidents of the Junior League of San Francisco, Inc., and the League's current President will be seated at ringside tables in the Garden Court of the Sheraton-Palace Hotel at the Junior League's Fiftieth Anniversary Ball on Friday evening, May 12.

Each of the 23 will be saluted at midnight with Philip S. Boone, whose wife is anniversary chairman, presiding as master of ceremonies.

The Anniversary Ball, Portals of the Past, which is climaxing the Fiftieth Anniversary celebration of the League will recreate the dazzling decor of the Famous Sharon Ball of a half-century ago. Mrs. Edward Griffith is Anniversary Ball chairman.

Presidents who will be honored are the Mesdames Thomas Thacher (1917-18); Nion Tucker (1918-19); Henry Wolff (1919-20); Harry Montgomery (1920-21); Horace B. Clifton (1929-30); Henry Cartan (1931-33); John G. Levison (1933-35); Constance Stevenson (1935-36); W. Lister Rogers (1937-39); Ernst Ophuls (1940-41); Joseph G. Moore (1941-42); Stanley Whitaker (1942-43); Joseph A. Moore Jr. (1943-45); James Harmon (1945-47); Thomas R. Dwyer (1947-49); Stuart L. Rawlings Jr. (1949-51); Lawrence V. Metcalf (1953-54); Sidney Lawrence Jr. (1954-55); William Knapp (1956-57); Austin Morris (1957-59); Carl Livingston Jr. (1959-60); James Lowe Hall Jr. (1960-61), and Mrs. F. W. Peter McChesney, the league's current president.

The Ball, which is open to all past and present members of the League, is a Subscription Party whose cost will be underwritten by the League members attending.

To Get Acquainted Group Meets Thursday

TGA—To Get Acquainted, a group recently formed by the young Catholic adults in Marin County, will hold their next meeting on Thursday.

Moderator of the group, Rev. John Mullen, will begin the meeting at 7:45 p.m. at St. Raphael's Social Hall in San Rafael. Mr. William Brannan of the Serra Club will be the guest speaker.

All single adults who have graduated from high school are invited to attend.

NCO Wives Club Has Costume Party

A Gay Nineties costume party sponsored by the Non-Commissioned Officers' Wives Club was held recently at the Non-Commissioned Officers' Club at Hamilton Air Force Base.

A covered dish supper was served and guests were entertained by an orchestra and Vince Silk, a well-known comic.

First prize was awarded to Mrs. James Pinski, a dance hall girl costume, and Staff Sergeant B. J. Moore, a suave gentleman costume.

ROMANCE AT SAN JOSE COLLEGE TOLD

A romance at San Jose State College has been revealed with the announcement by Mr. and Mrs. William H. Benno of San Anselmo that their daughter, Suzanne Benno, is engaged to Larry Dale Hart. Suzanne is a junior at the college and her fiance is a senior.

Suzanne is a graduate of Petaluma High School and attended University of the Pacific. She is the sister of Kent M. Benno of Mountain View and granddaughter of Ora L. Convey, Mrs. Vivian Benno and Lee C. Benno, all of Long Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy C. Hart of Felton, Santa Cruz Co., are parents of the future benedict. He is a graduate of Arroyo Grande High School in San Luis Obispo Co. and attended Napa Junior College where he was student body president. He has one brother, Eddie Hart.

Plans are being made for a July wedding.

Virginia Shattuck Addresses NCO Wives

Virginia Shattuck of the Pacific Gas & Electric Co. was guest speaker at the recent monthly tea given by the Non-Commissioned Officers' Wives Club of Hamilton Air Force Base.

Miss Shattuck's talk was on outdoor entertaining.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Jerome Lipscomb and Mrs. Jimmie Murphy.

Square Dancers Have Graduation

The Buzzin' Boots joined with its intermediate group, Budding Booties, for graduation exercises recently at Star Hall, San Anselmo.

The evening began with a pot-luck supper.

President Karl Reavell congratulated each one as Bill Owen presented the diplomas.

The intermediate group are: Linda Bullock, Donald Calloway, Frank and Nettie Clark, Andy and Delcy Curtin, Dora Farr, Hilda and Albert Galbraith, Ed and Catherine Ghiringhelli, Marge and Norm Hadley, Ron Harkleroad, Adeline and Jack Johnson, Chris Jones, Lenore and Frank Kartozian, Mae Kirkland, Barbara Lear, Betty and Leo March, Kathy Mudge, Ernest Nahapiet, Barbara and Val Nichelini, Lillian and Jack Olds, Lois and Percy Paulson, Barbara Raymond, Alan Ross, Esm'ae and Wallace Shields, Carol and Douglas Smith, Janet and Paul Stang, Elizabeth Stocker, DonaRae and Robert Thayer, Clyde Tynes, York Westgate, Marsha and David Wilson, Armand Zimmerlin and Kathy Neil.

There were 10 squares dancing. Dancing will resume Friday at 8:30 p.m. All square dancers are welcome.

Denise Abramson Marks Birthday

Something new in birthday parties was planned by Denise Louise Abramson to celebrate her eighth birthday last Saturday. Denise invited several of her second grade classmates at the Tiburon School to come for breakfast. The group then went to San Francisco for the early showing of "The Absent Minded Professor." Denise's sister, Karen Jaye, also attended.

Denise is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michell N. Abramson Jr. of Hill Haven.

Bonnie Hubbard's KUPBOARD

FUN WITH FOOD AND HELPFUL HINTS

The best of friends may argue over a recipe but the best of cooks are sure to agree about GOLDEN GRAIN Spaghetti. Tender, quick-cooking spaghetti, it needs only one thing more for flavor—GOLDEN GRAIN Marinara Sauce, spicy with real Italian herbs, rich with ripe tomatoes. For a quick, enjoyable meal, just heat GOLDEN GRAIN Marinara Sauce and toss with GOLDEN GRAIN Spaghetti.

This is "Bringing Up Baby" Week, the right time to get acquainted with all the wonderful products for babies you'll find on the GERBER shelf in your store. You'll like the new "Shop-Easy" labels for instant identification of each food (no need to read 8 labels to find Creamed Spinach!) Another timesaver: bright blue cans for Strained Foods; bright red for Junior.

Little Leaguers enjoy the plaudits of the throng but better still is a slice of bread and jam after the game! LADY'S CHOICE Peach or Apricot Jam, with its sweet, summery aroma, just hits the spot; so does Strawberry—ask any young southpaw! When you buy these tempting jams and jellies, look for the new LADY'S CHOICE jars, easy to open and to store in a cupboard.

You always find crisp, young vegetables under the C&W brand; I am especially fond of the Baby Lima Beans cooked with ham. Simmer bits of leftover ham in the water first, then add the little beans and cook just until tender. Drain, leaving the ham, and serve with a cap of dairy sour cream. It's a luxurious dish, but C & W Frozen Baby Lima Beans always taste luxurious!

★ Lettuce will stay green longer in the refrigerator if dried thoroughly before being stored in a towel or plastic bag.

Youth looks at the world through rose-colored glasses, they say. But these hamburgers are truly rosy—also delectable! Make 12 meat patties as usual but sandwich in pairs, with onion and pickle slices between; seal edges. Brown quickly in hot oven. Combine ½ cup HEINZ Tomato Ketchup and 2 Tb. water, spoon over the patties and bake 10 minutes. Serve in toasted buns.

Molded salads save work and are always enjoyed. Here's a real party-salad for eight: Combine ½ cup each, chopped ripe olives, sliced almonds and chopped hard-cooked eggs. Add 2 cups WHITE STAR Tuna and fold into 1 cup sour cream and 1 cup mayonnaise which have been thickened with gelatine. Season with onion salt and lemon juice and chill until firm.

Every mother wants to keep her baby as sweet and dainty as a flower. But it isn't always easy, particularly at mealtimes. SANI-CLOR, the very gentle liquid bleach, removes stains from bibs and other clothing; leaves fabrics safe for baby's delicate skin. Use it on the high chair and on all washable toys; SANI-CLOR cleanses and deodorizes and sanitizes safely.

With the first warm days, many a pet seems to lose appetite. But if the meals he does eat are well-balanced nutritionally, it won't hurt your four-footer to eat a bit less. That's why HOLSUM Dog Food is so wise a choice; fresh meat and ground bone, fish, cereal and vegetables are combined with added minerals and vitamins; HOLSUM is an all-year pet ration.

That's all for now! See you next week! Bonnie Hubbard

HERE'S BIG DIP in a Big Mitt, a nutritious treat for your hungry sandlotters. Made with creamy Vanilla Big Dip Ice Milk, it's a big league dish that's sure to make a hit as a dessert or a pick-me-up.

Hungry Sandlotters— Big Dip In Big Mitt

"Play Ball" is a cry that's heard year-around and youngsters respond immediately. Baseball or any other sport helps build strong bodies, but it also builds big appetites. Here's an easy-to-fix snack or pick-me-up that will have a big league rating with your youngsters.

It's Big Dip in a Big Mitt, and it's made with creamy Vanilla Big Dip Ice Milk. Your sandlotters and little leaguers will clamor for more. It's nutritious, too!

The mitt and bat are made of a basic sugar cookie dough that's simple to make:

Cream together 1 stick butter or margarine and 1 cup brown or granulated sugar until fluffy. Beat in 3 egg yolks and 1 whole egg, add 1 teaspoon vanilla and blend well. Work in two cups all-purpose flour and blend thoroughly. Refrigerate about 1 to 2 hours. Remove ¼ of dough and form into bat. Mold mitt from balance of mixture. Bake on ungreased cookie sheet in a moderately hot, 375 degree oven 15 to 20 minutes. Cool. This recipe makes four mitts and four bats. When cookie mitts are cool, fill each with an extra large scoop of Vanilla Big Dip Ice Milk.

Shrimp Recipe Handed Down From Fine Southern Cooks

Talk to an English cook about favorite British dishes and you are likely to hear about potted meat or fish.

Generations ago some of our fine southern cooks adopted one of these dishes—potted shrimp—and made it their own. Recipes for it have been handed down in southern families ever since. We find rules for potted shrimp or shrimp paste, as it is often called here, in regional cook books from Savannah, Charleston and New Orleans.

These southern recipes may stem from England's Mrs. Beeton whose cook books were certainly known to many 19th century American women. Or they may come from French forebears because Mrs. Beeton acknowledged that her recipe for potted shrimp was adopted from France's terrine de crevettes.

The name of this dish exactly describes the way it is made: seasoned shrimp and butter are turned into a small earthenware pot and covered with extra melted (or clarified) butter to exclude the air.

Canned shrimp, we find, are perfect to use in the following recipe because of their texture—they can be lifted out whole and spread or they can be broken up easily as they are served.

The British are likely to serve potted shrimp on toast at teatime. Americans usually offer it as an hors d'oeuvre with crackers before a meal; it's a fine go-along for tomato juice.

POTTED SHRIMP

2 cans (4½ ounces each) shrimp.
1 cup butter
1 teaspon mace
½ teaspoon white pepper
¼ teaspoon cayenne

Drain shrimp; rinse in cold water and drain again. Melt ¼ cup of the butter; mix in mace, pepper and cayenne. Add shrimp and cook gently for a minute or two, stirring carefully so as not to break up shrimp. Turn into a small deep attractive earthenware container. Clarify the remaining ¾ cup butter by heating it gently in a small saucepan until it foams; quickly skim off the foam and pour the clear butter over the shrimp; do not add any of the white residue at the bottom of the saucepan. Refrigerate to allow butter to set. Before serving, let stand at room temperature until butter is slightly soft—1 hour or more. Serve in the container as a spread. Makes about 2 cups.

Note: The shrimp should all be covered by the clarified butter; you may have to mash them down a bit to do so. If you have an earthenware container whose top is somewhat smaller than its bottom, you may find it convenient to use.

Southern recipes for shrimp paste vary in their seasonings. Mrs. Beeton used mace and cayenne, as does the above recipe, but she noted that a little nutmeg could be added "when liked." Some Charleston cooks omit the mace and add nutmeg and celery salt. A Savannah cook comments that shrimp paste tastes delicious with tomato salad.

Dessert Topping Cuts Calories

Chicken Pudding
Giant Salad
Toffee Chiffon Pie
Beverage

TOFFEE CHIFFON PIE

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
1 egg (lightly beaten)
⅓ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup milk (scalded)
¼ cup sherry
1 package (2 ounces) whipped dessert topping
½ cup crushed English toffee
Baked 9-inch graham-cracker shell

Soften gelatin in water. Add sugar and salt to egg; stir in a little hot milk; combine with remaining milk. Cook and stir over hot water until mixture thickens slightly and coats a silver spoon. Add softened gelatin; stir to dissolve. Stir in sherry. Cool until slightly thickened. Meanwhile prepare dessert topping according to package directions; chill; fold with toffee into thickened gelatin. Chill briefly, until mixture mounds; turn into cooled shell. Chill until firm—two hours.

Eating Habits Change Our Cobblers

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Typically American is the family dessert called a cobbler. It's easy for Mom to make, it's nutritious and popular.

Once upon a time a cobbler, according to Webster, was "a deep-dish fruit pie with a thick upper crust." Although the dictionary doesn't say so, the fruit was most often apples or blueberries.

Like everything else, eating ways change. Modern cobblers have less crust than the old-time versions of this dessert—due, maybe, to weight-watchers. Then, too, we're likely to call upon convenient pantryshelf fruits when we concoct them.

That's just what we did when we used canned Bartlett pears in the following recipe, and all our tasters approved. The pastry—really a drop shortcake—atop the pears holds a delightful surprise. Try this cobbler and see for yourself.

PEAR COBBLER

1 can (1 pound, 13 ounces) Bartlett pear halves in heavy or extra heavy syrup
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 tablespoon sugar
⅛ teaspoon cinnamon
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Topping

Drain pears and place in a 2-quart baking dish — about 8 inches across and 3 inches deep. In a saucepan mix together the cornstarch, sugar and cinnamon; gradually add the pear syrup, stirring until smooth; simmer, stirring constantly, until clear and thickened. Stir in lemon juice. Pour this hot sauce over the pears. Place in hot (425 degrees) oven until bubbling hot — about 15 minutes. Remove from oven; at once drop a spoonful of the topping on each pear half, it doesn't matter if the hot syrup comes slightly over some of the pears. Return at once to 425-degree oven and bake until topping is lightly browned—about 18 minutes. Serve warm with cream. Makes 6 or 7 servings.

PEAR COBBLER TOPPING

1 cup sifted flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar
3 tablespoons shortening
½ cup flaked coconut
½ cup milk (about)

Sift together the flour, baking powder, salt and sugar; cut in shortening; stir in coconut and enough milk to make drop-dough consistency.

Pecans For A Gourmet Dessert

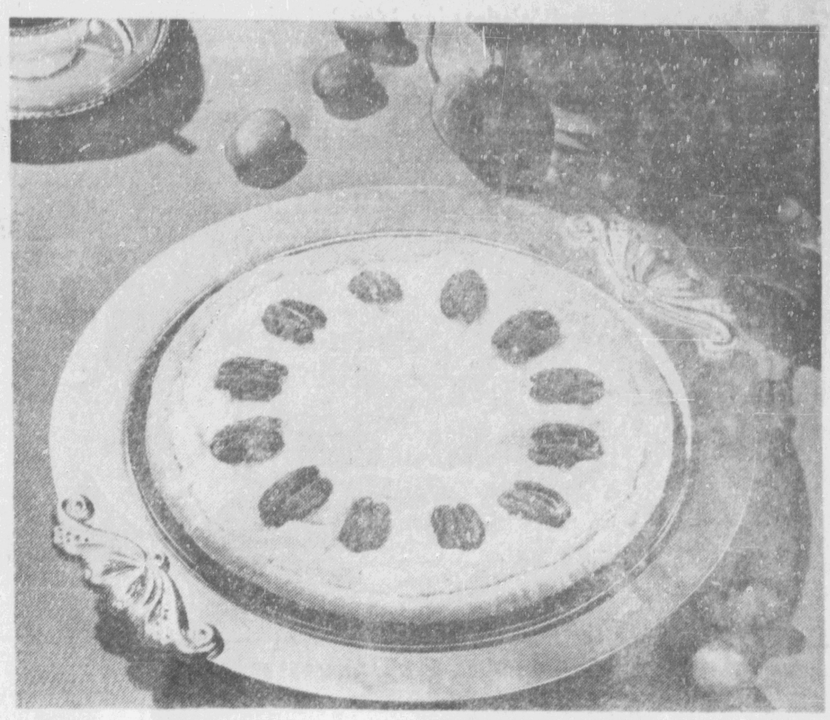
One of the most popular invitations these days is "Come for dessert and coffee" . . . and the canny hostess should take this opportunity to demonstrate her skill as a gourmet cook. Here is a confection which promises everything in the way of delicious eating and guaranteed to fimly establish your reputation as an M.K.A. (Master of Kitchen Arts!)

Orange Pecan shortbread is a dreamy combination of rich buttery shortbread, tangy orange marmalade and meringue topped with crunchy, flavorful pecans . . . and its glamorous appearance belies its easy-to-make preparation!

ORANGE PECAN SHORTBREAD

Shortbread:
½ cup butter
⅓ cup sugar
2 egg yolks
1 teaspoon vanilla
1¼ cups flour (all-purpose)
¼ teaspoon soda
¼ teaspoon salt
Filling:
1 cup orange marmalade
½ cup chopped pecans
Topping:
2 egg whites—beaten stiff but not dry
1 tablespon sugar
Pecan halves

Cream butter and sugar until fluffy. Add egg yolks and vanilla and beat well. Sift dry ingredients together and mix thoroughly, then add to butter mixture. Press into bottom and sides of a 9-inch pie pan. Spread marmalade on shortbread to form a layer of filling. Sprinkle chopped pecans over marmalade. Spread beaten egg whites over nuts and marmalade. Arrange pecan halves on topping. Sprinkle sugar over topping. Bake in moderate oven (350°)—30 minutes.



ORANGE PECAN shortbread is a dreamy combination of rich, buttery shortbread, tangy orange marmalade and meringue topped with crunchy, flavorful pecans . . . and its glamorous appearance belies its easy-to-make preparation.

LEAVING TRINITY LUTHERAN Church in San Rafael following their recent wedding are Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Robert Peterson. The bride, the former Lurline Melodee Raabe, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin P. Raabe of San Rafael. (Frigillana photo)

Lurline Raabe Wed In Trinity Lutheran

Residing in San Rafael following their recent wedding in Trinity Lutheran Church in San Rafael are Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Robert Peterson.

The bride, the former Lurline Melodee Raabe, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin P. Raabe of San Rafael. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Peterson of San Rafael.

Rev. Fred C. Braunschweiger officiated for the double ring 2 o'clock ceremony before an altar decorated with white gladioli, calla lilies and white stock.

Given in marriage by her grandfather, Edward Klemmensen of San Francisco, the bride wore a ballerina gown fashioned with basque bodice of satin, Sabrina neckline and long sleeves. Her fingertip veil was held by a coronet of lilies of the valley and she carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with a white orchid.

Nancy Tillinghast of San Rafael as maid of honor, and Gloria Pozniak of San Rafael, as bridesmaid, were gowned in pale orchid brocade sheaths styled with scalloped necklines. They had matching shoes and veils and carried nosegays of pink and white carnations.

Raymond Thompson of San Rafael acted as best man and Wayne Munciando was an usher.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Raabe wore a beige silk organza over apricot print peau de soie frock with matching accessories. The mother of the bridegroom chose a beige silk sheath with bone accessories. Both wore white orchids.

A reception for 100 guests followed the ceremony at the church where arrangements were of white gardenias and gladioli.

For a wedding trip to Carmel, the bride wore a blue and white suit with bone accessories.

The bride was graduated from San Rafael High School and is employed with America Fore Loyalty Group in San Francisco. She is the sister of Randall Raabe of San Rafael and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Klemmensen and Mrs. Michael DesCagnia all of San Francisco.

The bridegroom was graduated from San Rafael High and associated with his father at Willig Freight Lines. He is the brother of JoAnn and Lynette Peterson and Mrs. Normaln Fraser all of San Rafael. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bakke of Curtiss, Wis., are his grandparents.

Auction Highlights Blythedale Meeting

Highlight of the recent meeting of Mill Valley's Blythedale Rebekah No. 305 in the Odd Fellows Temple was a silent auction of jewelry, cosmetics, plants, dishes, doilies, napkins and tea towels.

During the business meeting Noble Grand Mrs. Walter J. Meyer called upon Mrs. John Robertson, district deputy president of District 61, and Orrie Anderson, vice grand of Mt. Tamalpais Lodge 399, IOOF, to speak to the lodge.

Mrs. Meyer was gowned in white and wore a corsage of lavender iris and white orchids, and vice grand Mrs. Tony Fontes wore a turquoise gown with a pink rose corsage.

The hall was decorated with baskets of colorful spring flowers, and a basket of calla lilies and snow drops was in front of the chaplain's station. Dining tables were adorned with yellow, pink and white artificial roses, fern and ivy and a vase of red roses.

Committee for the evening consisted of chairman Mrs. Joseph Zaborowski and Mesdames Mary Cooper and Ora Saunders.

Marin Women

All Westerners Attend Golden Nugget Social

Square dancers, cowboys, can-can girls and western style bartenders were among the capacity crowd at Rancho Nicasio recently when Lawyers' Wives of Marin staged its "Golden Nugget Social" for the benefit of Legal Aid in Marin County.

Outstanding for clever costuming were Judge and Mrs. Thomas Keating . . .Tom as an old -time sheriff and Maggie as a dance hall girl; Mr. and Mrs. Max Thelen as an elegant bartender and girl friend; Milton Schwartz resplendent in a Levi tuxedo owned by Bing Crosby and black ten-gallon hat; Mrs. Edward Boessenecker, president - elect of Lawyers' Wives clad in a brightly colored square - dancing outfit. Noted among the crowd were general chairman Mrs. Richard Bettini in fringed burlap complimenting Maggie Keating on the clever invitations which were mailed in tobacco pouches, the latter being duplicated at the party and filled with gold nuggets exchangeable for cocktails; Helen (Mrs. Thomas) Schaal receiving many admiring glances in her costume as placard girl for the floor show; Mrs. Roderick Martinelli and Walter Freitas both braving the Wild West atmosphere with leg casts . . . Beebee, dressed as an old prospector, joined the square dancers, cast and all; Walter, recuperating from a skiing mishap, remained on the sidelines.

Mrs. Melvin Stidham, decorations chairman, was on the receiving end of many compliments for the gold nugget decor which included a sluice box, gold nuggets on each table and a six-foot-wide pair of Levi's displayed on the wall as the county seat. The floor show, enjoyed as much by the participants as the audience, was made up of members of Lawyers' Wives of Marin and the Marin County Bar Association.

Kappa Delta Will Hold Installation

All Kappa Delta alumnae are invited to a meeting at the Tiburon home of Mrs. Kenneth Norberg tomorrow at 8 p.m.

Newly-elected officers of the association will be installed as follows: Mesdames Gordon Cochrane, president; Kenneth Norberg, vice president; Albert Williams, secretary; Andrew Noble, treasurer, and Harold Boerst, editor. Plans for the coming year will be discussed and refreshments served.

Kappa Delta recently presented a family of hand puppets to Marindale school.

Leaders To Discuss Scouts Play Day

Girl Scout troop leaders and assistant leaders in the San Rafael neighborhood are meeting today at the home of Mrs. G. William Magladry, neighborhood chairman, for the final meeting of the term.

Final plans for the Brownie and Intermediate Girl Scout Play Day to be held on May 6, 10:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., at Sky Oaks, Fairfax, will be made at the meeting. Mrs. Michael McNally, chairman for the Play Day is being assisted by Mesdames Robert Pingel, T. L. Smith and Henry Cook. Plans for the day include a flag ceremony, games, singing, hiking and demonstrations of camping skills.

Park School P-TA To Meet May 9

Mill Valley's Park School P-TA will meet for the last time until fall at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday, May 9, in the Park School auditorium. Officers will be installed.

According to Mrs. Richard L. Hood, extra-curricular chairman, instructors in the enrichment program will present their pupils in a program beginning at 3:20 p.m. Mrs. Jeanette Sagan and Mrs. Miriam Gygax are the teachers for the French classes, which will present a review, "Viola les Classes Francaises." Leo Christiansen's group will present recorder numbers.

'Get Acquainted' Party Planned In Terra Linda

More than 2,500 invitations have gone out to residents of Terra Linda to join in a "Get Acquainted" party on Saturday, May 6.

Hosts for the affair are occupants of the new community housing development Terra Linda Gardens with Fred Thomas, James Roddy and Mrs. Willis Bruns serving as committee heads.

Plans call for outdoor dancing, block party style; a fashion show featuring local models and an acquacade by the Ann Curtis Senior Synchronized Swim Team. Refreshments will be served around the new Terra Linda Gardens pool, and a series of awards made for the benefit of the Terra Linda Recreation District. Festivities are scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. with Terra Lindan Bill Endicott as master of ceremonies.

'It's In The Cards' Event Of Episcopal Churchwomen

"It's in the Cards" will be the theme of the annual dessert bridge given by the Episcopal Churchwomen of the Church of the Nativity tomorrow and Friday at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Henry Mullowney, chairman of the event, assisted by Mrs. Lawrence Solari and Mrs. Buel Snyder have planned a "Night for the Girls" tomorrow and an "Evening for Couples" on Friday. There will be four to six tables at various church members homes.

Hostessing "Night for the Girls" will be Mesdames Llewellyn White, Lawrence Solari, J. Park Mather and J. E. Hartinger. Couples bridge will be played at the homes of Dr. and Mrs. Gwynn Thomson, Mr. and Mrs. Howard McConnell, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mullowney, Mr. and Mrs. John Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Jay Barbeau.

"It's in the Cards" for wonderful high and low score prizes at each of the homes. This year prizes will be redwood planter boxes filled with colorful summer flowers. The boxes as well as being attractive have many uses. They may be hung or used on a patio or in the house. The flowers can be kept in the box or transplanted to a garden spot.

Desserts are also "In the Cards." Co-hostesses will provide desserts at each home. Some of them plan to surprise the bridge players with their culinary masterpieces, but a few of the women revealed what they plan to serve. Mrs. Glen Widdows will serve "make your own sundaes" at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Solari. Mrs. Robert Winniford plans a cheesecake for the bridge at the home of Mrs. Llewellyn White.

Reservations for "It's in the Cards" may be made with any of the hostesses or Mrs. Henry Mullowney, 625 Idylberry Dr., Lucas Valley.

Mill Valley School Plans Luau, May 13

The Mill Valley Cooperative Nursery School is enthusiastically planning a luau to be held at the Outdoor Art Clubhouse in Mill Valley Saturday, May 13.

The clubhouse will be turned into a Polynesian paradise with tropical flowers, ferns and leis for the occasion. Rum punch will be served from an eight-foot, handcarved canoe, and one of the impressive events of the evening will be the ceremony at the opening of the imu, the underground oven in which suckling pigs will be roasted.

Polynesian girls will serve the island food and explain each dish to the guests. After dinner entertainment will include Hawaiian hulas and comedy routines, the Samoan knife dance and Tahitian drum dances. Dancing will follow until 1:30 a.m.

Turia Nunes and Victor Bright are in charge of the luau.

Proceeds will go into the building fund of the school that parents hope will more adequately suit the needs of the children.

Information about the school may be obtained from Mrs. Richard Godino.

Fashions In Sports To Be Seen At Yacht Club's Auxiliary Show

A most unusual luncheon is being planned for May 17 by the Women's Auxiliary to the San Francisco Yacht Club in Belvedere. A "Fashion in Sports Parade" will be presented for club members and their guests.

A collection of appropriate action sports clothes and accoutrements from 10 categories will be paraded by Auxiliary models. Included in the parade will be tennis, golf, swimming, spectator, gardening, fishing, camping, riding and highlighted most, the sailing wear.

The luncheon will be at the yacht club and marks the opening of the yachting season, which this year was Sunday on the bay and next Sunday on the Belvedere Lagoon. Signal flags, water toys as well as patio barbecue displays will form part of the colorful decor for the luncheon.

Membership in the auxiliary is composed of boating enthusiasts or their wives from throughout the Bay Area. Several owners of yachts will entertain at cocktails on their boats before the luncheon.

Mrs. H. Cayford Burrell is chairman of the event and Mrs. W. J. Ferguson, co-chairman. On their committee are Mrs. John Cooke, invitations; Mesdames David Mushet, Robert Fortini and Eugene Rauscher, decorations; Mesdames Robert Davies, Kirby Atterbury and Samuel Fordyce, tables and seating; Mesdames John Moore and Basil Knauth, exhibits.

Modeling will be Mesdames Perry Harris, Michael Shea, Howard Haswell, Robert Boat, Kirby Atterbury, J. C. Tibbets, John Wiley, Robert Bernheim and Paul de Silva.

Farewell Parties For Mrs. Wilson Of Mill Valley

Mrs. Stanley Wilson of Mill Valley, who will be moving to Carmel Woods with her husband soon, has been honored at several farewell parties with others planned.

A member of the Outdoor Art Club three years and of the Mill Valley Unit of the United Voluntary Services nine years, Mrs. Wilson was entertained at a luncheon last week by unit president Mrs. Frederick Fellows and presented with a rhododendron for her new garden in Carmel.

Attending the luncheon were Mesdames Charles Campomenosi, J. C. Petersen, Erna Wegscheider, Nevilla G. Adams, Archer B. Forsyth, F. J. Sur, Adoph Biggio and Mary Bogan.

Invited but unable to be present were Mesdames Wayne Bingham and Philip Schafer.

Thursday Mrs. Wilson was feted at a tea given in the Mill Valley home of Mrs. Forsyth. Those attending were Mesdames Thomas F. Ford of San Rafael and her mother, Mrs. Margaret Lewis, who is visiting from Santa Cruz, and Mesdames Godfrey Ita, Neville G. Adams, Geoffrey Ley, Elizabeth Fennell, Purcell Weaver and Violet Haack, all of Mill Valley.

The Wilsons were also entertained at a dinner on Treasure Island given by their neighbors, the Milford Jennings and Earl Brennans.

Golden Star Program

A Mother's Day program will be presented at tomorrow night's meeting of Golden Star Rebekah Lodge at the IOOF Temple, San Rafael by the men members of the lodge, who will also serve refreshments. A.F.E. DaSilva is chairman and John Stirling, co-chairman. All Rebekah members are invited. Mrs. Clifford Winegarden, noble grand, will preside at the 8 o'clock business meeting preceding the program.

Girl Scout Troops Take Advantage Of The Weather

Out-of-door trips are being enjoyed by Girl Scout troops to take advantage of Marin's spring weather.

Second grade Brownie Troop 51 of Tiburon School invited the members of Brownie Troop 39 of Bel Aire School, and their leader Mrs. P. S. Blair, to tour Old St. Hilary's Catholic Church, the historical land mark on Tiburon hillside last week. Troop 51, with their leader Mrs. David Ellman, also enjoyed a tour of Dickey House, the Audubon Society Bird Sanctuary. Their meeting this week will find them in Muir Woods where they will tour the park with a ranger as guide.

Corte Madera Brownie Troop 105 spent a day at the zoo in San Francisco recently. Accompanied by Mesdames R. M. Strittmatter, K. C. Thompson, Jack Henderson, James Nuschy and Aubrey Haynes, the third graders from Neil Cummins School also visited "Storyland". Another afternoon found them touring Marin General Hospital with Pink Lady, Mrs. Charles Cooney. The Brownies presented a scrapbook which they had made for the young patients.

A recent visit to the Fort Baker Girl Scout Troop was made by Troop 94 from Bel Aire School. The fifth graders were entertained and stayed for the Army Retreat ceremony. With their leader, Mrs. Ernest Guy, the Intermediate Scouts made the preparations for a backyard cookout last week at the Belveron Garden home of Mrs. Paul Blair.

The members of Brownie Troop 260 visited the San Rafael Fire Department where they were greeted by fireman George Canessa, who conducted them on the tour. The Santa Venetia girls, who attend Blessed Sacrament and Oliver Hartzell Schools, are working on puppet shows which they will present at Marin General Hospital this month when they visit. Their leaders are Mrs. Robert Mertle and Mrs. Richard Farrington.

A meeting of the Rainbow Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was the destination of fourth grade Brownie Troop 125, when they visited San Francisco with their fathers. The Corte Madera troop was presented with a 50-star American Flag by the Posts The arrangements for the special presentation were made by Post Quartermaster Mack E. Hall.

Many Attractions For Laurel Dell P-TA Carnival May 13

On May 13 the playground at Laurel Dell Primary School will be transformed into a setting for the school P-TA's annual festival. The aim is fun for everyone and there will be a wide variety of attractions to insure it. The hours will be from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

This is the largest fund-raising project of the year and parents, teachers as well as students work hard to make it successful.

Under the general direction of Mrs. Thomas Faraday and Mrs. Donald Anderson, each classroom is in charge of one booth.

Mrs. Alfred Curry and Mrs. Clarence Zeiler will have charge of the lunchroom; Mrs. Ralph Tollestrup, the Duck Pond; Mrs. Allen Bachman, the Fish Bowl; Mrs. Mervyn Weiss, Bobo the Clown; and Mrs. Robert Greene, the Fishing Pond and Dig for Gold for the preschool children.

A large attendance is anticipated at the make-up booth where trained personnel and paper hats will magically transform ordinary girls and boys into queens, movie stars, Indians, Chinese, pirates and other characters. Mrs. Jack Chesterman and Mrs. Donald Trombley will be co-chairmen of the booth.

The bakery and home delicacies are in charge of Mrs. Jack O'Shaughnessy; the Bowling Alley, Mrs. Aldo Crove; hot dogs, Mrs. David Young; the Snow-Cones, Mrs. Roy Beaudoin; and the Grab Bag, Mrs. David Shields. Mrs. Lester Ecke will be in charge of the Flower Stall.

The P-TA board will have charge of the Country Store; the Cub Scouts the game booth and ice cream; the Webelos, the soft drinks; the teachers, the games; the Bluebirds, children's books and records; and the Sixth Grade Campfire Girls, under the direction of Mrs. Ernest Caillat, will make and decorate gingerbread men for sale.

One of the highlights of the day will be a full length feature film in color, "Red Stallion in the Rockies," presented by the teachers of Laurel Dell.

An invitation to attend is extended to the public.

NEWLYWEDS IN NOVATO

Residing in Novato are the recently married Richard Turners. The bridegroom is the son of Hugh Turner, manager of Radio Station KTIM, and Mrs. Turner, who also live in Novato. The bride, the former Elizabeth Hoodeley Cotton, is the daughter of Mrs. Lydia Cotton of Novato and sister of Alice, Patrick and Michael Cotton. Elizabeth is a graduate of Novato High School.

The new benedict, brother of Ronald and Irene Turner, is a graduate of San Rafael High School and attended College of Marin.

The young couple was united in marriage April 25 by Judge H. A. Van Der Zee of San Francisco in his chambers.

Mrs. Young Is Hostess At Luncheon

Mrs. R. A. Young Jr. of Mill Valley was hostess Friday and tour guide to a group of 24 wives of officials of the western division of the American Assn. of State Compensation Funds attending a two-day conference in San Francisco.

Mrs. Young, who is the wife of the assistant general manager for California, arranged a luncheon at Alta Mira Hotel in Sausalito, followed by a tour of Muir Woods. Each of the guests received a two-orchid corsage, all sent by Howard Gill, a branch manager in Los Angeles who grows the flowers.

Of interest to all workers were the points stressed during the conference that rehabilitation should be concerned with returning injured employees to work, not merely with cash damages, and that accident prevention and industrial hazards to health are the great challenges.

Attending the luncheon and tour were Mrs. Francis Cancelliere of Novato, Mesdames Earl R. Howard, John Sketchly, A. A. Hillberg and John H. England of San Francisco and Ira J. Hillman, Thomas P. Healy and Joseph M. Lowery of Los Angeles.

From other California towns were Mesdames Frank Graeber of Bakersfield, Dan Raymond of Eureka, Robert Hassard of Oakland, Rolland McDevitt of Chico, Everett Bryan of Menlo Park and Howard E. Brownson of Redding.

From other states were Mesdames Roy G. Green, R. G Savage and Francis Ely of Salem, Ore.; A. O. Wilie of Olympia, Wash.; Herbert Wortman, Sheldon Sullivan, Harold Thompson and H. N. Hensley of Denver, Colo.; Gerald Warn of Boise, Idaho, and John P. Eden of New York.

Tamar Chapter Meets On May 10

The Tamar Chapter of B'nai B'rith Women will meet Wednesday, May 10, at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Melvin Segal, 391 Devin Drive, Terra Linda.

Highlight of the evening will be a tape recording narrated by Jeff Chandler entitled, "The Challenge." This is a dramatic presentation on all phases of B'nai B'rith.

Arrangements are also being made for a wine tasting party. Committees will be appointed and plans completed for this, the chapter's first social event.

Anyone interested in attending the meeting is asked to notify Mrs. Melvin Segal of Terra Linda or Mrs. Gerald Weisbach of Mill Valley.

GET A HORSE—and trot down to Strawberry Round-Up Day. Getting in a Western mood for the annual community event to be held Saturday, May 13th on the school grounds is Mrs. Robert Nickoloff, decorations chairman, tempting "Duster" with geraniums. Mounted on the horse, owned by the Vernon Koehlers, is Kathleen Clark, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William Clark. Dr. Clark is president of the Strawberry Point P-TA.

Western Theme For Strawberry Festival

Strawberry is a beehive of activity these days, as for the eighth year, residents of the community, young and old are vigorously painting bright posters, hammering booths, preparing prized cake recipes, slipping their favorite fuchsias, cutting out paper clown hats and rounding up helpers for the big fund-raising event of the year to be held Saturday, May 13.

Sponsored by the Strawberry Point Parent-Teacher Association the event will be held on the school grounds.

This year the festival is going Western in a big way and "Round-up Day" will begin at 1 p.m. with a flag ceremony on horseback. Ready for all to enjoy will be "Ghost Town" (the fun house), "Pioneer Pantry," "Ranch Posies," "Gold Nugget Auction" and "The Old Trading Post."

"War Paint" will be applied at the makeup booth and there will be hay rides and food and drink galore. Visitors can munch on Cow Poke candy, Indian corn, Snow Cone Tepees and Steerburgers and then wander down to Lemonade Creek and Cotton Candy Corral.

A mouth watering chuck wagon dinner will be served starting at 4:30 p.m.

And while all of this is going on there will be three talent shows given from a "covered wagon" stage with Master of Ceremonies Stanley Gallagher. Everyone is asked to come in cowboy clothes as there will be a colorful parade and prizes for young and old for the most effective costumes.

Proceeds of the Festival will be used to beautify the school grounds and add books to the library.

Among the hard-working chairmen are Mesdames Tom Barca, Charles Drolla, Edward Smith, John Linker, N. L. Petrakis, Ralph Cole, Alfred Goldberg, J. W. Binckley, J. C. Gobershock, William Clark, A. Marchini and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Koski.

'Memo To A Modern Mother' Theme For Fashion Focus

Take a fashion memo, Miss Jones! Address: The Modern Mother.

If you are this modern mother, then Fashion Focus is sending you a newsy memo via summer fashions from a Marin shop next Tuesday at Rickey's popular Fashion Focus luncheon—a memo to the modern mother who regardless of age, feels young, thinks young, and offers fresh young ideas to her community.

Refreshing symbol of this modern mother who combines homemaking with community service is Tuesday's honored organization, the Lucas Valley Hospital Auxiliary.

This newest of Marin's volunteer hospital organizations was formed under the auspices of the San Rafael Improvement Club. Serving food at meal time, writing letters for the patients, working in the rehabilitation room, staffing the beauty salon, etc. are just a few of the vital services performed by the Lucas Valley Hospital Auxiliary volunteers with a special measure of affection, patience and a friendly smile.

On Tuesday, six of the attractive Lucas Valley Hospital Auxiliary members will promenade the fashionable "Memos To a Modern Mother" chosen by Lois Nacca of a San Rafael shop as perfect for a summer of fun.

Tuesday memos might say "Always Bright Color," "Be Pretty By the Pool" or "Make Mine for Men." Each will be short, sweet and to the point of summer fashion: Look Lovely.

Brightening the coffers of a special fund planned by the LV Hospital Auxiliary for equipment in the rehabilitation room and for the occupational therapy program will be the proceeds from the Tuesday surprises.

Reservations to enjoy "Memo To a Modern Mother" on Tuesday at Fashion Focus may be made by calling Rickey's.

Terra Linda Dorcas Stars New Project

The Dorcas Guild of the Resurrection Lutheran Church, Terra Linda, will meet at 8 o'clock tonight at the home of Mrs. John Ross, 383 Holly Drive, Terra Linda.

Members will begin work on a craft project to be sold at the Needle Nook in Oakland. Proceeds of the shop are used to support the Good Shephard Lutheran Home for retarded children in Terra Bella, Calif.

PAST PRESIDENTS OF LEAGUE WILL BE SALUTED AT BALL

Twenty-two Past Presidents of the Junior League of San Francisco, Inc., and the League's current President will be seated at ringside tables in the Garden Court of the Sheraton-Palace Hotel at the Junior League's Fiftieth Anniversary Ball on Friday evening, May 12.

Each of the 23 will be saluted at midnight with Philip S. Boone, whose wife is anniversary chairman, presiding as master of ceremonies.

The Anniversary Ball, Portals of the Past, which is climaxing the Fiftieth Anniversary celebration of the League will recreate the dazzling decor of the Famous Sharon Ball of a half-century ago. Mrs. Edward Griffith is Anniversary Ball chairman.

Presidents who will be honored are the Mesdames Thomas Thacher (1917-18); Nion Tucker (1918-19); Henry Wolff (1919-20); Harry Montgomery (1920-21); Horace B. Clifton (1929-30); Henry Cartan (1931-33); John G. Levison (1933-35); Constance Stevenson (1935-36); W. Lister Rogers (1937-39); Ernst Ophuls (1940-41); Joseph G. Moore (1941-42); Stanley Whitaker (1942-43); Joseph A. Moore Jr. (1943-45); James Harmon (1945-47); Thomas R. Dwyer (1947-49); Stuart L. Rawlings Jr. (1949-51); Lawrence V. Metcalf (1953-54); Sidney Lawrence Jr. (1954-55); William Knapp (1956-57); Austin Morris (1957-59); Carl Livingston Jr. (1959-60); James Lowe Hall Jr. (1960-61), and Mrs. F. W. Peter McChesney, the league's current president.

The Ball, which is open to all past and present members of the League, is a Subscription Party whose cost will be underwritten by the League members attending.

To Get Acquainted Group Meets Thursday

TGA—To Get Acquainted, a group recently formed by the young Catholic adults in Marin County, will hold their next meeting on Thursday.

Moderator of the group, Rev. John Mullen, will begin the meeting at 7:45 p.m. at St. Raphael's Social Hall in San Rafael. Mr. William Brannan of the Serra Club will be the guest speaker.

All single adults who have graduated from high school are invited to attend.

NCO Wives Club Has Costume Party

A Gay Nineties costume party sponsored by the Non-Commissioned Officers' Wives Club was held recently at the Non-Commissioned Officers' Club at Hamilton Air Force Base.

A covered dish supper was served and guests were entertained by an orchestra and Vince Silk, a well-known comic.

First prize was awarded to Mrs. James Pinski, a dance hall girl costume, and Staff Sergeant B. J. Moore, a suave gentleman costume.

SUZANNE BENNO, whose engagement to Larry Dale Hart has been revealed by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Benno of San Anselmo. Suzanne and her fiance are both students at San Jose State College.

ROMANCE AT SAN JOSE COLLEGE TOLD

A romance at San Jose State College has been revealed with the announcement by Mr. and Mrs. William H. Benno of San Anselmo that their daughter, Suzanne Benno, is engaged to Larry Dale Hart. Suzanne is a junior at the college and her fiance is a senior.

Suzanne is a graduate of Petaluma High School and attended University of the Pacific. She is the sister of Kent M. Benno of Mountain View and granddaughter of Ora L. Convey, Mrs. Vivian Benno and Lee C. Benno, all of Long Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy C. Hart of Felton, Santa Cruz Co., are parents of the future benedict. He is a graduate of Arroyo Grande High School in San Luis Obispo Co. and attended Napa Junior College where he was student body president. He has one brother, Eddie Hart.

Plans are being made for a July wedding.

Virginia Shattuck Addresses NCO Wives

Virginia Shattuck of the Pacific Gas & Electric Co. was guest speaker at the recent monthly tea given by the Non-Commissioned Officers' Wives Club of Hamilton Air Force Base.

Miss Shattuck's talk was on outdoor entertaining.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Jerome Lipscomb and Mrs. Jimmie Murphy.

Square Dancers Have Graduation

The Buzzin' Boots joined with its intermediate group, Budding Booties, for graduation exercises recently at Star Hall, San Anselmo.

The evening began with a pot-luck supper.

President Karl Reavell congratulated each one as Bill Owen presented the diplomas.

The intermediate group are: Linda Bullock, Donald Calloway, Frank and Nettie Clark, Andy and Delcy Curtin, Dora Farr, Hilda and Albert Galbraith, Ed and Catherine Ghiringhelli, Marge and Norm Hadley, Ron Harkleroad, Adeline and Jack Johnson, Chris Jones, Lenore and Frank Kartozian, Mae Kirkland, Barbara Lear, Betty and Leo March, Kathy Mudge, Ernest Nahapiet, Barbara and Val Nichelini, Lillian and Jack Olds, Lois and Percy Paulson, Barbara Raymond, Alan Ross, Esm'ae and Wallace Shields, Carol and Douglas Smith, Janet and Paul Stang, Elizabeth Stocker, DonaRae and Robert Thayer, Clyde Tynes, York Westgate, Marsha and David Wilson, Armand Zimmerlin and Kathy Neil.

There were 10 squares dancing. Dancing will resume Friday at 8:30 p.m. All square dancers are welcome.

Denise Abramson Marks Birthday

Something new in birthday parties was planned by Denise Louise Abramson to celebrate her eighth birthday last Saturday. Denise invited several of her second grade classmates at the Tiburon School to come for breakfast. The group then went to San Francisco for the early showing of "The Absent Minded Professor." Denise's sister, Karen Jaye, also attended.

Denise is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michell N. Abramson Jr. of Hill Haven.

Bonnie Hubbard's KUPBOARD®

FUN WITH FOOD AND HELPFUL HINTS

The best of friends may argue over a recipe but the best of cooks are sure to agree about GOLDEN GRAIN Spaghetti. Tender, quick-cooking spaghetti, it needs only one thing more for flavor—GOLDEN GRAIN Marinara Sauce, spicy with real Italian herbs, rich with ripe tomatoes. For a quick, enjoyable meal, just heat GOLDEN GRAIN Marinara Sauce and toss with GOLDEN GRAIN Spaghetti.

This is "Bringing Up Baby" Week, the right time to get acquainted with all the wonderful products for babies you'll find on the GERBER shelf in your store. You'll like the new "Shop-Easy" labels for instant identification of each food (no need to read 8 labels to find Creamed Spinach!) Another timesaver: bright blue cans for Strained Foods; bright red for Junior.

Little Leaguers enjoy the plaudits of the throng but better still is a slice of bread and jam after the game! LADY'S CHOICE Peach or Apricot Jam, with its sweet, summery aroma, just hits the spot; so does Strawberry—ask any young southpaw! When you buy these tempting jams and jellies, look for the new LADY'S CHOICE jars, easy to open and to store in a cupboard.

You always find crisp, young vegetables under the C&W brand; I am especially fond of the Baby Lima Beans cooked with ham. Simmer bits of leftover ham in the water first, then add the little beans and cook just until tender. Drain, leaving the ham, and serve with a cap of dairy sour cream. It's a luxurious dish, but C & W Frozen Baby Lima Beans always taste luxurious!

★ Lettuce will stay green longer in the refrigerator if dried thoroughly before being stored in a towel or plastic bag.

Youth looks at the world through rose-colored glasses, they say. But these hamburgers are truly rosy—also delectable! Make 12 meat patties as usual but sandwich in pairs, with onion and pickle slices between; seal edges. Brown quickly in hot oven. Combine ½ cup HEINZ Tomato Ketchup and 2 Tb. water, spoon over the patties and bake 10 minutes. Serve in toasted buns.

Molded salads save work and are always enjoyed. Here's a real party-salad for eight: Combine ½ cup each, chopped ripe olives, sliced almonds and chopped hard-cooked eggs. Add 2 cups WHITE STAR Tuna and fold into 1 cup sour cream and 1 cup mayonnaise which have been thickened with gelatine. Season with onion salt and lemon juice and chill until firm.

Every mother wants to keep her baby as sweet and dainty as a flower. But it isn't always easy, particularly at mealtimes. SANI-CLOR, the very gentle liquid bleach, removes stains from bibs and other clothing; leaves fabrics safe for baby's delicate skin. Use it on the high chair and on all washable toys; SANI-CLOR cleanses and deodorizes and sanitizes safely.

With the first warm days, many a pet seems to lose appetite. But if the meals he does eat are well-balanced nutritionally, it won't hurt your four-footer to eat a bit less. That's why HOLSUM Dog Food is so wise a choice; fresh meat and ground bone, fish, cereal and vegetables are combined with added minerals and vitamins; HOLSUM is an all-year pet ration.

That's all for now! See you next week! Bonnie Hubbard

Lurline Raabe Wed In Trinity Lutheran

Residing in San Rafael following their recent wedding in Trinity Lutheran Church in San Rafael are Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Robert Peterson.

The bride, the former Lurline Melodee Raabe, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin P. Raabe of San Rafael. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Peterson of San Rafael.

Rev. Fred C. Braunschweiger officiated for the double ring 2 o'clock ceremony before an altar decorated with white gladioli, calla lilies and white stock.

Given in marriage by her grandfather, Edward Klemmensen of San Francisco, the bride wore a ballerina gown fashioned with basque bodice of satin, Sabrina neckline and long sleeves. Her fingertip veil was held by a coronet of lilies of the valley and she carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with a white orchid.

Nancy Tillinghast of San Rafael as maid of honor, and Gloria Pozniak of San Rafael, as bridesmaid, were gowned in pale orchid brocade sheaths styled with scalloped necklines. They had matching shoes and veils and carried nosegays of pink and white carnations.

Raymond Thompson of San Rafael acted as best man and Wayne Munciando was an usher.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Raabe wore a beige silk organza over apricot print peau de soie frock with matching accessories. The mother of the bridegroom chose a beige silk sheath with bone accessories. Both wore white orchids.

A reception for 100 guests followed the ceremony at the church where arrangements were of white gardenias and gladioli.

For a wedding trip to Carmel, the bride wore a blue and white suit with bone accessories.

The bride was graduated from San Rafael High School and is employed with America Fore Loyalty Group in San Francisco. She is the sister of Randall Raabe of San Rafael and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Klemmensen and Mrs. Michael DesCagnia all of San Francisco.

The bridegroom was graduated from San Rafael High and associated with his father at Willig Freight Lines. He is the brother of JoAnn and Lynette Peterson and Mrs. Normaln Fraser all of San Rafael. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bakke of Curtiss, Wis., are his grandparents.

BOB McGRATH TO MARRY IN FALL

Announced is the engagement of Patricia Ann Farbstein and Robert Joseph McGrath. The bride - elect, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Farbstein of San Francisco, is a graduate of Notre Dame High School in San Francisco and Dominican College.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo J. McGrath of Corte Madera are parents of the future benedict. He is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School and Stanford University where he was affiliated with Sigma Chi fraternity. He has one brother, Joseph O. McGrath, of Corte Madera.

The bride-elect has two brothers, Allan Farbstein of San Francisco and Donald Farbstein of San Mateo.

A wedding in September is being planned.

MR. AND MRS. John C. Oglesby of San Rafael are photographed on the deck of American President Lines' SS President Wilson just prior to the ship's recent departure from San Francisco for the Orient. Mr. and Mrs. Oglesby are sailing with 150 other Rotarians—all of whose common destination is the Rotary International Convention in Tokyo convening May 28.

Auction Highlights Blythedale Meeting

Highlight of the recent meeting of Mill Valley's Blythedale Rebekah No. 305 in the Odd Fellows Temple was a silent auction of jewelry, cosmetics, plants, dishes, doilies, napkins and tea towels.

During the business meeting Noble Grand Mrs. Walter J. Meyer called upon Mrs. John Robertson, district deputy president of District 61, and Orrie Anderson, vice grand of Mt. Tamalpais Lodge 399, IOOF, to speak to the lodge.

Mrs. Meyer was gowned in white and wore a corsage of lavender iris and white orchids, and vice grand Mrs. Tony Fontes wore a turquoise gown with a pink rose corsage.

The hall was decorated with baskets of colorful spring flowers, and a basket of calla lilies and snow drops was in front of the chaplain's station. Dining tables were adorned with yellow, pink and white artificial roses, fern and ivy and a vase of red roses.

Committee for the evening consisted of chairman Mrs. Joseph Zaborowski and Mesdames Mary Cooper and Ora Saunders.

Marin Women

All Westerners Attend Golden Nugget Social

Square dancers, cowboys, can-can girls and western style bartenders were among the capacity crowd at Rancho Nicasio recently when Lawyers' Wives of Marin staged its "Golden Nugget Social" for the benefit of Legal Aid in Marin County.

Outstanding for clever costuming were Judge and Mrs. Thomas Keating . . .Tom as an old -time sheriff and Maggie as a dance hall girl; Mr. and Mrs. Max Thelen as an elegant bartender and girl friend; Milton Schwartz resplendent in a Levi tuxedo owned by Bing Crosby and black ten-gallon hat; Mrs. Edward Boessenecker, president - elect of Lawyers' Wives clad in a brightly colored square - dancing outfit. Noted among the crowd were general chairman Mrs. Richard Bettini in fringed burlap complimenting Maggie Keating on the clever invitations which were mailed in tobacco pouches, the latter being duplicated at the party and filled with gold nuggets exchangeable for cocktails; Helen (Mrs. Thomas) Schaal receiving many admiring glances in her costume as placard girl for the floor show; Mrs. Roderick Martinelli and Walter Freitas both braving the Wild West atmosphere with leg casts . . . Beebee, dressed as an old prospector, joined the square dancers, cast and all; Walter, recuperating from a skiing mishap, remained on the sidelines.

Mrs. Melvin Stidham, decorations chairman, was on the receiving end of many compliments for the gold nugget decor which included a sluice box, gold nuggets on each table and a six-foot-wide pair of Levi's displayed on the wall as the county seat. The floor show, enjoyed as much by the participants as the audience, was made up of members of Lawyers' Wives of Marin and the Marin County Bar Association.

'It's In The Cards' Event Of Episcopal Churchwomen

"It's in the Cards" will be the theme of the annual dessert bridge given by the Episcopal Churchwomen of the Church of the Nativity tomorrow and Friday at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Henry Mullowney, chairman of the event, assisted by Mrs. Lawrence Solari and Mrs. Buel Snyder have planned a "Night for the Girls" tomorrow and an "Evening for Couples" on Friday. There will be four to six tables at various church members homes.

Hostessing "Night for the Girls" will be Mesdames Llewellyn White, Lawrence Solari, J. Park Mather and J. E. Hartinger. Couples bridge will be played at the homes of Dr. and Mrs. Gwynn Thomson, Mr. and Mrs. Howard McConnell, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mullowney, Mr. and Mrs. John Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Jay Barbeau.

"It's in the Cards" for wonderful high and low score prizes at each of the homes. This year prizes will be redwood planter boxes filled with colorful summer flowers. The boxes as well as being attractive have many uses. They may be hung or used on a patio or in the house. The flowers can be kept in the box or transplanted to a garden spot.

Desserts are also "In the Cards." Co-hostesses will provide desserts at each home. Some of them plan to surprise the bridge players with their culinary masterpieces, but a few of the women revealed what they plan to serve. Mrs. Glen Widdows will serve "make your own sundaes" at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Solari. Mrs. Robert Winniford plans a cheesecake for the bridge at the home of Mrs. Llewellyn White.

Reservations for "It's in the Cards" may be made with any of the hostesses or Mrs. Henry Mullowney, 625 Idylberry Dr., Lucas Valley.

Kappa Delta Will Hold Installation

All Kappa Delta alumnae are invited to a meeting at the Tiburon home of Mrs. Kenneth Norberg tomorrow at 8 p.m.

Newly-elected officers of the association will be installed as follows: Mesdames Gordon Cochrane, president; Kenneth Norberg, vice president; Albert Williams, secretary; Andrew Noble, treasurer, and Harold Boerst, editor. Plans for the coming year will be discussed and refreshments served.

Kappa Delta recently presented a family of hand puppets to Marindale school.

'Get Acquainted' Party Planned In Terra Linda

More than 2,500 invitations have gone out to residents of Terra Linda to join in a "Get Acquainted" party on Saturday, May 6.

Hosts for the affair are occupants of the new community housing development Terra Linda Gardens with Fred Thomas, James Roddy and Mrs. Willis Bruns serving as committee heads.

Plans call for outdoor dancing, block party style; a fashion show featuring local models and an acquacade by the Ann Curtis Senior Synchronized Swim Team. Refreshments will be served around the new Terra Linda Gardens pool, and a series of awards made for the benefit of the Terra Linda Recreation District. Festivities are scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. with Terra Lindan Bill Endicott as master of ceremonies.

Park School P-TA To Meet May 9

Mill Valley's Park School P-TA will meet for the last time until fall at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday, May 9, in the Park School auditorium. Officers will be installed.

According to Mrs. Richard L. Hood, extra-curricular chairman, instructors in the enrichment program will present their pupils in a program beginning at 3:20 p.m. Mrs. Jeanette Sagan and Mrs. Miriam Gygax are the teachers for the French classes, which will present a review, "Viola les Classes Francaises." Leo Christiansen's group will present recorder numbers.

Leaders To Discuss Scouts Play Day

Girl Scout troop leaders and assistant leaders in the San Rafael neighborhood are meeting today at the home of Mrs. G. William Magladry, neighborhood chairman, for the final meeting of the term.

Final plans for the Brownie and Intermediate Girl Scout Play Day to be held on May 6, 10:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., at Sky Oaks, Fairfax, will be made at the meeting. Mrs. Michael McNally, chairman for the Play Day is being assisted by Mesdames Robert Pingel, T. L. Smith and Henry Cook. Plans for the day include a flag ceremony, games, singing, hiking and demonstrations of camping skills.

ONE OF THE authentic notes at the Mill Valley Cooperative Nursery School's May 13 luau will be this eight foot handcarved canoe, from which punch will be served. Drinking a toast to the success of the affair are, from left, Mesdames William Marshall, Manuel Lehua, Turia Nunes, Victor Bright and Robert Biacalana.

Mrs. Young Is Hostess At Luncheon

Mrs. R. A. Young Jr. of Mill Valley was hostess Friday and tour guide to a group of 24 wives of officials of the western division of the American Assn. of State Compensation Funds attending a two-day conference in San Francisco.

Mrs. Young, who is the wife of the assistant general manager for California, arranged a luncheon at Alta Mira Hotel in Sausalito, followed by a tour of Muir Woods. Each of the guests received a two-orchid corsage, all sent by Howard Gill, a branch manager in Los Angeles who grows the flowers.

Of interest to all workers were the points stressed during the conference that rehabilitation should be concerned with returning injured employees to work, not merely with cash damages, and that accident prevention and industrial hazards to health are the great challenges.

Attending the luncheon and tour were Mrs. Francis Cancelliere of Novato, Mesdames Earl R. Howard, John Sketchly, A. A. Hillberg and John H. England of San Francisco and Ira J. Hillman, Thomas P. Healy and Joseph M. Lowery of Los Angeles.

From other California towns were Mesdames Frank Graeber of Bakersfield, Dan Raymond of Eureka, Robert Hassard of Oakland, Rolland McDevitt of Chico, Everett Bryan of Menlo Park and Howard E. Brownson of Redding.

From other states were Mesdames Roy G. Green, R. G Savage and Francis Ely of Salem, Ore.; A. O. Wilie of Olympia, Wash.; Herbert Wortman, Sheldon Sullivan, Harold Thompson and H. N. Hensley of Denver, Colo.; Gerald Warn of Boise, Idaho, and John P. Eden of New York.

Mill Valley School Plans Luau, May 13

The Mill Valley Cooperative Nursery School is enthusiastically planning a luau to be held at the Outdoor Art Clubhouse in Mill Valley Saturday, May 13.

The clubhouse will be turned into a Polynesian paradise with tropical flowers, ferns and leis for the occasion. Rum punch will be served from an eight-foot, handcarved canoe, and one of the impressive events of the evening will be the ceremony at the opening of the imu, the underground oven in which suckling pigs will be roasted.

Polynesian girls will serve the island food and explain each dish to the guests. After dinner entertainment will include Hawaiian hulas and comedy routines, the Samoan knife dance and Tahitian drum dances. Dancing will follow until 1:30 a.m.

Turia Nunes and Victor Bright are in charge of the luau.

Proceeds will go into the building fund of the school that parents hope will more adequately suit the needs of the children.

Information about the school may be obtained from Mrs. Richard Godino.

Fashions In Sports To Be Seen At Yacht Club's Auxiliary Show

A most unusual luncheon is being planned for May 17 by the Women's Auxiliary to the San Francisco Yacht Club in Belvedere. A "Fashion in Sports Parade" will be presented for club members and their guests.

A collection of appropriate action sports clothes and accoutrements from 10 categories will be paraded by Auxiliary models. Included in the parade will be tennis, golf, swimming, spectator, gardening, fishing, camping, riding and highlighted most, the sailing wear.

The luncheon will be at the yacht club and marks the opening of the yachting season, which this year was Sunday on the bay and next Sunday on the Belvedere Lagoon. Signal flags, water toys as well as patio barbecue displays will form part of the colorful decor for the luncheon.

Membership in the auxiliary is composed of boating enthusiasts or their wives from throughout the Bay Area. Several owners of yachts will entertain at cocktails on their boats before the luncheon.

Mrs. H. Cayford Burrell is chairman of the event and Mrs. W. J. Ferguson, co-chairman. On their committee are Mrs. John Cooke, invitations; Mesdames David Mushet, Robert Fortini and Eugene Rauscher, decorations; Mesdames Robert Davies, Kirby Atterbury and Samuel Fordyce, tables and seating; Mesdames John Moore and Basil Knauth, exhibits.

Modeling will be Mesdames Perry Harris, Michael Shea, Howard Haswell, Robert Boat, Kirby Atterbury, J. C. Tibbets, John Wiley, Robert Bernheim and Paul de Silva.

Farewell Parties For Mrs. Wilson Of Mill Valley

Mrs. Stanley Wilson of Mill Valley, who will be moving to Carmel Woods with her husband soon, has been honored at several farewell parties with others planned.

A member of the Outdoor Art Club three years and of the Mill Valley Unit of the United Voluntary Services nine years, Mrs. Wilson was entertained at a luncheon last week by unit president Mrs. Frederick Fellows and presented with a rhododendron for her new garden in Carmel.

Attending the luncheon were Mesdames Charles Campomenosi, J. C. Petersen, Erna Wegscheider, Nevilla G. Adams, Archer B. Forsyth, F. J. Sur, Adoph Biggio and Mary Bogan.

Invited but unable to be present were Mesdames Wayne Bingham and Philip Schafer.

Thursday Mrs. Wilson was feted at a tea given in the Mill Valley home of Mrs. Forsyth. Those attending were Mesdames Thomas F. Ford of San Rafael and her mother, Mrs. Margaret Lewis, who is visiting from Santa Cruz, and Mesdames Godfrey Ita, Neville G. Adams, Geoffrey Ley, Elizabeth Fennell, Purcell Weaver and Violet Haack, all of Mill Valley.

The Wilsons were also entertained at a dinner on Treasure Island given by their neighbors, the Milford Jennings and Earl Brennans.

Golden Star Program

A Mother's Day program will be presented at tomorrow night's meeting of Golden Star Rebekah Lodge at the IOOF Temple, San Rafael by the men members of the lodge, who will also serve refreshments. A.F.E. DaSilva is chairman and John Stirling, co-chairman. All Rebekah members are invited. Mrs. Clifford Winegarden, noble grand, will preside at the 8 o'clock business meeting preceding the program.

Girl Scout Troops Take Advantage Of The Weather

Out-of-door trips are being enjoyed by Girl Scout troops to take advantage of Marin's spring weather.

Second grade Brownie Troop 51 of Tiburon School invited the members of Brownie Troop 39 of Bel Aire School, and their leader Mrs. P. S. Blair, to tour Old St. Hilary's Catholic Church, the historical land mark on Tiburon hillside last week. Troop 51, with their leader Mrs. David Ellman, also enjoyed a tour of Dickey House, the Audubon Society Bird Sanctuary. Their meeting this week will find them in Muir Woods where they will tour the park with a ranger as guide.

Corte Madera Brownie Troop 105 spent a day at the zoo in San Francisco recently. Accompanied by Mesdames R. M. Strittmatter, K. C. Thompson, Jack Henderson, James Nuschy and Aubrey Haynes, the third graders from Neil Cummins School also visited "Storyland". Another afternoon found them touring Marin General Hospital with Pink Lady, Mrs. Charles Cooney. The Brownies presented a scrapbook which they had made for the young patients.

A recent visit to the Fort Baker Girl Scout Troop was made by Troop 94 from Bel Aire School. The fifth graders were entertained and stayed for the Army Retreat ceremony. With their leader, Mrs. Ernest Guy, the Intermediate Scouts made the preparations for a backyard cookout last week at the Belveron Garden home of Mrs. Paul Blair.

The members of Brownie Troop 260 visited the San Rafael Fire Department where they were greeted by fireman George Canessa, who conducted them on the tour. The Santa Venetia girls, who attend Blessed Sacrament and Oliver Hartzell Schools, are working on puppet shows which they will present at Marin General Hospital this month when they visit. Their leaders are Mrs. Robert Mertle and Mrs. Richard Farrington.

A meeting of the Rainbow Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was the destination of fourth grade Brownie Troop 125, when they visited San Francisco with their fathers. The Corte Madera troop was presented with a 50-star American Flag by the Post. The arrangements for the special presentation were made by Post Quartermaster Mack E. Hall.

Many Attractions For Laurel Dell P-TA Carnival May 13

On May 13 the playground at Laurel Dell Primary School will be transformed into a setting for the school P-TA's annual festival. The aim is fun for everyone and there will be a wide variety of attractions to insure it. The hours will be from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

This is the largest fund-raising project of the year and parents, teachers as well as students work hard to make it successful.

Under the general direction of Mrs. Thomas Faraday and Mrs. Donald Anderson, each classroom is in charge of one booth.

Mrs. Alfred Curry and Mrs. Clarence Zeiler will have charge of the lunchroom; Mrs. Ralph Tollestrup, the Duck Pond; Mrs. Allen Bachman, the Fish Bowl; Mrs. Mervyn Weiss, Bobo the Clown; and Mrs. Robert Greene, the Fishing Pond and Dig for Gold for the preschool children.

A large attendance is anticipated at the make-up booth where trained personnel and paper hats will magically transform ordinary girls and boys into queens, movie stars, Indians, Chinese, pirates and other characters. Mrs. Jack Chesterman and Mrs. Donald Trombley will be co-chairmen of the booth.

The bakery and home delicacies are in charge of Mrs. Jack O'Shaughnessy; the Bowling Alley, Mrs. Aldo Crove; hot dogs, Mrs. David Young; the Snow-Cones, Mrs. Roy Beaudoin; and the Grab Bag, Mrs. David Shields. Mrs. Lester Ecke will be in charge of the Flower Stall.

The P-TA board will have charge of the Country Store; the Cub Scouts the game booth and ice cream; the Webelos, the soft drinks; the teachers, the games; the Bluebirds, children's books and records; and the Sixth Grade Campfire Girls, under the direction of Mrs. Ernest Caillat, will make and decorate gingerbread men for sale.

One of the highlights of the day will be a full length feature film in color, "Red Stallion in the Rockies," presented by the teachers of Laurel Dell.

An invitation to attend is extended to the public.

NEWLYWEDS IN NOVATO

Residing in Novato are the recently married Richard Turners. The bridegroom is the son of Hugh Turner, manager of Radio Station KTIM, and Mrs. Turner, who also live in Novato. The bride, the former Elizabeth Hoodeley Cotton, is the daughter of Mrs. Lydia Cotton of Novato and sister of Alice, Patrick and Michael Cotton. Elizabeth is a graduate of Novato High School.

The new benedict, brother of Ronald and Irene Turner, is a graduate of San Rafael High School and attended College of Marin.

The young couple was united in marriage April 25 by Judge H. A. Van Der Zee of San Francisco in his chambers.

Tamar Chapter Meets On May 10

The Tamar Chapter of B'nai B'rith Women will meet Wednesday, May 10, at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Melvin Segal, 391 Devin Drive, Terra Linda.

Highlight of the evening will be a tape recording narrated by Jeff Chandler entitled, "The Challenge." This is a dramatic presentation on all phases of B'nai B'rith.

Arrangements are also being made for a wine tasting party. Committees will be appointed and plans completed for this, the chapter's first social event.

Anyone interested in attending the meeting is asked to notify Mrs. Melvin Segal of Terra Linda or Mrs. Gerald Weisbach of Mill Valley.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Kennedy Might Talk With Press Before Curbing It

The Kennedy administration is lashing out at the press in its frustration over Cuba.

President Kennedy was fairly restrained in his address to the nation's publishers in New York last week. He posed the complex problem of how to inform the American public about what is going on, but at the same time not informing our enemies of things they shouldn't know.

He called upon the publishers to ask themselves two questions—Is it news? and Is it in the national interest?—before printing a story. He infuriated some of the publishers by implying they never did so consider their nation.

In Washington the day before, however, another administration spokesman hadn't been so restrained. He told a group of 400 newsmen attending a foreign policy briefing that the press must take responsibility for the Cuban disaster. He called some of the stories which were written about preparations for the invasion not in the country's interest, and said that many of them were irresponsible.

He admitted, however, that the government at no time took the press into its confidence about what was going on nor had it asked newspapers to refrain from publishing news about the invasion plans. It's impossible to keep a secret if you don't know what the secret is.

At the same briefing, the President spoke too. His speech, it was announced as he approached the podium, would be "off the record." That means to the responsible American press that if they want to stay and listen to what he has to say, they can't write stories about it. Usually it is used to let the newsmen in on something planned or about to happen so that when it does, they will have background for the event.

This time, however, besides the American press at the briefing, there also were the accredited representatives of Russia's Tass news agency, the Hungarian Press Bureau, and other foreign newsmen on duty in Washington.

"Off the record" meant in this case then, that all the rest of the world is allowed to know what the President said at the foreign policy briefing, but the American public is not. Nothing he said should have been kept from anyone.

These events point up one obvious fact—President Kennedy doesn't understand the American press nor how it works. Instead of consulting with his family, Harvard friends or Stevenson's law partners, why doesn't he consult with some newspaper people? We're sure they would consult with him—newsmen talk to anybody.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

THEY ARE YOUR SCHOOLS

With nearly 49 million young people in school, the United States is engaged in the most expansive and expensive educational program ever attempted.

This vast enrollment should make us reflect on the obligation of each of us to see that this enormous educational venture brings out the best in youth.

We can be rightfully proud of the 34½ million children in the elementary grades, the 10 million teen-agers in high schools and the 4 million young men and women in institutions of higher learning.

But it is also our responsibility to see that all students receive the well-balanced training of mind, heart and spirit which is their God-given due and which is essential if they are to lead full, meaningful lives, not lopsided ones.

Whatever your circumstances, take an intelligent, conscientious interest in the work of the schools. Remember they are your schools and the Lord expects you personally to do your part.

"The learned in word shall find good things: and he that trusteth in the Lord is blessed." (Proverbs 16:20)

Inspire all teachers, O divine Master, to think of themselves as Your representative.

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

Things To Convince Me People (And Columnist) Are A Bit Daft

NEW YORK (AP) — How can you tell if you're neurotic?

To the trained eye there are often telltale physical signs.

For example, Dr. Leonard L. Lovshin of Cleveland, Ohio, writing in a medical journal, saw at least potential neuroses in housewives who over-pluck their eyebrows or dye their hair a vivid platinum blonde, people who wear sun glasses on cloudy days, and persons who blush or perspire excessively.

Even cold feet, he said, might hint at an emotion-based illness.

The list is fine as far as it goes—but it doesn't go far enough. When you get right down to it, any behavior—particularly if it is different from your own —may be a sign of hidden or even active neurosis. Aren't we all a bit daffy to a degree?

Anyone can make up a personal catalogue of people he's convinced are probably neurotic. Here's my list:

The man who brags he never has bought anything on the installment plan and never will.

All suburbanites, but particularly those who insist they actually enjoy spending three hours commuting to and from work.

Anybody who claims dieting can be fun.

Waiters who always bring you lemon with your tea when you ask for cream.

Parents who boast their teen-age children never give them any trouble.

Any husband who lets his wife dole him out lunch money every day.

Any wife foolish enough to give her husband his full week's supply of lunch money on Monday.

ANYBODY who thinks taxes ought to be higher — or who really believes they will ever be lower.

Movie stars who decline to discuss their divorces but are eager to give their views on how to gain world peace.

Any couple married five years or more who say in public, "We've never had a quarrel."

ANY MAN or woman who hates to become a grandparent because of the fear of growing older.

Anybody who writes a column for a living.

All these people may not be openly neurotic — but they're certainly open to suspicion.

THE CYNIC'S CORNER By Interlandi

"Radicals to the right of us, radicals to the left of us, onward, onward, into the valley of politics marched the valiant Americans . . . !"

20 YEARS AGO

The San Rafael Independent said editorially that life was getting so complicated that juvenile delinquency was bound to happen; the cure: "A simpler mode of life" — with more parental supervision.

San Rafael school authorities demanded that the Highway Commission build an underpass at Linden Lane; "study is under way" was the reply.

Directors of the Golden Gate Bridge District considered allowing those loafing commuters so lucky as to work only five days a week to use commute tickets just like the regular six-days-a-week workers.

'I'M THE REFEREE—ANYTHING I CAN DO'

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Visiting Doctor Blisters Medics

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

As a visiting physician in your country, may I comment on your report concerning the resignation of Dr. Paul O'Rourke from the Imperial County Health Department? Apparently he was forced to resign because he has openly expressed support for government aid in public health care, and because his wife, as a Quaker, refused to salute the U. S. flag.

His resignation was accelerated and precipitated by the accusations and personal attacks of Dr. Warren Bostick of San Rafael.

Like Dr. O'Rourke, Dr. Bostick is entitled to his views and to propagate them. What is deplorable is that he uses his political power to assault and hound a competent physician merely because he differs in his social and political viewpoint. I am sure that Dr. Bostick will not be insulted by the obvious comparison with McCarthy, but it should be emphasized that the attempt to crush opposition by the threat of unemployment and insecurity is a characteristic of totalitarian regimes.

Dr. Bostick and his allies in county medical associations can handicap the medical practice of liberal-minded doctors by preventing access to hospital facilities and to pathological services, and by controlling the tenancies of medical offices. Thus, if now Dr. O'Rourke tries to re-enter private practice, the County Medical Association can cause difficulties and frustrations at every turn; there is no reason to suppose they will not do so.

An equally horrifying aspect of this story is that the Imperial County supervisors should comply under pressure from Dr. Bostick and the county medical association. The chairman of the supervisors has stated their policy: let injustice be done, provided we avoid controversy. It is to be hoped that such a controversy will ensue that the supervisors will be disrupted more than the unfortunate disruption of medical services in Imperial County.

As an alien, I may be considered guilty of bad manners in stating this criticism. I do so for two reasons. Firstly because although many of my American medical colleagues have expressed agreement with me, they know that if they do so publicly they will jeopardize their employment and careers. I would not have believed this possible before I visited the United States, but the case of Dr. O'Rourke shows how true this is. Open critics of the American Medical Association and its policies may be forced from their employment by the attacks of Dr. Bostick and his friends. Fortunately I am in a safer position, and if he writes a letter to the British Medical Association about me, I am sure it will be counted to my credit.

Secondly, this is an issue of such importance both to the American medical profession and to the American public that good manners are of secondary importance. The image of the American way of life is judged abroad by such episodes as this, and judged to its detriment. It illustrates why the American Medical Association is the despair of so many American doctors, and the ridicule of their colleagues abroad.

A Letter To The President

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I have just mailed the following letter to President Kennedy:

HON. JOHN F. KENNEDY,
President of the United States
The White House
Washington, D. C.

A few days ago, you assumed personal responsibility for our financing, training and arming our invasion of an independent nation with which we are at peace. But the responsibility is not yours alone: a portion of it must be borne by every American citizen. The least I can do, in good conscience, is write you my protest now.

Until your admission of guilt (your guilt and mine) it seemed clear to me that our U. S. attorney general's office should indict every American resident directly involved, for criminal conspiracy and for fraudulent misappropriation of federal funds. Now, at the least, we can do two things:

1. Remove from positions of influence and responsibility those whose advice and overt actions are so clearly opposed to the "Good Neighbor" policy nobly restated by you months ago.

2. Develop, as expiation for our acts, a substantial and well-planned non-military, non-political program of grants and technical assistance for Cuba—without seeking financial rewards in turn.

So far, no one in your administration has questioned our right to do what we did. The only question raised is one of timing, of failure to succeed. I realize much of this international immorality was inherited from the two preceding administrations, but some of us hoped yours would mean a change for the better. For this action by officials of our government was wrong, utterly wrong, whether it failed or succeeded.

I am particularly concerned because I voted FOR you last fall. In a democracy, I must therefore accept some responsibility for your acts. If this is typical of your leadership in foreign affairs, then responsible citizens must oppose your re-election in 1964.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

Olivia De Havilland tells of a famous and glamorous fellow artiste from the Hollywood hills who had married well — and often — and now found it expedient to get another divorce in a hurry. Her lawyer suggested Mexico, "But I don't speak Spanish," she protested. "So what?" said the lawyer. "Whenever there's a pause, all you have to do is say 'si, si.'"

When the star appeared in court, the population of the tiny border town attended. There was much emoting and the star said, "si, si," very firmly on numerous occasions. Suddenly the crowd gave a great cheer. "Well, I guess I'm divorced," she said complacently. "Divorced, my eye," cried her perspiring attorney. "You've just married the mayor."

There sat a classroom full of bright-eyed Vassar sophomores, the new fashions revealing cute dimples in their knees. A puritanical visiting lecturer from Boston eyed the girls and murmured, "What, oh what, will the styles be up to next?"

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By RANDALL GOULD

If A Strange Woman Calls Your Wife About An Affair . . . Well—

Marin County and surrounding areas abound in people with many matters on their minds. This gives me a big mail every day and keeps the phone ringing.

What I write in the I-J has a lot of influence, it's clear. Take for instance this reaction to some recent remarks I made about the great value of television, provided you sold your set and bought gin and vermouth with the proceeds. Something to that general effect, anyway.

"ON READING your views on television," writes a devotee of this column, "I promptly went out and sold our television.

"My wife and I are awfully glad that we had two sets."

It is good to know that one is able to give constructive guidance in the vital things of life.

But some of my fans bring up matters about which I'd totally forgotten; even events I suspect never happened.

A case in point bobbed up the other day when the phone range in our Mill Valley home while I was absent—absent at the I-J, be certain, doing my duty and earning my pittance for the benefit of wife, Agnes, and the household generally. Agnes answered.

THE VOICE of some woman asked to speak to her husband.

Agnes said, "He isn't at home."

"Well, I am Mrs. Smythe of San Francisco," said the voice. "Your husband and I have been having an affair, and he owes me $50 and I want the money now."

At this point, Agnes says, she began laughing. This I feel was not the right thing for a wife to do. A matter like this is serious. Laughter from a wife in, under such circumstances, out of place and also uncomplimentary.

When she could talk, Agnes asked, "Are you certain you are calling the right house?"

"I sure am," said the woman.

"How do spell our name?" asked Agnes.

"G-O-L-D," said the caller.

"Well," said Agnes, "that's not the way we spell it."

"Maybe it's spelled with a 'J,' I don't know," said Mrs. Smythe.

AGNES THOUGHT that one over and it seemed funnier than ever. By this time she was about hysterical, according to her story. What Mrs. Smythe thought I don't know; it must have been mortifying.

"What is my husband's first name?" Agness finally asked.

"I don't know," said the woman. "He never told me."

That really socked Agnes for a goal, apparently. She says she was still laughing when the woman finally hung up after snorting, "O.K.—pooh!"

RACK MY so-called brains as I will, I can't seem to recall any Mrs. Smythe in San Francisco. Nor can I remember any cozy happenings with her.

This is something of a handicap in giving a fuller explanation to Agnes.

But the worst handicap is that she starts laughing again every time the subject comes up.

As I said, this is not my idea of a compliment.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Issue On China Is U.N. Credentials And Whether Red China Wants In

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — In order to understand what Red China's admission to the U.N. really involves we must fix these facts in mind:

As a political entity, Formosa is not a member of the U.N., but rather the Chiang Kai-shek government on Formosa is accepted as representing the Republic of China.

All that is needed is a two-thirds vote of the General Assembly to accept the credentials of Peking as the government of the Republic of China.

The consequence of this action would be to make Red China a permanent member of the Security Council and a member of the General Assembly and remove the representation of Chiang Kai-shek.

THE ISSUE to be voted on is one of credentials, not of membership, since the Republic of China has been a member of the U.N. from the start. Formosa is not a member of the United Nations and would have to be voted into the U.N. by separate action.

Immediately the question arises: Could the U.N. General Assembly, if it accepted the credentials of Red China instead of those of Chiang Kai-shek, also vote Formosa into the U.N.?

The answer is that it would be very difficult, probably impossible. For example, if the U.N. first voted to accredit Peking as the government of China, Peking would then be a permanent member of the Security Council and in a position to veto Formosa's membership.

THEORETICALLY the U.N. could attempt to deal with Formosa first before accepting Red China in the Security Council. But, since the Soviet Union would also have a veto power over Formosa's membership, there is every likelihood that the Soviets would use their veto in behalf of Red China. Moscow would almost certainly go along with Peking on the Formosa question.

The Chinese Communists have said again and again they would not accept any arrangement granting Formosa legal independence from the mainland. The most the U.N. could do would be to supervise free elections by which the Formosans could determine their own allegiance. But this would probably be unacceptable to both Red China and Chiang Kai-shek.

This would seem to make a two-China policy quite unattainable even if the Assembly voted for it.

The arguments for Red China's membership run like this:

1. That it would recognize reality since the Communists are the de facto government on the mainland.

2. That universality is the essence of the U.N.

3. That it would be better to deal with the Chinese Communists regularly face-to-face in the forum of the world organization.

BUT THERE IS one question to which the advocates of Red China membership have no answer. Does Peking really want to be in the U.N.? The Chinese Communists have never sought membership or said they would accept membership. They would certainly reject any offer which denied their title to Formosa.

The United States—and I think rightly—shows no sign of changing its position on Red China's admission. As long as the Communists continue to use force against their neighbors as in Korea, Tibet, Vietnam, and Laos, they ought not to be given the cloak of the U.N.

BUT THE U.S. has nothing to gain and much to lose by standing out against debating the issue at the U.N., since, so far, the issue before the Assembly has not been whether Red China should be admitted but whether the matter should be debated.

When the 99 members of the U.N. realize that the only way to take in Red China is to leave out Formosa, they may have second thoughts.

Why should the U.N. turn its back on the 11,000,000 people of Formosa?

Swim Pool Expert Will Talk At Drake

Donald L. Doughty, president of Orinda Pools Inc., will discuss water purification for swimming pools at a swimming pool seminar May 10 at 7 p. m. at the Little Theater, Sir Francis Drake High School, San Anselmo.

Doughty is national standards coordinator for the National Swimming Pool Institute and serves on the industry committee of the National Sanitation Foundation.

The seminar is sponsored by the Marin County Health Department and is open to all owners and operators of public and private pools, maintenance personnel and other interested persons.

A panel will answer questions on problems in the operation and maintenance of pools. The Marin Chapter of the American Red Cross will give safety, safety equipment, rescue and resuscitation demonstrations.

Corte Madera Settles With Lady Osteopath

The town of Corte Madera Monday settled its differences with Dr. Gertrude Casey for $1,015.

Dr. Casey, osteopath who was granted a permit to practice in her home at 22 Mohawk Avenue and then told by town officials that the permit was rescinded, had asked $7,555 for expenses and damages. The town's counter offer was $890.

The final settlement was reached between town manager Arthur H. Brandow and Dr. Casey's representative, Everett Murphy.

Dr. Casey has set up practice in her new home at 151 Elm Street, Mill Valley.

Novato Senior Wins Scholarship

Fred McElroy, a senior at Novato High School, has been awarded an $800 American Legion scholarship in statewide competition.

McElroy won the scholarship on the basis of grades, extracurricular activities and character recommendations. He is president of the senior class.

McElroy plans to major in science at San Jose State College. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. McElroy, 1241 Yukon Way, Novato.

Garden Society Plan Field Trip

Garden Society of Marin will hold its annual wild flower field trip Saturday, starting at 9 a.m. from the curved driveway at the College of Marin, Kentfield.

Those attending the trip should take lunch, wear comfortable shoes and take a sweater, and take a camera if they wish, said Mrs. Robert L. Tuckey of Kentfield, who will be leader.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Kennedy Might Talk With Press Before Curbing It

The Kennedy administration is lashing out at the press in its frustration over Cuba.

President Kennedy was fairly restrained in his address to the nation's publishers in New York last week. He posed the complex problem of how to inform the American public about what is going on, but at the same time not informing our enemies of things they shouldn't know.

He called upon the publishers to ask themselves two questions—Is it news? and Is it in the national interest?—before printing a story. He infuriated some of the publishers by implying they never did so consider their nation.

In Washington the day before, however, another administration spokesman hadn't been so restrained. He told a group of 400 newsmen attending a foreign policy briefing that the press must take responsibility for the Cuban disaster. He called some of the stories which were written about preparations for the invasion not in the country's interest, and said that many of them were irresponsible.

He admitted, however, that the government at no time took the press into its confidence about what was going on nor had it asked newspapers to refrain from publishing news about the invasion plans. It's impossible to keep a secret if you don't know what the secret is.

At the same briefing, the President spoke too. His speech, it was announced as he approached the podium, would be "off the record." That means to the responsible American press that if they want to stay and listen to what he has to say, they can't write stories about it. Usually it is used to let the newsmen in on something planned or about to happen so that when it does, they will have background for the event.

This time, however, besides the American press at the briefing, there also were the accredited representatives of Russia's Tass news agency, the Hungarian Press Bureau, and other foreign newsmen on duty in Washington.

"Off the record" meant in this case then, that all the rest of the world is allowed to know what the President said at the foreign policy briefing, but the American public is not. Nothing he said should have been kept from anyone.

These events point up one obvious fact—President Kennedy doesn't understand the American press nor how it works. Instead of consulting with his family, Harvard friends or Stevenson's law partners, why doesn't he consult with some newspaper people? We're sure they would consult with him—newsmen talk to anybody.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

THEY ARE YOUR SCHOOLS

With nearly 49 million young people in school, the United States is engaged in the most expansive and expensive educational program ever attempted.

This vast enrollment should make us reflect on the obligation of each of us to see that this enormous educational venture brings out the best in youth.

We can be rightfully proud of the 34½ million children in the elementary grades, the 10 million teen-agers in high schools and the 4 million young men and women in institutions of higher learning.

But it is also our responsibility to see that all students receive the well-balanced training of mind, heart and spirit which is their God-given due and which is essential if they are to lead full, meaningful lives, not lopsided ones.

Whatever your circumstances, take an intelligent, conscientious interest in the work of the schools. Remember they are your schools and the Lord expects you personally to do your part.

"The learned in word shall find good things: and he that trusteth in the Lord is blessed." (Proverbs 16:20)

Inspire all teachers, O divine Master, to think of themselves as Your representative.

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

Things To Convince Me People (And Columnist) Are A Bit Daft

NEW YORK (AP) — How can you tell if you're neurotic?

To the trained eye there are often telltale physical signs.

For example, Dr. Leonard L. Lovshin of Cleveland, Ohio, writing in a medical journal, saw at least potential neuroses in housewives who over-pluck their eyebrows or dye their hair a vivid platinum blonde, people who wear sun glasses on cloudy days, and persons who blush or perspire excessively.

Even cold feet, he said, might hint at an emotion-based illness.

The list is fine as far as it goes—but it doesn't go far enough. When you get right down to it, any behavior—particularly if it is different from your own —may be a sign of hidden or even active neurosis. Aren't we all a bit daffy to a degree?

Anyone can make up a personal catalogue of people he's convinced are probably neurotic. Here's my list:

The man who brags he never has bought anything on the installment plan and never will.

All suburbanites, but particularly those who insist they actually enjoy spending three hours commuting to and from work.

Anybody who claims dieting can be fun.

Waiters who always bring you lemon with your tea when you ask for cream.

Parents who boast their teen-age children never give them any trouble.

Any husband who lets his wife dole him out lunch money every day.

Any wife foolish enough to give her husband his full week's supply of lunch money on Monday.

ANYBODY who thinks taxes ought to be higher — or who really believes they will ever be lower.

Movie stars who decline to discuss their divorces but are eager to give their views on how to gain world peace.

Any couple married five years or more who say in public, "We've never had a quarrel."

ANY MAN or woman who hates to become a grandparent because of the fear of growing older.

Anybody who writes a column for a living.

All these people may not be openly neurotic — but they're certainly open to suspicion.

THE CYNIC'S CORNER By Interlandi

"Radicals to the right of us, radicals to the left of us, onward, onward, into the valley of politics marched the valiant Americans . . . !"

20 YEARS AGO

The San Rafael Independent said editorially that life was getting so complicated that juvenile delinquency was bound to happen; the cure: "A simpler mode of life" — with more parental supervision.

San Rafael school authorities demanded that the Highway Commission build an underpass at Linden Lane; "study is under way" was the reply.

Directors of the Golden Gate Bridge District considered allowing those loafing commuters so lucky as to work only five days a week to use commute tickets just like the regular six-days-a-week workers.

'I'M THE REFEREE—ANYTHING I CAN DO'

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Visiting Doctor Blisters Medics

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

As a visiting physician in your country, may I comment on your report concerning the resignation of Dr. Paul O'Rourke from the Imperial County Health Department? Apparently he was forced to resign because he has openly expressed support for government aid in public health care, and because his wife, as a Quaker, refused to salute the U. S. flag.

His resignation was accelerated and precipitated by the accusations and personal attacks of Dr. Warren Bostick of San Rafael.

Like Dr. O'Rourke, Dr. Bostick is entitled to his views and to propagate them. What is deplorable is that he uses his political power to assault and hound a competent physician merely because he differs in his social and political viewpoint. I am sure that Dr. Bostick will not be insulted by the obvious comparison with McCarthy, but it should be emphasized that the attempt to crush opposition by the threat of unemployment and insecurity is a characteristic of totalitarian regimes.

Dr. Bostick and his allies in county medical associations can handicap the medical practice of liberal-minded doctors by preventing access to hospital facilities and to pathological services, and by controlling the tenancies of medical offices. Thus, if now Dr. O'Rourke tries to re-enter private practice, the County Medical Association can cause difficulties and frustrations at every turn; there is no reason to suppose they will not do so.

An equally horrifying aspect of this story is that the Imperial County supervisors should comply under pressure from Dr. Bostick and the county medical association. The chairman of the supervisors has stated their policy: let injustice be done, provided we avoid controversy. It is to be hoped that such a controversy will ensue that the supervisors will be disrupted more than the unfortunate disruption of medical services in Imperial County.

As an alien, I may be considered guilty of bad manners in stating this criticism. I do so for two reasons. Firstly because although many of my American medical colleagues have expressed agreement with me, they know that if they do so publicly they will jeopardize their employment and careers. I would not have believed this possible before I visited the United States, but the case of Dr. O'Rourke shows how true this is. Open critics of the American Medical Association and its policies may be forced from their employment by the attacks of Dr. Bostick and his friends. Fortunately I am in a safer position, and if he writes a letter to the British Medical Association about me, I am sure it will be counted to my credit.

Secondly, this is an issue of such importance both to the American medical profession and to the American public that good manners are of secondary importance. The image of the American way of life is judged abroad by such episodes as this, and judged to its detriment. It illustrates why the American Medical Association is the despair of so many American doctors, and the ridicule of their colleagues abroad.

A Letter To The President

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I have just mailed the following letter to President Kennedy:

HON. JOHN F. KENNEDY,
President of the United States
The White House
Washington, D. C.

A few days ago, you assumed personal responsibility for our financing, training and arming our invasion of an independent nation with which we are at peace. But the responsibility is not yours alone: a portion of it must be borne by every American citizen. The least I can do, in good conscience, is write you my protest now.

Until your admission of guilt (your guilt and mine) it seemed clear to me that our U. S. attorney general's office should indict every American resident directly involved, for criminal conspiracy and for fraudulent misappropriation of federal funds. Now, at the least, we can do two things:

1. Remove from positions of influence and responsibility those whose advice and overt actions are so clearly opposed to the "Good Neighbor" policy nobly restated by you months ago.

2. Develop, as expiation for our acts, a substantial and well-planned non-military, non-political program of grants and technical assistance for Cuba—without seeking financial rewards in turn.

So far, no one in your administration has questioned our right to do what we did. The only question raised is one of timing, of failure to succeed. I realize much of this international immorality was inherited from the two preceding administrations, but some of us hoped yours would mean a change for the better. For this action by officials of our government was wrong, utterly wrong, whether it failed or succeeded.

I am particularly concerned because I voted FOR you last fall. In a democracy, I must therefore accept some responsibility for your acts. If this is typical of your leadership in foreign affairs, then responsible citizens must oppose your re-election in 1964.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

Olivia De Havilland tells of a famous and glamorous fellow artiste from the Hollywood hills who had married well — and often — and now found it expedient to get another divorce in a hurry. Her lawyer suggested Mexico. "But I don't speak Spanish," she protested. "So what?" said the lawyer. "Whenever there's a pause, all you have to do is say 'si, si.'"

When the star appeared in court, the population of the tiny border town attended. There was much emoting and the star said, "si, si," very firmly on numerous occasions. Suddenly the crowd gave a great cheer. "Well, I guess I'm divorced," she said complacently. "Divorced, my eye," cried her perspiring attorney. "You've just married the mayor."

There sat a classroom full of bright-eyed Vassar sophomores, the new fashions revealing cute dimples in their knees. A puritanical visiting lecturer from Boston eyed the girls and murmured, "What, oh what, will the styles be up to next?"

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By RANDALL GOULD

If A Strange Woman Calls Your Wife About An Affair . . . Well—

Marin County and surrounding areas abound in people with many matters on their minds. This gives me a big mail every day and keeps the phone ringing.

What I write in the I-J has a lot of influence, it's clear. Take for instance this reaction to some recent remarks I made about the great value of television, provided you sold your set and bought gin and vermouth with the proceeds. Something to that general effect, anyway.

"ON READING your views on television," writes a devotee of this column, "I promptly went out and sold our television.

"My wife and I are awfully glad that we had two sets."

It is good to know that one is able to give constructive guidance in the vital things of life.

But some of my fans bring up matters about which I'd totally forgotten; even events I suspect never happened.

A case in point bobbed up the other day when the phone range in our Mill Valley home while I was absent—absent at the I-J, be certain, doing my duty and earning my pittance for the benefit of wife, Agnes, and the household generally. Agnes answered.

THE VOICE of some woman asked to speak to her husband.

Agnes said, "He isn't at home."

"Well, I am Mrs. Smythe of San Francisco," said the voice. "Your husband and I have been having an affair, and he owes me $50 and I want the money now."

At this point, Agnes says, she began laughing. This I feel was not the right thing for a wife to do. A matter like this is serious. Laughter from a wife in, under such circumstances, out of place and also uncomplimentary.

When she could talk, Agnes asked, "Are you certain you are calling the right house?"

"I sure am," said the woman.

"How do spell our name?" asked Agnes.

"G-O-L-D," said the caller.

"Well," said Agnes, "that's not the way we spell it."

"Maybe it's spelled with a 'J,' I don't know," said Mrs. Smythe.

AGNES THOUGHT that one over and it seemed funnier than ever. By this time she was about hysterical, according to her story. What Mrs. Smythe thought I don't know; it must have been mortifying.

"What is my husband's first name?" Agness finally asked.

"I don't know," said the woman. "He never told me."

That really socked Agnes for a goal, apparently. She says she was still laughing when the woman finally hung up after snorting, "O.K.—pooh!"

RACK MY so-called brains as I will, I can't seem to recall any Mrs. Smythe in San Francisco. Nor can I remember any cozy happenings with her.

This is something of a handicap in giving a fuller explanation to Agnes.

But the worst handicap is that she starts laughing again every time the subject comes up.

As I said, this is not my idea of a compliment.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Issue On China Is U.N. Credentials And Whether Red China Wants In

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — In order to understand what Red China's admission to the U.N. really involves we must fix these facts in mind:

As a political entity, Formosa is not a member of the U.N., but rather the Chiang Kai-shek government on Formosa is accepted as representing the Republic of China.

All that is needed is a two-thirds vote of the General Assembly to accept the credentials of Peking as the government of the Republic of China.

The consequence of this action would be to make Red China a permanent member of the Security Council and a member of the General Assembly and remove the representation of Chiang Kai-shek.

THE ISSUE to be voted on is one of credentials, not of membership, since the Republic of China has been a member of the U.N. from the start. Formosa is not a member of the United Nations and would have to be voted into the U.N. by separate action.

Immediately the question arises: Could the U.N. General Assembly, if it accepted the credentials of Red China instead of those of Chiang Kai-shek, also vote Formosa into the U.N.?

The answer is that it would be very difficult, probably impossible. For example, if the U.N. first voted to accredit Peking as the government of China, Peking would then be a permanent member of the Security Council and in a position to veto Formosa's membership.

THEORETICALLY the U.N. could attempt to deal with Formosa first before accepting Red China in the Security Council. But, since the Soviet Union would also have a veto power over Formosa's membership, there is every likelihood that the Soviets would use their veto in behalf of Red China. Moscow would almost certainly go along with Peking on the Formosa question.

The Chinese Communists have said again and again they would not accept any arrangement granting Formosa legal independence from the mainland. The most the U.N. could do would be to supervise free elections by which the Formosans could determine their own allegiance. But this would probably be unacceptable to both Red China and Chiang Kai-shek.

This would seem to make a two-China policy quite unattainable even if the Assembly voted for it.

The arguments for Red China's membership run like this:

1. That it would recognize reality since the Communists are the de facto government on the mainland.

2. That universality is the essence of the U.N.

3. That it would be better to deal with the Chinese Communists regularly face-to-face in the forum of the world organization.

BUT THERE IS one question to which the advocates of Red China membership have no answer. Does Peking really want to be in the U.N.? The Chinese Communists have never sought membership or said they would accept membership. They would certainly reject any offer which denied their title to Formosa.

The United States—and I think rightly—shows no sign of changing its position on Red China's admission. As long as the Communists continue to use force against their neighbors as in Korea, Tibet, Vietnam, and Laos, they ought not to be given the cloak of the U.N.

BUT THE U.S. has nothing to gain and much to lose by standing out against debating the issue at the U.N., since, so far, the issue before the Assembly has not been whether Red China should be admitted but whether the matter should be debated.

When the 99 members of the U.N. realize that the only way to take in Red China is to leave out Formosa, they may have second thoughts.

Why should the U.N. turn its back on the 11,000,000 people of Formosa?

THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, May 3, the 123rd day of the year with 242 more in 1961.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning stars are Jupiter, Saturn and Venus.

The evening star is Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1810, Lord Byron swam the Hellespont in one hour and 10 minutes.

In 1849, journalist and civic reformer Jacob Riis was born.

In 1919, airline passeng service was inaugurated when Robert Hewitt flew two women from New York City to Atlantic City, N. J.

In 1948, the Supreme Court forbade the states to enforce property "restrictive covenants" . . . those agreements that bind owners not to sell property to racial and religious minorities.

A thought for today: English poet Lord Byron said: "Fame is the thirst of youth."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Lightface type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

DONALD L. DOUGHTY
At pool seminar

Swim Pool Expert Will Talk At Drake

Donald L. Doughty, president of Orinda Pools Inc., will discuss water purification for swimming pools at a swimming pool seminar May 10 at 7 p. m. at the Little Theater, Sir Francis Drake High School, San Anselmo.

Doughty is national standards coordinator for the National Swimming Pool Institute and serves on the industry committee of the National Sanitation Foundation.

The seminar is sponsored by the Marin County Health Department and is open to all owners and operators of public and private pools, maintenance personnel and other interested persons.

A panel will answer questions on problems in the operation and maintenance of pools. The Marin Chapter of the American Red Cross will give safety, safety equipment, rescue and resuscitation demonstrations.

Corte Madera Settles With Lady Osteopath

The town of Corte Madera Monday settled its differences with Dr. Gertrude Casey for $1,015.

Dr. Casey, osteopath who was granted a permit to practice in her home at 22 Mohawk Avenue and then told by town officials that the permit was rescinded, had asked $7,555 for expenses and damages. The town's counter offer was $890.

The final settlement was reached between town manager Arthur H. Brandow and Dr. Casey's representative, Everett Murphy.

Dr. Casey has set up practice in her new home at 151 Elm Street, Mill Valley.

Novato Senior Wins Scholarship

Fred McElroy, a senior at Novato High School, has been awarded an $800 American Legion scholarship in statewide competition.

McElroy won the scholarship on the basis of grades, extracurricular activities and character recommendations. He is president of the senior class.

McElroy plans to major in science at San Jose State College. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. McElroy, 1241 Yukon Way, Novato.

Garden Society Plan Field Trip

Garden Society of Marin will hold its annual wild flower field trip Saturday, starting at 9 a.m. from the curved driveway at the College of Marin, Kentfield.

Those attending the trip should take lunch, wear comfortable shoes and take a sweater, and take a camera if they wish, said Mrs. Robert L. Tuckey of Kentfield, who will be leader.

THE PARENTS' CORNER

By RICHARD BARBOUR, Ph. D.
Guidance Counselor

Father's Strength And Guidance Can Result In A Well-Adjusted Daughter

Congratulations, daddy, you are more important than you realize. Your daughter needs you every day of her life. You are a mighty big man to her.

Is your girl a baby? You should spend some time alone with her every day. Hold her in your arms, talk to her, sing to her. Feed her her orange juice and water. She needs the comfort of your strong arms, and your demonstrated love. She needs to revel in your undivided attention.

Is your girl 3 or 4? Then she probably rebels frequently. Now she needs your guidance. Give her clear rules which will help her understand what is right and what is wrong. Use corporal punishment sparingly, but be sure to "no" when she needs it. Keep on loving her. Go for little walks with her. Carry her when she gets tired. She still requires your strength and your support.

Is your daughter in her teens? Then she needs your attention more than ever. She is interested in boys. She patterns her behavior with boys by what she has learned from you. Have fun with her. Go on outings together. Show her your good side. Don't criticize her more than absolutely necessary.

Regardless of your daughter's age, keep trying to be a good dad.

Do you hold your temper most of the time? Show interest in her activities? Congratulate her when she's successful? Are you cordial to her friends? Do you keep clean and neat around home, so she won't be ashamed of you? I hope so.

What will be your reward? A happy, well adjusted daughter—a girl who will be the pride of your life!

READERS' FORUM

Q. "I've heard that boys learn about females from their mothers, and that girls learn about males from their fathers. Is this correct?" T. R.

A. Yes. It helps to explain why mothers and sons, and fathers and daughters often are so close.

Satirical Musical Scheduled

A cast of about 55 students will present a satirical musical review "What Takes Our Fancy" at San Rafael High School Friday and Saturday at 8:15 p. m.

The review will include comedy sketches, dramatic scenes and musical numbers. Themes will feature romance, a look at the contemporary scene, the teen-age view, and the theater and motion pictures.

George Felker III, head of the drama department, is director of the production. Jim Watkinson, a junior, will arrange and conduct the music.

Proceeds will go to the senior class for the senior ball expenses. Tickets are available by reservation at the San Rafael High School bank.

Stinson Apartments Nearing Completion

The first large contemporary apartment building at Stinson Beach is nearing completion.

The eight-unit, two story development, with its heated swimming pool, is only 50 feet from the beach on Calle del Embarcadero.

Charles J. Hendrickson, San Rafael contractor, is building the apartments, to be known as the Surfside, with W. T. Cleverdon Jr., a San Francisco insurance broker who lives in San Rafael.

The apartments were designed by San Francisco architect George T. Rockrise to take advantage of the marine view as well as the vista of the slopes of Mount Tamalpais. Residents in the upper four units will get both views.

Some of the eight single-bedroom units will be completely furnished and others will be leased unfurnished. All will have radiant heating, refrigerator units and electric ranges.

This first apartment building by Hendrickson on the beach is just a forerunner, he says, of several more he plans to build in Stinson Beach.

REGULAR MEETING OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS HELD APRIL 24-25, 1961

PRESENT: Supervisors Walter Castro, J. Walter Blair, George H. Ludy, William A. Gnoss, William D. Fusselman, Chairman; Geo. S. Jones, Clerk.

The Board took the following action:

Directed the Department of Public Works to take a traffic count on East Strawberry Drive, as requested by the Strawberry Property Owners Association.

Authorized transfer of funds to cover cost of installing five screens in the old Juvenile Hall for security purposes.

Adopted a resolutiton calling a special election for the purpose of submitting to the electors the question of whether the Housing Authority of the County of Marin shall develop, construct and acquire with Federal financial assistance a low rent housing project (s) not to exceed a total of 300 dwelling units for living accommodations for persons of low income; fixing the time of said election on the 27th of June, 1961, and providing for notice thereof.

Appointed County Counsel to a new four-year term commencing June 20, 1961, and adopting an ordinance establishing the salary of County Counsel for said term.

Adopted an ordinance providing for the basis and conditions upon which allocations will be made from the Special Road Improvement fund for expenditures upon streets, bridges, and culverts in cities within the County of Marin.

Denied the application of Greyhound, Inc., for a Use Permit to allow parking and bus storage on a portion of the Tamalpais Union High School property.

Granted an Adjustment to San Rafael Associates, Inc., to permit Lots 21 and 22, Unrecorded Map Marina Court Subdivision to be used as legal building sites, both of which would have less than the required average width and less than the required area, and to allow a single family residence on Lot 21 to be built to within 10 feet of the front property line on Lot 22.

Granted an Adjustment to Waldo Giacomini, to permit a 2-foot x 3-foot free standing directional sign reading "Drakes Bay" and any said sign may be located in the right-of-way subject to the securing of an encroachment permit from the Department of Public Works.

Granted an Adjustment to Margaret L. Gloe to permit construction of a single-family residence to within 5 feet of the front property line in accordance with plans submitted.

Granted a sign permit to Floyd Hovland to allow the placing of a sign on property located at 3765 Redwood Highway, Novato, said sign to read "Golden Lantern Nursery of Marin."

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Notice is hereby given that sealed bids will be received by the Board of Trustees of the San Jose School District, P.O. Box 207, Hamilton Air Force Base, Marin County, California, at the office of the clerk of said district at Building 1019, Hamilton Air Force Base, until eight o'clock p.m. (8:00 p.m.) on May 22, 1961 at which place and time bids will be opened, for the purchase of one transit type school bus with capacity of 79 elementary school passengers in accordance with complete detailed specifications available from the School District Office, Building 1019, Hamilton Air Force Base.

The bus bid shall be a new 1961 Model, new being defined as not having been previously registered nor driven in excess of 500 miles at time of delivery at school.

All bids shall be on proposal forms provided for that purpose by the school district. One bid proposal form shall be used for each separate bus offered.

The above bus shall meet all requirements of the State of California in every respect as set forth by the State Department of Education and the California Highway Patrol, spare tire excepted.

The Board of Trustees reserves the right to reject any or all bids, to waive any irregularities, and to be the sole judge of the suitability of equipment offered.

By order of the Board of Trustees,
SAN JOSE SCHOOL DISTRICT
P.O. Box 207, Hamilton Air Force Base, Marin County, California

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Notice is hereby given that sealed bids will be received by the Board of Trustees of the San Jose School District, P. O. Box 207 Hamilton Air Force Base, Marin County, California, at the office of the clerk of said district at Building 1019, Hamilton Air Force Base, until eight o'clock p.m. on May 22 1961 at which place and time bids will be opened, for the purchase of one accounting machine, the specifications of which are as follows:

1. 17-totals which can be added to, substracted from, totaled, or sub-totaled either automatically by stop from machine or manually by key selection.
2. Fluid drive 26" inch carriage with automatic opening and closing and front feed form insertion.
3. Automatic debit and/or credit balances from 17-totals.
4. Complete visible writing and/or posting line.
5. Full, flexible, standard amount keyboard with 99,999,999.99 capacity.
6. Standard electric typewriter attached.
7. Flexible keyboard dater—month, day, and year—controlled either automatically from stop or by keyboard selection.
8. Single error correction or reverse key—allowing correction of any amount in any column and any combination of amounts in any column.
9. Automatic red print on subtract and/or credit balance operations.
10. All operations-posting of both debits and credits, making corrections, clearing totals, automatic tabulations, both forward and reverse, and automatic balances controlled and adjusted by one program control bar.
11. Machine shall be new and the latest model of this type accounting machine available.
12. Automatic check protection-printing of dollar sign ($) in front of amount.
13. Miscellaneous: (a) Four (4) additional removable program control bars in addition to one with machine. Five (5) removable program bars in all. (b) To furnish adequate operator training supervision. (c) One (1) year guarantee. (d) Price to include stand and table with drawer.

The Board of the San Jose School District specifically reserves the right to reject any or all bids, to waive any irregularities, and to be the sole judge of the suitability of equipment offered. The Board of Trustees also has the right to accept a bid other than the lowest if it appears to the best interest of the School District.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, May 3, the 123rd day of the year with 242 more in 1961.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning stars are Jupiter, Saturn and Venus.

The evening star is Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1810, Lord Byron swam the Hellespont in one hour and 10 minutes.

In 1849, journalist and civic reformer Jacob Riis was born.

In 1919, airline passeng service was inaugurated when Robert Hewitt flew two women from New York City to Atlantic City, N. J.

In 1948, the Supreme Court forbade the states to enforce property "restrictive covenants" . . . those agreements that bind owners not to sell property to racial and religious minorities.

A thought for today: English poet Lord Byron said: "Fame is the thirst of youth."

THE PARENTS' CORNER

By RICHARD BARBOUR, Ph. D.
Guidance Counselor

Father's Strength And Guidance Can Result In A Well-Adjusted Daughter

Congratulations, daddy, you are more important than you realize. Your daughter needs you every day of her life. You are a mighty big man to her.

Is your girl a baby? You should spend some time alone with her every day. Hold her in your arms, talk to her, sing to her. Feed her her orange juice and water. She needs the comfort of your strong arms, and your demonstrated love. She needs to revel in your undivided attention.

Is your girl 3 or 4? Then she probably rebels frequently. Now she needs your guidance. Give her clear rules which will help her understand what is right and what is wrong. Use corporal punishment sparingly, but be sure to "no" when she needs it. Keep on loving her. Go for little walks with her. Carry her when she gets tired. She still requires your strength and your support.

Is your daughter in her teens? Then she needs your attention more than ever. She is interested in boys. She patterns her behavior with boys by what she has learned from you. Have fun with her. Go on outings together. Show her your good side. Don't criticize her more than absolutely necessary.

Regardless of your daughter's age, keep trying to be a good dad.

Do you hold your temper most of the time? Show interest in her activities? Congratulate her when she's successful? Are you cordial to her friends? Do you keep clean and neat around home, so she won't be ashamed of you? I hope so.

What will be your reward? A happy, well adjusted daughter—a girl who will be the pride of your life!

READERS' FORUM

Q. "I've heard that boys learn about females from their mothers, and that girls learn about males from their fathers. Is this correct?" T. R.

A. Yes. It helps to explain why mothers and sons, and fathers and daughters often are so close.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D I L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Satirical Musical Scheduled

A cast of about 55 students will present a satirical musical review "What Takes Our Fancy" at San Rafael High School Friday and Saturday at 8:15 p. m.

The review will include comedy sketches, dramatic scenes and musical numbers. Themes will feature romance, a look at the contemporary scene, the teen-age view, and the theater and motion pictures.

George Felker III, head of the drama department, is director of the production. Jim Watkinson, a junior, will arrange and conduct the music.

Proceeds will go to the senior class for the senior ball expenses. Tickets are available by reservation at the San Rafael High School bank.

BEACH APARTMENTS WITH POOL —These contemporary apartment units, as depicted by Jack Lucey, Independent-Journal artist, are nearing completion 50 feet from the ocean on Calle del Embarcadaro, Stinson Beach. The builder is Charles J. Hendrickson of San Rafael. George T. Rockrise, San Francisco architect, is the designer of the eight-unit building.

Stinson Apartments Nearing Completion

The first large contemporary apartment building at Stinson Beach is nearing completion.

The eight-unit, two story development, with its heated swimming pool, is only 50 feet from the beach on Calle del Embarcadero.

Charles J. Hendrickson, San Rafael contractor, is building the apartments, to be known as the Surfside, with W. T. Cleverdon Jr., a San Francisco insurance broker who lives in San Rafael.

The apartments were designed by San Francisco architect George T. Rockrise to take advantage of the marine view as well as the vista of the slopes of Mount Tamalpais. Residents in the upper four units will get both views.

Some of the eight single-bedroom units will be completely furnished and others will be leased unfurnished. All will have radiant heating, refrigerator units and electric ranges.

This first apartment building by Hendrickson on the beach is just a forerunner, he says, of several more he plans to build in Stinson Beach.

Crowning a sunny knoll in the Dominican area is this warm and wonderful 3 bedroom, 3 bath home offering every advantage of Marin Co. living. Superbly engineered for ease of upkeep. And outdoor living. The bedroom wing is designed for space and convenience. The living room with it's huge brick fireplace wall is welcoming and gracious. The functional kitchen and dining room present a lavish use of paneling and brick and the family room with its fireplace and built-in bar offer relaxed living winter and summer. From all the bedrooms, living room and family room overlook a spectacular but serenic view of green hills with the red towers of the convent in the foreground. And more than that, this rustic home curves around the most magnificent pool site in Marin. Vacant and ready for your enjoyment now.

Two New Officers Join Mill Valley Police Force

Two new patrolmen joined the Mill Valley Police Force yesterday, one to replace Dan Terzich who has moved up to Chief of Police and the other to replace Officer Carl E. Mead Jr. who resigned as of Monday.

The officers are Keith Cramer, 41, of 350 Sycamore Avenue, Mill Valley, and D. John Castellani, 22, of 1333 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

Cramer, a special police officer for 11 years in Mill Valley, has been employed for 15 years as a carpet and linoleum worker, his most recent job being with the A.A. Carpet Co. in San Francisco. He has resided in Mill Valley 13 years.

Castellani was recently discharged from the Navy, in which he served as a radarman.

2 Youths Going To Boys State

Two high school students, sponsored by San Rafael Wilkins Post No. 37, American Legion, will attend California Boys State in Sacramento on June 17 to 24.

The two students are Anthony M. Mekisich from San Rafael High School and Thomas J. O'Connell from Marin Catholic High School. O'Connell is contender for student body president at his school.

Gimi J. Sessi, commander, announced that Wilkins Post is one of the few posts in the state to send two boys to Boys State.

The two youths will join other delegates to Boys State at a dinner in their honor on May 28 in Vallejo.

Music Chest Drive

The Marin Music Chest summer concert series subscription drive has been extended to May 15. Subscriptions are obtainable at county headquarters at Hoy's, 1133 Fourth Street, San Rafael, Monday through Saturday from 10 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. and also through neighborhood chairmen and workers.

Recreation Department Concert Set

The San Rafael Recreation Department will present the Byron Jones Chorale in a concert Snday at 3 p. m. in the San Rafael High School Auditorium. Admission is free.

Jones is vocal coordinator for San Rafael and Terra Linda High Schools and Davidson and Santa Venetia Junior High Schools.

Featured in addition to the 40-voice chorus he has trained will be soprano soloist Harriet Loftus, tenor soloist Kenneth James, baritone soloist Norman Stroyd and a woman's trio composed of Grace Crotts, Gail Olson and Janice Randolph.

Chorus numbers will be "Jesu Dulcis Memoria" by De Victoria; the Negro spiritual "Every Time I Feel The Spirit" with Norman Stroyd as soloist; "How Lovely Is They Dwelling" from the German "Requiem" by Brahms; the Appalachian folk song "Black Is The Color Of My True Love's Hair"; and a medley from Gershwin's "Porgy and Bess."

The woman's trio will sing "Lift Thine Eyes" from "Elijah" by Mendelssohn, with Harriet Loftus as soloist. She will also sing "L'heure Exquise."

Accompanied by Warren Thomson at the Piano, James will sing "Air" from "Comus" by Arne, "Velvet Shoes" by Randall Thompson, and "Vergelbliches Standchen" by Brahms. James and Gail Olson have assisted Jones with conducting the chorus.

Accompanist for all other numbers will be Margaret Oakley.

Marin Symphony Final Concert

The Marin Symphony Orchestra will present the third and final concert of its current series Friday at 8:30 p. m. at Marin Catholic High School under the baton of conductor Sandor Salgo.

Salgo has been selected as one of the three conductors for the San Francisco Opera Assn's. first spring opera season and will conduct the opera "Martha" on May 9 at the War Memorial Opera House.

The four vocal soloists in Friday night's performance of Zoltan Kodaly's "Te Deum" by the 80-voice Winifred Baker Chorale will be Nancy Cronburg, soprano; Inga Tarshis, alto; Leonard Wecks, tenor, and Mark Baer, bass.

Other works to be performed by the Marin Symphony Orchestra are Brahms' Symphony No. 1 and two nocturnes by Debussy, "Nuages" and "Fetes."

3 Marinites Perjury Trial Set For June

The perjury trial of Melvin A. Dunlap, Thomas J. Fenton and James R. Detels was set Monday for June 6, 7 and 8 in Department Two of Marin County Superior Court, by Judge Harold J. Haley, sitting for Judge Richard M. Sims Jr.

Dunlap, 27, of 185 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley; Fenton, 24, of 2015 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, and Detels, 27, of 619 Locust Street, Sausalito, were indicted by the grand jury on perjury charges.

The charges grew out of a traffic violation on Jan. 18 in Mill Valley. Officer William Walsh of Mill Valley and Officer David Cooper of Sausalito tesitfied in Marin Municipal Court they saw Dunlap drive across a Mill Valley street.

Fenton, Detels and Dunlap testified that Dunlap was not driving but got in the driver's seat to trick police. Dunlap was found guilty. Deputy District Atty. Charles L. Covis took the case to the grand jury.

Tiburon Demo Club Panel Set

An "Open End" discussion is slated by the Tiburon Peninsula Democratic Club on Friday at 8:30 p.m. in Tiburoner's Hall, Main Street, Tiburon.

Mrs. Chester Bowles Jr., chairman of the Issues Program, announces that panelists will include Charles O'Brien, chief assistant state attorney general; Lee Nichols, secretary to Gov. Edmund G. Brown; Daniel Luvano, deputy director, Department of Finance, and Lawrence Margolis, consultant to Assembly Committee on Ways and Means. Moderator will be San Francisco attorney Frederick Wyle.

Deputies Hunting Cattle Rustlers

Sheriff's deputies yesterday were looking for cattle rustlers suspected of stealing seven yearlings from the Gallagher Ranch in Nicasio during the last few weeks.

George Francis Gallagher, owner of the herd, estimated his losses at $1,050. He said each animal weighed about 450 to 550 pounds. Missing are five Hereford yearlings and two black whiteface yearlings.

Planner Named In Corte Madera

Cecil W. Thomas of 25 El Camino Drive last night was appointed to the Corte Madera Planning Commission.

Thomas, who has served on the board of adjustments for less than a year, will fill the unexpired term of Walter Ehlers, who resigned last week.

Appointed to the Board of Adjustments to replace Thomas was Curtis P. Kamai of 33 El Camino Drive.

Planning Commissioners John Adlard, Robert I. la Dow and Harold Wagstaff were all reappointed by Mayor Albert E. Kogler. Their terms expired yesterday.

MODEL FOR A BIG DOOR

Sculptor Enzo Assenza works on a model of a door in his Rome studio. It is to be one of the main entrance bronze doors for St. Joseph's Cathedral at Hartford, Conn.

Tactical Burglars

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)—Burglars broke into the same tavern nine times and rifled coin-operated machines each time.

The owners installed a burglar alarm system protecting the doors, windows and roof of the building.

The burglars returned for a 10th time, digging a tunnel and entering through a trap door in the floor.

Increase In Russian

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — The number of students studying the Russian language rose at the University of Oklahoma from 69 in 1958 to 233 in the 1960-61 academic year.

Health Agency Tells Evils Of Alcoholism

NEW YORK (UPI)—The National Council on Alcoholism has launched a drive to tell more people about the evils of drinking.

A non-profit health agency specializing in research, education and information regarding the disease of alcoholism, the NCA hopes eventually to have an affiliate with an alcoholism information center in every community of 25,000 population and over. It now has 64 full affiliates in major communities throughout the country.

Sparking the drive is R. Brinkley Smithers, NCA president, who estimates the United States has more than 6 million alcoholics, the greatest number of any nation in the western world.

"The most recent estimates, both governmental and private, show alcoholism costing this nation some 36 million work days per year," Smithers said. "The 2 million alcoholics in industry are costing our economy at least a billion dollars per year.

"In addition there are millions of abnormally heavy drinkers who drag through millions of unproductive hangover days as "half men" — a term applied to them by the Yale Center of Alcohol Studies.

"From these latter millions come tomorrow's full-blown alcoholics."

The NCA centers last year received more than 50,000 inquiries related to problem drinking. Some were from alcoholics themselves; others came from members of their immediate families who sought help for their loved ones.

NCA was founded 17 years ago by Mrs. Marty Mann, a recovered alcoholic and a career woman in the advertising and public relations fields. For the first few years, it was part of the Yale Center of Alcohol Studies, becoming a national, voluntary agency in 1949.

"NCA is not a 'dry' or 'wet' organization," according to Mrs. Mann. "We are not interested in social drinking, but seek only to help those afflicted with the disease of alcoholism."

Unlucky Weapon

HERRIN, Ill. (AP) — Gene Whitecotton, 20, wounded in the left leg when a .22 caliber pistol discharged accidentally as he showed it to a friend, vowed:

"That's all; I'm getting rid of that gun."

Six months earlier he was wounded in the right leg with the same weapon, while practicing a fast draw.

Recreation Department Concert Set

The San Rafael Recreation Department will present the Byron Jones Chorale in a concert Snday at 3 p. m. in the San Rafael High School Auditorium. Admission is free.

Jones is vocal coordinator for San Rafael and Terra Linda High Schools and Davidson and Santa Venetia Junior High Schools.

Featured in addition to the 40-voice chorus he has trained will be soprano soloist Harriet Loftus, tenor soloist Kenneth James, baritone soloist Norman Stroyd and a woman's trio composed of Grace Crotts, Gail Olson and Janice Randolph.

Chorus numbers will be "Jesu Dulcis Memoria" by De Victoria; the Negro spiritual "Every Time I Feel The Spirit" with Norman Stroyd as soloist; "How Lovely Is They Dwelling" from the German "Requiem" by Brahms; the Appalachian folk song "Black Is The Color Of My True Love's Hair"; and a medley from Gershwin's "Porgy and Bess."

The woman's trio will sing "Lift Thine Eyes" from "Elijah" by Mendelssohn, with Harriet Loftus as soloist. She will also sing "L'heure Exquise."

Accompanied by Warren Thomson at the Piano, James will sing "Air" from "Comus" by Arne, "Velvet Shoes" by Randall Thompson, and "Vergelbliches Standchen" by Brahms. James and Gail Olson have assisted Jones with conducting the chorus.

Accompanist for all other numbers will be Margaret Oakley.

Marin Symphony Final Concert

The Marin Symphony Orchestra will present the third and final concert of its current series Friday at 8:30 p. m. at Marin Catholic High School under the baton of conductor Sandor Salgo.

Salgo has been selected as one of the three conductors for the San Francisco Opera Assn's. first spring opera season and will conduct the opera "Martha" on May 9 at the War Memorial Opera House.

The four vocal soloists in Friday night's performance of Zoltan Kodaly's "Te Deum" by the 80-voice Winifred Baker Chorale will be Nancy Cronburg, soprano; Inga Tarshis, alto; Leonard Wecks, tenor, and Mark Baer, bass.

Other works to be performed by the Marin Symphony Orchestra are Brahms' Symphony No. 1 and two nocturnes by Debussy, "Nuages" and "Fetes."

3 Marinites Perjury Trial Set For June

The perjury trial of Melvin A. Dunlap, Thomas J. Fenton and James R. Detels was set Monday for June 6, 7 and 8 in Department Two of Marin County Superior Court, by Judge Harold J. Haley, sitting for Judge Richard M. Sims Jr.

Dunlap, 27, of 185 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley; Fenton, 24, of 2015 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, and Detels, 27, of 619 Locust Street, Sausalito, were indicted by the grand jury on perjury charges.

The charges grew out of a traffic violation on Jan. 18 in Mill Valley. Officer William Walsh of Mill Valley and Officer David Cooper of Sausalito tesitfied in Marin Municipal Court they saw Dunlap drive across a Mill Valley street.

Fenton, Detels and Dunlap testified that Dunlap was not driving but got in the driver's seat to trick police. Dunlap was found guilty. Deputy District Atty. Charles L. Covis took the case to the grand jury.

Tiburon Demo Club Panel Set

An "Open End" discussion is slated by the Tiburon Peninsula Democratic Club on Friday at 8:30 p.m. in Tiburoner's Hall, Main Street, Tiburon.

Mrs. Chester Bowles Jr., chairman of the Issues Program, announces that panelists will include Charles O'Brien, chief assistant state attorney general; Lee Nichols, secretary to Gov. Edmund G. Brown; Daniel Luvano, deputy director, Department of Finance, and Lawrence Margolis, consultant to Assembly Committee on Ways and Means. Moderator will be San Francisco attorney Frederick Wyle.

Deputies Hunting Cattle Rustlers

Sheriff's deputies yesterday were looking for cattle rustlers suspected of stealing seven yearlings from the Gallagher Ranch in Nicasio during the last few weeks.

George Francis Gallagher, owner of the herd, estimated his losses at $1,050. He said each animal weighed about 450 to 550 pounds. Missing are five Hereford yearlings and two black whiteface yearlings.

Planner Named In Corte Madera

Cecil W. Thomas of 25 El Camino Drive last night was appointed to the Corte Madera Planning Commission.

Thomas, who has served on the board of adjustments for less than a year, will fill the unexpired term of Walter Ehlers, who resigned last week.

Appointed to the Board of Adjustments to replace Thomas was Curtis P. Kamai of 33 El Camino Drive.

Planning Commissioners John Adlard, Robert I. la Dow and Harold Wagstaff were all reappointed by Mayor Albert E. Kogler. Their terms expired yesterday.

Two New Officers Join Mill Valley Police Force

Two new patrolmen joined the Mill Valley Police Force yesterday, one to replace Dan Terzich who has moved up to Chief of Police and the other to replace Officer Carl E. Mead Jr. who resigned as of Monday.

The officers are Keith Cramer, 41, of 350 Sycamore Avenue, Mill Valley, and D. John Castellani, 22, of 1333 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

Cramer, a special police officer for 11 years in Mill Valley, has been employed for 15 years as a carpet and linoleum worker, his most recent job being with the A.A. Carpet Co. in San Francisco. He has resided in Mill Valley 13 years.

Castellani was recently discharged from the Navy, in which he served as a radarman.

2 Youths Going To Boys State

Two high school students, sponsored by San Rafael Wilkins Post No. 37, American Legion, will attend California Boys State in Sacramento on June 17 to 24.

The two students are Anthony M. Mekisich from San Rafael High School and Thomas J. O'Connell from Marin Catholic High School. O'Connell is contender for student body president at his school.

Gimi J. Sessi, commander, announced that Wilkins Post is one of the few posts in the state to send two boys to Boys State.

The two youths will join other delegates to Boys State at a dinner in their honor on May 28 in Vallejo.

Music Chest Drive

The Marin Music Chest summer concert series subscription drive has been extended to May 15. Subscriptions are obtainable at county headquarters at Hoy's, 1133 Fourth Street, San Rafael, Monday through Saturday from 10 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. and also through neighborhood chairmen and workers.

CASTS ON BOTH ARMS

Despite his arms in casts, Ronnie Hoelscher, 3, tries to draw at St. Paul, Minn. The boy's right arm was broken in a fall downstairs.

Marin Adventurers See Amazon Country

Three adventurous young Marin men who set off for South America nearly five months ago to "see something different" are doing just that.

The travelers, Douglas Simmonds, 20, and Larry Kiewert, 20, both of 130 Edison Avenue, Corte Madera, and Frank Cotton, 19, of 24 Evergreen Drive, Kentfield, now are apparently traveling down the Amazon from Peru on their way to the Atlantic Coast.

Their transportation is a 21-foot boat with side outriggers and a thatched roof.

Douglas' parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Simmonds, received a letter from their son and a copy of his diary last week indicating the boys were about to start their journey down the river.

Here are excerpts from the letter and diary which covers their trip from Lima to Iquitos, Peru:

March 15—Today we started on our trip to Brazil. We caught the train in Lima at 2:30 p.m. By 7 that night we were in Cerro de Pasco (Peru). The weather is almost freezing . . . The altitude here is very close to 16,000 feet. Tomorrow we will try to catch a truck to Pucalpa (Peru).

March 19—We found a truck first thing . . . The drivers say the roads are terrible . . .

March 20—We're riding on top of the truck. There is a tarp stretched over the cargo and us. It's really dirty and we're bouncing from one end of the truck to the other. It rained all day. We saw many beautiful sights though. The road is closed now—so we're stuck in this small village for a day or so.

March 22— . . I found 2,000 soles of my money was stolen. That's about $75, so that leaves me a cool $22 to get home on . . . I don't know what to do now. I could go back to Lima and catch a tuna boat home . . I guess I'll just wait and see what happens in Pucalpa . . .

We haven't paid the driver yet, so we decided to tell him the 2,000 soles that was stolen was all the money we had. It was all my money, so Larry and Frank are still all right.

March 23—Today we're sitting under a truck in the rain, down at the docks (in Pucalpa). I've decided to go on to Brazil. We decided to try the same story with the captain of a small boat to Iquitos. We told him we could probably get some money from friends in Iquitos. He said O.K., so we're on, it's a small cargo boat that runs between Pucalpa and Iquitos.

Marin Adventurers See Amazon Country

March 26—Well, we're off . . . The river is really beautiful. There are many small Indian villages along the edge. The people have rings through their noses and long hair. They are called Cumas. This morning I caught a glance at a crocodile. I don't think I'll be doing much swimming . . .

This is really an informal boat. The captain walks around in his pajamas all day. There was some monkey running around under the table this morning at breakfast. They also just slaughtered another pig on deck this morning . . .

This isn't the Amazon we're on. It's the Ucayali. It turns into the Amazon farther on.

March 29—Well, we're there (Iquitos) . . . After they checked our passports Larry and I talked to the captain. What a good man! He let us go for nothing. We didn't have to pay a cent for the six days we ate and slept on his boat.

Larry went to talk to a captain who has a boat running from Iquitos to Brazil . . . to the Peruvian border. Larry and Frank were going to leave on it today. I was going to talk with the U.S. consul for money to go on or return to Lima. We were just saying "adios" when this American walked by . . . He said he was having a dugout built. He was going to hire a guide and go down the Amazon to the Atlantic coast. It's about a 2,400-mile trip by water. We all thought that sounded like quite a feat. So we went down and asked the price of a used dugout.

For a pretty good one, about 15 feet, the guy wanted about 500 soles (about $22). I think maybe tomorrow we'll buy it and join his little expedition down the Amazon . . . It's a pretty big decision to make because it will take at least 2½ months.

March 30—We know for sure we're going down the Amazon but what size craft is still undecided. We have a thought in mind about going up the Atlantic coast, in our craft, to Miami, Fla.

April 1—We bought a boat today. It's about 21-22 feet long. We paid 1,000 soles for it. That's about $35. A little work on it, plus a thatched roof, will run about $8.

We're going to try to get out of here by Wednesday. We have to buy plenty of food and some equipment Monday . . .

From Doug's letter: "We've got this wild idea in our heads now, about going down the Amazon. It sounds real daring, doesn't it? Actually the Amazon is overrated in the U.S. When the word 'Amazon' is mentioned, you right away think of head hunters and fish eating your leg off when you stick your toe in the water. Actually the majority of that has moved inland from the river. The Amazon is a main source of travel. It's actually a highway for these people.

"We want to take our boat down river because it'll give us a real chance to see it slowly and cheaper. The way I see it, I may never get another chance to do something like this ever again. If I could borrow some money from you, I'd sure appreciate it . . . I would like to have about $75-$100.

"What a place for you to retire, Dad! Say you got $200 a month. You could come down here and buy one of these floating houses for about $50. They are pretty sharp too. Buy a small dugout for $10 to get back and forth to shore."

BIG PLATE FOR REACTOR

A core grid plate is machined at West Allis, Wis., plant. It's for nuclear reactor to be installed at the Pathfinder Atomic Plant near Sioux Falls, S.D.

Wear And Tear

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Administrator James I. Boyce of Lake County Memorial Hospital had this explanation for a two-week delay in opening new hospital facilities after an open house: "We have so many people going through the hospital in the open house, it takes two weeks to clean it up before we can use it. The crowd will put six months wear on the building in two days."

More Important Duty

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — As firemen dashed into her house, Mrs. Wilbur Holleman dashed out. She said she didn't know exactly where the fire was but that she would be back shortly.

Later, she explained she was hurrying to the airport to greet Dr. Eugenio Plaza, deputy permanent Italian representative to the U. N.

When she and Plaza returned to the house, Mrs. Holleman surveyed the damage and Dr. Plaza gave autographs to firemen.

Famed Cemetery

CLYDE, Ohio (AP) — A cemetery in Clyde contains the graves of the highest ranked Union officer casualty of the Civil War, Gen. James B. McPherson; the first casualty of the Spanish-American War, George B. Meek, and the famous American infantry hero of World War II, Rodger Young.

Boa-Car Crash

FAST TEMPLETON, Mass. (AP) — Very few boats are involved in crashes with automobiles, but George Arsenault's boat was.

His brand new boat never had a chance to hit the water before it was wrecked on the highway by a car being navigated by an unlicensed boy of 15 driving his grandfather's car without authority.

Arsenault said he was driving home from his boat dealer, towing the boat on a trailer, when the crash occurred.

Mother's Doing

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—George Bertsche, 32, accused of accepting bets on horse races, told police it was all his mother's doing.

Police quoted him as saying that logging bets was one of several odd jobs his mother hired him to do in a tavern where she worked.

Warning

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Burglars looting coin boxes in a laundromat made so much noise they awakened a man living upstairs.

Thinking the burglars were late customers, the man called them on the laundromat pay phone and said:

"If you people don't stop making so much noise, I'm going to call the police."

Music Chest Concert Plans Are Completed

The Marin Music Chest's summer concert season program has been completed with engagements of baritone McHenry Boatwright and of Lola Montes and her Spanish Dancers, it was announced today by Mrs. Samuel D. Archibald, president.

Boatwright will give his first Marin recital in Forest Meadows of Diminican College on Aug. 20. Miss Montes and her company, which includes a guitarist and pianist, will appear in the outdoor setting Sept. 10. The program offered by the Montes troupe this year will be entirely different from that seen when they appeared on the Music Chest series three years ago, Mrs. Archibald said.

The concert season will open June 25 at 3 p.m. with a recital by contralto Jennie Tourel, who will be making her second appearance under Marin Music Chest auspices.

On July 23, the Music Chest will present renowned pianist Jose Iturbi.

Subscriptions to the Music Chest are still available at its headquarters at Hoy's, 1133 Fourth Street, San Rafael, and through membership campaign workers throughout the county.

MODEL FOR A BIG DOOR

Sculptor Enzo Assenza works on a model of a door in his Rome studio. It is to be one of the main entrance bronze doors for St. Joseph's Cathedral at Hartford, Conn.

Health Agency Tells Evils Of Alcoholism

NEW YORK (UPI)—The National Council on Alcoholism has launched a drive to tell more people about the evils of drinking.

A non-profit health agency specializing in research, education and information regarding the disease of alcoholism, the NCA hopes eventually to have an affiliate with an alcoholism information center in every community of 25,000 population and over. It now has 64 full affiliates in major communities throughout the country.

Sparking the drive is R. Brinkley Smithers, NCA president, who estimates the United States has more than 6 million alcoholics, the greatest number of any nation in the western world.

"The most recent estimates, both governmental and private, show alcoholism costing this nation some 36 million work days per year," Smithers said. "The 2 million alcoholics in industry are costing our economy at least a billion dollars per year.

"In addition there are millions of abnormally heavy drinkers who drag through millions of unproductive hangover days as "half men" — a term applied to them by the Yale Center of Alcohol Studies. "From these latter millions come tomorrow's full-blown alcoholics."

The NCA centers last year received more than 50,000 inquiries related to problem drinking. Some were from alcoholics themselves; others came from members of their immediate families who sought help for their loved ones.

NCA was founded 17 years ago by Mrs. Marty Mann, a recovered alcoholic and a career woman in the advertising and public relations fields. For the first few years, it was part of the Yale Center of Alcohol Studies, becoming a national, voluntary agency in 1949.

"NCA is not a 'dry' or 'wet' organization," according to Mrs. Mann. "We are not interested in social drinking, but seek only to help those afflicted with the disease of alcoholism."

Unlucky Weapon

HERRIN, Ill. (AP) — Gene Whitecotton, 20, wounded in the left leg when a .22 caliber pistol discharged accidentally as he showed it to a friend, vowed:

"That's all; I'm getting rid of that gun."

Six months earlier he was wounded in the right leg with the same weapon, while practicing a fast draw.

Tactical Burglars

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)—Burglars broke into the same tavern nine times and rifled coin-operated machines each time.

The owners installed a burglar alarm system protecting the doors, windows and roof of the building.

The burglars returned for a 10th time, digging a tunnel and entering through a trap door in the floor.

Increase In Russian

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — The number of students studying the Russian language rose at the University of Oklahoma from 69 in 1958 to 233 in the 1960-61 academic year.

CASTS ON BOTH ARMS

Despite his arms in casts, Ronnie Hoelscher, 3, tries to draw at St. Paul, Minn. The boy's right arm was broken first in fall from bed; his other arm was broken in a fall downstairs.

Marin Adventurers See Amazon Country

Three adventurous young Marin men who set off for South America nearly five months ago to "see something different" are doing just that.

The travelers, Douglas Simmonds, 20, and Larry Kiewert, 20, both of 130 Edison Avenue, Corte Madera, and Frank Cotton, 19, of 24 Evergreen Drive, Kentfield, now are apparently traveling down the Amazon from Peru on their way to the Atlantic Coast.

Their transportation is a 21-foot boat with side outriggers and a thatched roof.

Douglas' parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Simmonds, received a letter from their son and a copy of his diary last week indicating the boys were about to start their journey down the river.

Here are excerpts from the letter and diary which covers their trip from Lima to Iquitos, Peru:

March 15—Today we started on our trip to Brazil. We caught the train in Lima at 2:30 p.m. By 7 that night we were in Cerro de Pasco (Peru). The weather is almost freezing . . . The altitude here is very close to 16,000 feet. Tomorrow we will try to catch a truck to Pucalpa (Peru).

March 19—We found a truck first thing . . . The drivers say the roads are terrible . . .

March 20—We're riding on top of the truck. There is a tarp stretched over the cargo and us. It's really dirty and we're bouncing from one end of the truck to the other. It rained all day. We saw many beautiful sights though. The road is closed now—so we're stuck in this small village for a day or so.

March 22—. . . I found 2,000 soles of my money was stolen. That's about $75, so that leaves me a cool $22 to get home on . . . I don't know what to do now. I could go back to Lima and catch a tuna boat home . . I guess I'll just wait and see what happens in Pucalpa . . .

We haven't paid the driver yet, so we decided to tell him the 2,000 soles that was stolen was all the money we had. It was all my money, so Larry and Frank are still all right.

March 23—Today we're sitting under a truck in the rain, down at the docks (in Pucalpa). I've decided to go on to Brazil. We decided to try the same story with the captain of a small boat to Iquitos. We told him we could probably get some money from friends in Iquitos. He said O.K., so we're on. it's a small cargo boat that runs between Pucalpa and Iquitos.

Marin Adventurers See Amazon Country

March 26—Well, we're off . . . The river is really beautiful. There are many small Indian villages along the edge. The people have rings through their noses and long hair. They are called Cumas. This morning I caught a glance at a crocodile. I don't think I'll be doing much swimming . . .

This is really an informal boat. The captain walks around in his pajamas all day. There was some monkey running around under the table this morning at breakfast. They also just slaughtered another pig on deck this morning . . .

This isn't the Amazon we're on. It's the Ucayali. It turns into the Amazon farther on.

March 29—Well, we're there (Iquitos) . . . After they checked our passports Larry and I talked to the captain. What a good man! He let us go for nothing. We didn't have to pay a cent for the six days we ate and slept on his boat.

Larry went to talk to a captain who has a boat running from Iquitos to Brazil . . . to the Peruvian border. Larry and Frank were going to leave on it today. I was going to talk with the U.S. consul for money to go on or return to Lima. We were just saying "adios" when this American walked by . . . He said he was having a dugout built. He was going to hire a guide and go down the Amazon to the Atlantic coast. It's about a 2,400-mile trip by water. We all thought that sounded like quite a feat. So we went down and asked the price of a used dugout.

For a pretty good one, about 15 feet, the guy wanted about 500 soles (about $22). I think maybe tomorrow we'll buy it and join his little expedition down the Amazon . . . It's a pretty big decision to make because it will take at least 2½ months.

March 30—We know for sure we're going down the Amazon but what size craft is still undecided. We have a thought in mind about going up the Atlantic coast, in our craft, to Miami, Fla.

April 1—We bought a boat today. It's about 21-22 feet long. We paid 1,000 soles for it. That's about $35. A little work on it, plus a thatched roof, will run about $8.

We're going to try to get out of here by Wednesday. We have to buy plenty of food and some equipment Monday.

From Doug's letter: "We've got this wild idea in our heads now, about going down the Amazon. It sounds real daring, doesn't it? Actually the Amazon is overrated in the U.S. When the word 'Amazon' is mentioned, you right away think of head hunters and fish eating your leg off when you stick your toe in the water. Actually the majority of that has moved inland from the river. The Amazon is a main source of travel. It's actually a highway for these people.

"We want to take our boat down river because it'll give us a real chance to see it slowly and cheaper. The way I see it, I may never get another chance to do something like this ever again. If I could borrow some money from you, I'd sure appreciate it . . . I would like to have about $75-$100.

"What a place for you to retire, Dad! Say you got $200 a month. You could come down here and buy one of these floating houses for about $50. They are pretty sharp too. Buy a small dugout for $10 to get back and forth to shore."

Music Chest Concert Plans Are Completed

The Marin Music Chest's summer concert season program has been completed with engagements of baritone McHenry Boatwright and of Lola Montes and her Spanish Dancers, it was announced today by Mrs. Samuel D. Archibald, president.

Boatwright will give his first Marin recital in Forest Meadows of Diminican College on Aug. 20. Miss Montes and her company, which includes a guitarist and pianist, will appear in the outdoor setting Sept. 10. The program offered by the Montes troupe this year will be entirely different from that seen when they appeared on the Music Chest series three years ago, Mrs. Archibald said.

The concert season will open June 25 at 3 p.m. with a recital by contralto Jennie Tourel, who will be making her second appearance under Marin Music Chest auspices.

On July 23, the Music Chest will present renowned pianist Jose Iturbi.

Subscriptions to the Music Chest are still available at its headquarters at Hoy's, 1133 Fourth Street, San Rafael, and through membership campaign workers throughout the county.

Wear And Tear

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Administrator James I. Boyce of Lake County Memorial Hospital had this explanation for a two-week delay in opening new hospital facilities after an open house: "We have so many people going through the hospital in the open house, it takes two weeks to clean it up before we can use it. The crowd will put six months wear on the building in two days."

More Important Duty

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — As firemen dashed into her house, Mrs. Wilbur Holleman dashed out. She said she didn't know exactly where the fire was but that she would be back shortly.

Later, she explained she was hurrying to the airport to greet Dr. Eugenio Plaza, deputy permanent Italian representative to the U. N.

When she and Plaza returned to the house, Mrs. Holleman surveyed the damage and Dr. Plaza gave autographs to firemen.

Famed Cemetery

CLYDE, Ohio (AP) — A cemetery in Clyde contains the graves of the highest ranked Union officer casualty of the Civil War, Gen. James B. McPherson; the first casualty of the Spanish-American War, George B. Meek, and the famous American infantry hero of World War II, Rodger Young.

Boa-Car Crash

FAST TEMPLETON, Mass. (AP) — Very few boats are involved in crashes with automobiles, but George Arsenault's boat was.

His brand new boat never had a chance to hit the water before it was wrecked on the highway by a car being navigated by an unlicensed boy of 15 driving his grandfather's car without authority.

Arsenault said he was driving home from his boat dealer, towing the boat on a trailer, when the crash occurred.

Mother's Doing

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—George Bertsche, 32, accused of accepting bets on horse races, told police it was all his mother's doing.

Police quoted him as saying that logging bets was one of several odd jobs his mother hired him to do in a tavern where she worked.

Warning

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Burglars looting coin boxes in a laundromat made so much noise they awakened a man living upstairs.

Thinking the burglars were late customers, the man called them on the laundromat pay phone and said:

"If you people don't stop making so much noise, I'm going to call the police."

THE KEY TO GOOD EATING

Quality is the key to complete food enjoyment. Not only in the eating but also in the preparation. Quality foods take less time—have less waste.

The trim of our meat . . . the preparation of our produce eliminates costly waste. Nationally known packaged foods have already earned the quality label. You can shop at Drake and be sure you're getting quality and savings.
